MYSTERY CABINS — These cabins on public land at Steep Ravine north of Muir beach, long occupied by friends of men in high places in the state government, are the subject of a mysterious document scheduled to be put before the State Parks and Recreation Commission, meeting today in San Francisco. Officials in the administration have told the Independent-Journal the document is not a public record and have told a representative of the governor's office it doesn't exist.

Cabin Lease Hanky-Panky Bared

Copies of a secret document tailored to preserve exclusive leases on 14 cabins in Mount Tamalpais State Park were sent to the present leaseholders last month, the Independent-Journal learned today.

State Parks and Recreation Department officials refused Wednesday to release the document to the I-J, then later the same day told the governor's office that no such document ever existed.

A concerned department official, however, today showed a copy of the document to the I-J. The department's deceptive handling of the leases, he said, was "only the tip of the iceberg" of widespread similar abuses by the department's concession office, which drafted the prospectus for "competitive" bids on future leases on the cabins.

The prospectus put the minimum monthly rent for each cabin at $3 less than the nearly $42 now paid to the state by the influential lease holders. The director of the department, William Penn Mott Jr., told the I-J early last month that the rent would be increased under the new leases.

The state Park and Recreation Commission was scheduled to consider the bidding prospectus this afternoon in San Francisco.

Department officials have estimated the value of the 40-year-old cabins north of Muir Beach at $50,000 each if they were on private land.

A 1972 state law ordered the exclusive leases terminated as of a week ago, but the department has ruled they will be extended month-to-month until it completes competitive bidding on their future use.

(Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, today urged Mott to skip the bidding and instead tear down the cabins and return the site to its natural state.)

The bidding prospectus, almost 50 pages long, calls for a 10-year lease with an option to renew for five years. Mott told the I-J last month the cabins would be useful for only another five to 10 years.

The document also provides that the department must interview bidders to determine the "best responsible bidder." Mott has conceded the arrangement could permit the present leaseholders to form a corporation to bid on the cabins.

Mansfield Is Doubtful On Impeachment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today that "as of now" he doubts President Nixon will be impeached by the House of Representatives.

"I'm not expecting an impeachment now," Mansfield told reporters. "I don't think the votes are there."

Mansfield urged Nixon to meet with the chairman and senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, Reps. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N. J., and Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., to quickly settle the committee's request for six more presidential tape recordings that the White House has refused to give the group for its impeachment inquiry.

Republicans on the committee acknowledged that the day may come when they must choose between supporting the President and supporting the committee.

So Nixon appeared to have gained some time—but no friends—in rejecting the committee's request and laying down terms which implied he would limit his cooperation with the investigation into his culpability.

Democrat Walter Flowers, Ala., said pressure for Nixon to cooperate was coming "from the Republican side of the aisle."

Two middle-of-the-road Republicans from Illinois on the committee, Reps. Tom Railsback and Robert L. McClory, praised Rodino for his handling of the issue.

Rodino talked Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., who is ready to vote now to impeach Nixon, out of forcing an immediate vote on the subpoena issue yesterday.

Drinan offered his motion after John M. Doar, special impeachment lawyer for the panel, reported Nixon had offered to give the committee only materials which he has already furnished special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski. The committee wants other evidence, too—including six unidentified tapes which Nixon refused to surrender.

Doar wanted to avoid a committee vote on the drastic step of subpoenaing Nixon.

He said he wanted time to explore Nixon's cooperation with James D. St. Clair, the President's lawyer. He said it would take a week or two. The committee is to meet again Tuesday.

Some members were rankled by Nixon's language at his news conference. Nixon said he would not "cart everything" down to the committee to "have them paw through it."

Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., said the remark showed "arrogance."

St. Clair, in a letter, wrote that the committee seemed to be asking for access "to hundreds of thousands of documents and thousands of hours of recorded conversations."

Because of that, Rodino said St. Clair must have "misunderstood" the committee's request and asked for time for Doar to clarify it for St. Clair.

St. Clair said granting such a request would "destroy the presidency" as an independent branch of government.

Nixon suggested Doar and St. Clair "negotiate" but some members called compromise "unthinkable."

Although the committee has subpoena power, it is not anxious to enter that legal thicket.

Members said they anticipated that Nixon would defy any subpoena on grounds he could not be subpoenaed by a branch of Congress.

Reform Of Campaign Law Asked By Nixon

Limit On Contributions Proposed By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked Congress today to enact broad election reforms, including limiting single cash contributions to $50 and an individual's overall donation to a presidential candidate's campaign to $15,000.

The President's proposals called for no limit on the amount a candidate could spend and he stressed anew his objection to financing the campaigns with tax money. He said he did not think Americans wanted to divert "hundreds of millions from pressing national needs."

There is sharp disagreement between the House and Senate and among members of each body on campaign reform, although there is general agreement that reforms are needed following widespread excesses disclosed in the 1972 campaign.

Two top Republican leaders who conferred with the President prior to submission of his message disagreed with his opposition to public financing and

March Gasoline Allocation Is Up

Marin motorists, preparing to go to an odd-even system of gasoline sales Monday in an effort to cut long lines of cars waiting for gasoline, could take some encouragement today from news from Sacramento.

Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke said yesterday that 752 million gallons of gasoline will be available in California this month, "a substantial increase over the 675 million gallons" alloted in February.

The increase includes a 21-million-gallon "special one-time allotment" allowed by the Federal Energy Office.

Reinecke added, however, that "although the gasoline available in March is adequate for sensible commuter driving and essential services, it still represents 134 million gallons less than available supplies in March of last year.

"It is obvious we must continue to conserve our gasoline in every possible way . . . the gasoline you save may save someone's job, possibly your own," he quipped.

Reinecke, chairman of the state Energy Planning Council, also said early reports from counties participating in the alternate day marketing plan indicate generally shorter lines and less congestion at service stations.

On Monday, Marin will go to a voluntary plan which will not include penalties for violators.

Motorists with odd-numbered license plates will start the new plan off by taking their turn at the gasoline pumps Monday, which will be an odd day. Tuesday, like the other even numbered weekdays, will be for those with even-numbered plates.

(Personalized plates with no numbers will be considered odd numbered.)

Saturdays will be for everyone, and Sundays the stations plan to close. Although the plan is voluntary, it is expected that the vast majority of the county's stations will cooperate.

Frustrations due to the lack of gasoline and long waiting lines continued to mount this week, however.

In Larkspur yesterday, the driver of a 10-year-old pickup truck became so enraged when

Nadean Chapman To Seek Clerk's Office

Nadean E. Chapman of San Rafael, a clerk for a superior court judge, announced today she will seek election as Marin County Clerk on June 4.

Mrs. Chapman, who has worked off and on with the county since about 1957, said she is "interested in maintaining the good operation of the judicial system." The last eight years she has worked fulltime.

The candidate said she has worked in all sections of the county clerk's office and currently serves as court clerk for Judge Charles Read Best.

She is the fifth candidate to announce for the position. Others are superior court administrator Howard Hanson, elections officer Peter C. Meyer, assistant county clerk, John Musser Jr. and Frank Bigley, Corte Madera finance officer.

Filing for the $26,904-per-year job closed at 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Chapman, who lives at 275 Canal Street, has two grown children. She was widowed about 10 years ago.

She is a native of Nebraska, where she attended the Van Sant School of Business following high school graduation. She moved to California in 1943 and to Marin in 1956.

Prior to working for the county, Mrs. Chapman worked in accounting and other capacities with private industry, including a large oil company and an insurance firm.

Tally Mastrangelo Of Sausalito To Seek Equalization Board Bid

Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito, long active in the Republican Party, announced today he will seek the Republican nomination for District Two of the state Board of Equalization, a post now held by William M. Bennett of Kentfield, a Democrat.

Mastrangelo, 50, of 105 Third Street, faces competition from Edward Sullivan, a Marin real estate broker and resident of San Anselmo.

Mastrangelo cited his expertise in finance and taxation as a self-employed financial and management consultant.

He is calling for a realignment of the board's districts, saying they are too large and unwieldy.

"I have programs to revise the structure of the state board," he said. "For the size of the state and the number of people, it is essnetial that the districts be realigned."

District Two presently covers 28 counties, including Marin and Sonoma, from Santa Clara County to the Oregon border.

Mastrangelo says the board is now dominated by Democrats and needs Republican representation. "This board, as well as the Franchise Tax Board, needs a general business overhaul to become more responsive and active," he said.

The candidate, a graduate of the University of Santa Clara and the Stanford Law School, was elected vice chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee in 1973. He also is a member of the state Republican Central Committee and serves on its finance committee. He was active in 1968 on the Rockefeller for President Committee in Marin and ran unsuccessfully for the Marin Municipal Water District board in that year.

He and his wife, Charlotte, have a grown son.

First Family Flies To Florida

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Nixon flew to Florida Friday. The President will see the first lady off Monday for a trip to Latin America.

Nixon left Washington in early afternoon after a busy morning during which he met with Republican congressional leaders, members of his Cabinet and energy chief William E. Simon, then watched Dean Burch sworn in as his new counselor.

Mrs. Nixon flies first to Venezuela and then to Brazil to be her husband's official representative at presidential inaugural ceremonies.

Parkerson Submits His Resignation

Fairfax Mayor E. Ross Parkerson, who two weeks ago said he would step down from the council following municipal elections held Tuesday, today officially resigned in a letter sent to town hall.

Eileen Foster, city clerk, said Parkerson's resignation may be considered after new council members are seated at a meeting Tuesday night. Councilmen may appoint a replacement or call a special election.

Job Picture Unchanged In February

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment remained unchanged in February at 5.2 per cent despite continued layoffs, particularly in the auto industry, the government said today.

This was the first time in four months that the jobless rate had not increased since bottoming out at 4.6 per cent last October before the Arab oil embargo was imposed and heightened the fuel shortage to a crisis level that led to extensive layoffs of workers.

The report said the total number of employed Americans held steady in February at 85.8 million, while the number of unemployed workers went up a negligible 21,000 to 4.75 million.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) said energy related layoffs in manufacturing plants were offset by employment gains in other sectors.

Among those recording increases were the wholesale and retail trade, state and local governments, service industries, insurance and real estate.

Because of fuel shortages and other reasons, some economists and labor leaders have predicted that unemployment will rise to 8 per cent or more this year. The administration has challenged such forecasts as much too pessimistic, although it expects joblessness to rise close to 6 per cent.

Federal Energy Chief William E. Simon in recent days has criticized "preachers of

Frank Bigley Will Seek County Clerk's Position

Frank Bigley of Corte Madera, who previously had announced he would seek election as county treasurer-tax collector, yesterday said he will run for the county clerk's position instead.

Bigley, currently the finance director and treasurer for the Town of Corte Madera, said his decision to change races followed extensive discussions with campaign supporters.

"The county clerk is one of the most important and sensitive positions in county government," Bigley said, adding the "field of candidates is weak."

He said that stiuation, plus his training and experience in management and administration, prompted him to take out nomination papers for the job.

Others running for the clerk's post are elections officer Peter C. Meyer, assistant county clerk John Musser Jr. and superior court administrator Howard Hanson.

"It is imperative that a well-qualified person, with proven management, administrative and technical ability and the knowledge that this office demands, fill the position of county clerk," he said.

He praised county clerk George Gnoss as one of the "ablest administrators in Marin," and said he would work to follow Gnoss' example. Gnoss plans to retire at the end of his term.

The 60-year-old candidate is a retired Army colonel who specialized in finance and auditing while in the service. He attended the University of Maryland and Troy State College.

He was hired by Corte Madera in 1968 following 32 years in the service and has built a reputation as a shrewd investor of town funds.

Bigley is married and has two children. He lives at 18 Council Drive.

Two Music Events Top Attractions

Tomorrow's concert of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and a concert Sunday by 400 Marin County elementary school children will highlight the events of the weekend in Marin and Southern Sonoma Counties. Many special film, stage and other musical offerings are scheduled.

The San Francisco orchestra will play at 8 p.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building at the Civic Center in San Rafael.

Lawrence Foster, musical director of the Houston Symphony Orchestra, will conduct. Stuart Canin, concertmaster of

IT WILL COME UP A DRUMMER

Jack L. Ahr of Arlington Heights, Ill., displays his winning design for the "tails" side of the new quarter. His drummer boy design was selected this week by the U.S. Mint to commemorate the U.S. Bicentennial and is scheduled to be minted on July 4, 1975. The quarter will have George Washington's portrait on the other side. The artist received $5,000 for his winning design. (UPI Telephoto)

Ex-Ambassador Douglas Dies In Arizona At 79

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Lewis W. Douglas, U.S. ambassador to Great Britain during the postwar years of the Marshall Plan and the birth of NATO, died Thursday at age 79.

Douglas had been an Arizona state legislator, congressman, director of the budget under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a member of the board of directors of General Motors and the first American to serve as vice chancellor of McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

He died at his home here where he was convalescing after abdominal surgery at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City last month.

Douglas was named ambassador to Great Britain by President Harry Truman in 1947 and served until 1951. He left the job after a fishing accident cost him an eye, and doctors warned that the strain of his ambassadorial duties might affect the sight of his other eye.

He was elected to the Arizona state legislature in the 1920s and subsequently to the House of Representatives. He had just begun his fourth term in Congress when President Roosevelt appointed him director of the budget. He quit after 18 months because he disagreed with Roosevelt's fiscal policies.

He went to McGill as principal and vice chancellor in 1937.

Queen Elizabeth made him an honorary knight grand cross of the Order of the British Empire in 1957, and he held the French Legion of Honor and the Belgian Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown.

He is survived by his widow, Peggy, daughter, Sharman, and sons, James and Lewis Jr.

Little Hope For Postal Black Ink

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Post Office Committee says there is little hope the new Postal Service can remain solvent without increased federal aid.

A report by the committee yesterday implied that the only alternative would be increases in postal rates that the public would not accept.

"If the postal system is going to maintain service at levels which are compatible with what the public can be expected to pay, it will probably be necessary to provide a greater degree of support through Treasury financing than was originally envisioned..." the report said.

The committee criticized the Postal Service for "serious management errors." It said "the early retirement plan, the hiring freeze causing mandatory overtime, and the sometimes arbitrary cuts in the budgets of individual post offices eroded morale, reduced the service's mail-moving capacity, created management problems and worsened service.

"Although service has improved in recent months, service goals and standards have been reduced," the report said.

But the committee found, on the basis of the record in 1973, "drastic action, such as reversion to the former organizational structure of the Post Office Department, is not warranted."

The committee forecast that the postal budget would increase at the rate of at least 10 per cent a year in the "foreseeable future" and called savings through mechanization "far more hypothetical than cost projections."

While calling the new 10-cent postage for first-class mail "not unreasonable," the committee said it is impossible to tell what that stamp will cost in in 1984, when all federal subsidies are scheduled to end.

The report suggested the possibility of increasing federal aid from the current level of 10 per cent of the 1971 budget to 10 per cent of the current budget, an increase of $400 million in fiscal year 1975.

"In addition, because of the increase in costs and the lag in modernization, an increase in the percentage of contribution from 10 per cent to 15 per cent over a several year period might be reasonable," the committee added.

The report said "as mechanization and modernization become more and more effective, the amount of that contribution can be expected to diminish."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Thieu Orders Generals Retired

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu shook up his military command today, sending 11 senior army generals into retirement.

Thieu

Thieu ordered seven lieutenant generals, two major generals, and two brigadier generals forcibly retired in three phases beginning April 1.

Political sources said the shakeup was part of Thieu's attempt to strengthen his administration, beginning with a cabinet shuffle Feb. 18, in the face of mounting economic difficulties and continuing warfare.

The sources said Thieu also plans to ask the United States, Europe, and Japan for more economic aid, as well as send Trade and Industry minister Nguyen Duc Cuong to visit the Middle East to buy oil.

Miner Demands

LONDON (UPI) — Militant mine workers, with a record $230 million pay boost a bare 36 hours in their pockets, today drafted demands for new pay hikes of up to 44 per cent.

They demanded up to $46 a week more for miners who had only just won an additional $36.80 in an agreement with the state-run National Coal Board Wednesday night, ending a crippling 3½-week strike.

The extra increases, union officials said, would mean a basic minimum weekly wage of $149.50 for coal face workers, $115 for other underground workers and $103.50 for surface workers.

After barely three days in office the new government yesterday ordered the lifting of industry's three-day work week and put it back on a full five-day week from midnight tonight.

Rebel Attacks

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — A large rebel and North Vietnamese force stepped up attacks against a southern provincial capital of 45,000 persons today, forcing the government to send reinforcements and refugees to flee as far away as South Vietnam.

UPI reporter Tea Kim Heang said loyalist troops in Kampot can barely hold their own against rebel pressure and are fighting defensively.

Insurgents have been reinforced by two battalions of North Vietnamese, Heang said.

The city, 93 miles from Phnom Penh, is under bombardment by 75mm recoiless rifle fire and its drinking water supply only four miles out of town has been cut.

Heang said those who can do so are fleeing Kampot for the port of Kompong Som or going to South Vietnam, about a two-day trip by small boat.

Biggest Bomb

BELFAST (UPI) — Militants blew up the front of the British army's Belfast headquarters last night, hurling tons of rubble onto the street and shattering hundreds of nearby store windows.

Authorities said the evening rush hour blast, caused by possibly the biggest bomb ever used by Northern Ireland extremists, shattered the front of the Royal Central Hotel, used as army headquarters.

An army spokesman said there were no reports of casualties in the explosion, which also set fire to a nearby clothing shop.

An anonymous telephone caller told the newspaper Irish News the bomb was a 1,000 pounder, which would have made it the largest to go off since Ulster strife erupted in August, 1969.

Kidnap Charges

ATLANTA (UPI) — A couple was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges of extorting a $700,000 ransom for the release of kidnaped Atlanta Constitution Editor Reg Murphy.

William A.H. Williams, 33, and his wife, Betty, 26, were to be arraigned today. Williams, who was named on seven counts in two indictments, faces a maximum sentence of 64 years in prison and a $45,000 fine if convicted. Mrs. Williams was named on two counts and could receive a maximum sentence of 23 years and a $10,500 fine.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Owen Forrester said federal kidnaping charges were not pressed against the couple because there was not sufficient evidence Murphy was taken across state lines.

Shops Reopen

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Seventy-five per cent of the shops in Addis Ababa were open today, the second day of a general strike, and traffic was heavier than yesterday.

There was no sign students planned further demonstrations.

All shops closed down in the capital yesterday and city transport halted. Banks closed early and domestic flights were canceled. Skeleton staffs kept some international air traffic running.

Textile, oil, agricultural, transport and service workers were among those who have stayed off the job.

If the strike continues for a considerable period, it could topple Emperor Haile Selassie's new prime minister from office.

Bet On Rolling Beer Barrel Won

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin restaurant owner Henz Guenther Petrosch won a $185 bet that he could roll an aluminum barrel containing 105 quarts of beer 9.3 miles in 12 hours.

He did it in five hours.

Fighting Erupts On Golan Heights

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Syrian and Israeli troops clashed with tanks and artillery on the Golan Heights front today and the Israeli air force took to the skies, Syrian and Israeli military spokesman reported. It was the first clash since Israel went on a high state of alert two days ago.

A Syrian military communique said the clash started at 10:15 a.m. (4:15 a.m. EDT) and continued for seven hours. Then at 12:20 p.m. (6:20 a.m. EDT) Israel artillery opened up on Syrian positions and a concentrated exchange of artillery fire continued for 25 minutes, Syria reported.

The Syrians said the Syrian fire silenced three Israeli artillery batteries, destroyed two other artillery batteries, hit a concentration of Israeli vehicles and destroyed an engineering unit.

Israel said Syrian gunners today fired several antitank rockets and artillery shells at Israeli forces on the tense Golan Heights frontline. Israel's warplanes scrambled into the skies over Israel and the frontline areas, military correspondents reported over the national radio.

Neither the Israeli nor the Syrian army has demobilized from the October war and both were in a high state of readiness. Israeli troops and border settlements were alerted Wednesday of the possibility of a Syrian attack to try to regain territory lost in October.

The Syrians opened initially with antitank fire and 45 minutes later pounded three other sectors of the Israeli frontline with artillery shells within the space of an hour, an Israeli military spokesman said.

The military command said the antitank fire caused no casualties. The spokesman said the Israelis returned the artillery fire.

The newspaper Yedioth Ahronoth, quoting western sources, said the United States has been in urgent contact for the past two days with the Soviet Union, Egypt and Syria in efforts to head off a clash on the Syrian front, saying the situation must be taken seriously.

GM Will Cut Shifts At More Plants

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp., reacting to its continued slump in big car sales, will eliminate the second shifts at three assembly plants while continuing massive one-week shutdowns at other plants to cut back its inventory of unsold large cars.

With sales off more than 34 per cent in the first two months of 1974, GM has expanded layoffs previously announced for March. The world's largest auto-maker has already trimmed more than 60,000 workers from its payroll indefinitely because of the energy crisis-induced slump.

Fifteen of GM's 22 U.S. assembly plants and four Fisher Body manufacturing plants will be closed next week, idling 56,300.

GM was not alone in the cutbacks with Chrysler saying yesterday that its Jefferson Avenue assembly plant in Detroit will be shut for two weeks this month and its Belvidere, Ill., plant will be shut for one week. Both build standard-size and luxury models.

Ford Motor Co. layoffs for the final three weeks of March were to be announced later today, a Ford spokesman said.

The second-shift operations to be eliminated include the Eldorado assembly line at the Cadillac division plant in Detroit, 340 workers and the GM assembly division plant in Fremont, Calif., indefinitely idling 1,400.

Unruh Takes Out Papers For The Treasurer's Race

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Former Assembly Speaker Jess Unruh yesterday took out nomination papers to run for state treasurer while three other candidates joined the race for the post.

Unruh, once rated the state's most powerful Democrat, must return the papers today to meet the deadline for becoming a candidate in the June 4 primary election. The papers were issued in Los Angeles to Unruh's representative, Kenneth Berk.

Announcing their candidacies for treasurer were John T. Kehoe, who resigned as state consumer affairs director to seek the Republican nomination; Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, and Charles C. Haskins, a Democrat who has been a state treasury investment officer for the pas seven years.

Unruh, 51, who spent seven of his 16 years in the Legislature as Assembly speaker, has been out of statewide politics since running unsuccessfully for governor in 1970. Last year, he failed in a bid for mayor of Los Angeles.

Kehoe said he decided to seek public office for the first time after former Assembly GOP Leader Robert Monagan decided not to run for the treasurer post now held by Ivy Baker Priest, who has decided not to seek reelection. Kehoe was named consumer affairs director in 1972 by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Short yesterday formally filed his papers for the Democratic nomination. His current Senate term expires in November and through recent redistricting his seat has been eliminated.

Haskins said he has worked in virtually every phase of the state treasury's operation and is currently responsible for the state's $350 million average daily investment program.

Beer Drinking Bout Is Fatal

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Glenn Moore, 27, went to a tavern advertising "all the beer you can drink for a dollar," drank two gallons in less than four hours, and died shortly afterward, authorities said.

San Mateo County coroner's deputies said the body of the La Honda, Calif., man was found in a friend's apartment.

US, TOO — Officials at Security Pacific National Bank in San Rafael, apparently not wanting to be outdone by the local service stations, have painted a now familiar sign on the front door. There's no gasoline for sale at the bank — but service is available, the bank proclaims.

GAS

another motorist cut in front of him in a line at a station that he coasted his truck into the side of the other man's late model BMW.

Police said, though, that the two settled the problem "privately," and no arrest was made.

At a Greenbrae station yesterday morning, a motorist said he finally called for help for a woman whose car stalled in a waiting line after service station attendants refused to phone the California Highway Patrol, saying they were too busy.

Some motorists apparently are avoiding waiting in line to get gasoline by taking their cars into service stations for grease jobs, oil changes or repairs. They have found that many stations will provide gasoline along with such services.

A spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service in San Francisco said this practice is legal, even though it may be frustrating to garages losing business to the service stations.

Another side effect to the gasoline shortage, according to a San Rafael auto dealer, is a slackening of business in body repair shops. "At 55 miles per hour, they're just not smacking into each other," he said in explanation.

The California Highway Patrol confirmed there have been fewer serious accidents since the gasoline shortage started cutting traffic. Last month accidents claimed 205 lives in California — the lowest figure since February of 1954 when 197 deaths were reported.)

Another hopeful note in the energy situation was received today by the San Rafael School District. Supt. Donald E. Leisey said the district, hit by a severe cutback in gasoline allocation, may be eligible for a special state supply.

The district has had to cancel all field trips and journeys to athletic events for students because of the cutback, but Leisey said he was hopeful that an additional allocation can be obtained.

Four Drivers Injured In Station Pile-Up

A 75-year-old Ross man was booked on suspicion of felony drunken driving last night after he reportedly ploughed into a line of cars waiting for gasoline at a San Anselmo service station.

The arrested man was John C. Youngberg of 171 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Youngberg and three of the drivers of the five waiting cars involved in the pile-up were injured in the 6:24 p.m. accident. It occurred on Red Hill Avenue at the intersection of Sequoia Avenue.

San Anselmo police estimated that Youngberg, driving between 35 to 40 miles per hour, hit the rear of a car driven by Mary Carr, 26, of 135 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael. Her car then slammed into one driven by Terry Wolter, 36, of 32 Buena Vista, Fairfax, which hit one driven by Byron Jonk, 32, of 6 Maple Drive, Woodacre.

Two more cars also were struck but their drivers were unhurt.

Youngberg was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised sternum and Miss Carr for a broken nose and bruises. The other injured people said they would see their own doctors.

Youngberg, taken to jail after he was treated, was later released on his own recognizance. No date has been set for an appearance in Marin Municipal Court.

Arrests In February For Drunkeness

During February 182 men and 19 women, including 11 persons under 21 years of age, were arrested for drunkeness in Marin, according to statistics reported by the Alcohol Information Committee.

Drunken drivers accounted for 201 arrests, 39 less than in January but 36 over the February 1973 figure. Five persons were arrested for being drunk in or about a motor vehicle and 42 for being inebriated in a public place.

Ages of the offenders were 11 under 21, 48 in the 20s, 58 in the 30s, 45 in the 40s and 39 over 50.

Apprehending agencies: highway patrol, 102; sheriff's department, 25; police departments of Novato, 21; San Rafael and Sausalito each 15; Larkspur, seven; Fairfax, five; Mill Valley and San Anselmo each four; Tiburon, two, and Belvedere, one.

No Audience Objections To Tiburon Building

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Plans for a three-story building over the bay on Tiburon's Main Street were heard yesterday by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission without a single objection to the project from the audience.

The 20-minute hearing was on an application by Frederick G. Zelinsky, who proposes replacement of a building that burned on the site in 1968. It will include commercial space on the two lower floors and an apartment on the top level.

The commission will vote on the permit April 4, when it meets at 2 p.m. in Room 1194 of the State Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

JOBS

doom" and "instant experts" who he said had already been proved wrong in predictions of unemployment in the range of 8 to 10 per cent by February.

Today's report said there was a decline of 150,000 in manufacturing employment in February, especially in transportation equipment. It said this reflected in large part reduced consumer demand for automobiles because of gasoline shortages.

The employment report, combined with the BLS's wholesale price report yesterday which showed the rate of inflation appeared to be slowing, followed a declaration by President Nixon Wednesday that there would be no recession this year and that economic conditions will be improving.

Yesterday's report said wholesale price inflation slowed from 3.5 per cent in January to 1.5 per cent in February.

As for today's job report, the BLS said that based on payroll data from industry, 125,000 to 200,000 jobs had been lost directly as a result of the effects of the energy shortage since Dec. 1. About 300,000 others were lost indirectly because of fuel shortages, they said.

Two Marinites On Federal Jury

Two Marin residents were among the 23 persons sworn in yesterday as members of a federal grand jury in San Francisco.

They are Lupe M. Coleman of Mill Valley, unemployed, and Roberta J. Eisener of Corte Madera, a secretary.

REFORM

a citizens' lobby promptly attacked his position.

While banning cash contributions of more than $50 per person, and $15,000 overall, for any presidential campaign, Nixon called for shortening the campaigns and outlawing "dirty tricks."

He also recommended a study of a proposal, long advocated by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, to limit a President to a single six-year term and said he had instructed the Justice Department to explore possible legislation to make it easier for candidates and public officials to sue for libel and slander.

Presidential adviser Bryce Harlow told reporters, "This is not an effort to shaft the press in any form."

The Senate has passed a bill to put limitations on contributions and campaign spending and is scheduled to debate next week a measure on public financing of both presidential and congressional campaigns. The Senate bill is bogged down in a House committee and congressional observers saw little chance for a compromise reform law anytime soon.

Nixon's opposition to public financing was condemned by the citizen group called the Center for Public Financing of Elections, which said, "No responsible official would suggest that the costs of finding a cure for cancer be left strictly to voluntary contributions."

Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott and Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., told reporters following a two hour 15 minute meeting with Nixon that they disagreed with the President on prohibiting the use of federal funds in political campaigns.

To combat political "dirty tricks" of the kind some persons admitted conducting in his 1972 campaign, Nixon suggested that various disruptive activities be banned.

He included such things as misleading advertisements, misrepresentation of voting records of opponents, organizing slander campaigns and using demonstrators to disrupt political rallies be outlawed.

Existing laws covering such actions are "unclear and have been unevenly and sometimes unfairly enforced," Nixon said.

He asked that the equal time provisions for political broadcasts be repealed.

Other campaign reforms suggested by the President:

Prohibiting presidential primaries before May 1 and urging both major political parties to hold their nominating conventions in September.

Limiting single presidential campaign contributions to $15,000 and congressional campaigns contributions to $3,000, with ceilings applying to an individual race, primaries, runoffs and general elections.

No cash contributions above $50 with anything above that by check.

OBITUARIES

William Abbey, 57, Petaluma Coach

William Yates Abbey, a teacher, coach and athletic director at Petaluma high schools, died yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 57.

A native of San Francisco, he lived in Petaluma 33 years. He coached football and basketball at Petaluma High from 1947 to 1958, and then was athletic director until 1967. Since then he has taught special classes at San Antonio High School for the handicapped in Petaluma.

He was a former Sonoma County athletic commissioner, and was a member of the Petaluma Golf and Country Club, the Sonoma County Umpires Association and the California Teachers Association.

Survivors include his wife, Jean Abbey, of 211 Twelfth Street, Petaluma; a daughter, Lynn Carasali of Reno, Nev.; a brother, Lacey Abbey Jr., of California, and two grandchildren.

Private inurnment was at Cypress Hill Memorial Park in Petaluma. Following Abbey's wishes, there was no funeral.

HELEN ROSS

Helen Frances Ross of 7400 Belita Avenue, Rohnert Park, died yesterday at home after a lengthy illness. She was 77.

Born in Maxwell, Iowa, she lived in Los Angeles 25 years, moving to Southern Sonoma about two years ago. She was a registered nurse. Her husband, John W. Ross, died in 1933.

Survivors include three daughters, Mary K. Eeasy of Rohnert Park, Jane Walker of Citrus Heights and Sister Mary Nan Ross, BVM, of Petaluma, and 12 grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial will be at 12:10 p.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent's Catholic Church in Petaluma. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Parent Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Newton, Iowa.

CYNTHIA SCHUNK

Funeral for Cynthia K. Schunk, former receptionist for a Novato doctor, will be tomorrow at 3 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Cremation will follow.

Miss Schunk died Wednesday in a local hospital after suffering a respiratory obstruction, according to the Marin county coroner's office. She had been paralyzed since being involved in an automobile accident July 14 in which she was ejected from the car.

She was born in Winner, S.D., and reared in Sioux City, Iowa.

She moved to Novato in 1971 and worked for a doctor there until the time of her accident.

Miss Schunk is survived by her father, Ray Schunk of Corte Madera; her mother, June Woodbury of Sioux City; a sister, Joan Fassi of San Rafael; five brothers, Monty Ray Schunk of Minneapolis, Minn., Lance Woodbury of Sioux City, Jeff Woodbury of Denver, Colo., Dennis and Gary Schunk of Corte Madera, and a grandfather.

LAURA ZERRUDO

Laura Lynn Zerrudo, 13, of 990 Adrian Way, San Rafael, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

She was born and lived all of her life in San Rafael. She was in the eighth grade at Santa Venetia Middle School.

She is survived by her parents, Fernando and Tersita Zerrudo and a sister, Jean Marie Zerrudo, all of the home, and her maternal grandparents.

Mass of the Angels will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday at Blessed Sacrament Church, San Rafael. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m., Sunday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

MARY HUGHES

Funeral for Mary T. Hughes of San Francisco, mother of Carmen D. Cole of Sausalito, will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Daphne Mortuary in San Francisco.

Mrs. Hughes, 64, collapsed on a San Francisco street Wednesday and was dead on arrival at a hospital. Death was due to natural causes, the coroner said.

Mrs. Hughes was born in Hawaii but she had lived in San Francisco since 1921.

She had worked for the Emporium in the statistical department for 30 years.

In addition to her daughter, she is survived by a son, Luis Dorich of San Francisco, a sister, and three brothers.

HOSTESS HONORED — Famed "hostess with the mostess," Perle Mesta (center) received a copy of an Oklahoma Senate resolution in Oklahoma City welcoming her back to her home state. Lt. Gov. and Mrs. George Nigh delivered the proclamation yesterday to the former U.S. diplomat at her suite at the Baptist Medical Center where Mrs. Mesta is undergoing tests. (UPI Telephoto)

Oklahoma's Perle Mesta Is Not Letting Hospital Dampen Spirit

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Perle Mesta has been in an Oklahoma hospital for a week now, but, true to her style, she says the first thing she's going to do when she gets out is throw a party.

"Do you recall the party I had for Kerr and none of the Republicans would come?" she asked Lt. Gov. George Nigh, who officially welcomed the Washington hostess home yesterday. The reference was to the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., once one of the most powerful men in Washington.

"They finally did come, but they hesitated about it," she said. "They didn't know what to do.

"Well, just as soon as I can get out of here I'm going to have a party. The first party I will have is going to be for the press."

Nigh presented her a resolution from the state Senate, noting Mrs. Mesta's "successful efforts at acquainting people throughout the world with the attributes of native Oklahomans."

The former Washington hostess accepted the resolution in her suite at Oklahoma Baptist Medical Center. She has been in a wheelchair since breaking her hip 18 months ago.

Mrs. Mesta returned to Oklahoma early last month and originally moved into a suite at a nursing home. She eventually plans to move into a house her brother has bought.

Her physician said Mrs. Mesta would be able to leave the hospital sometime soon. For the present she is allowed only brief visits.

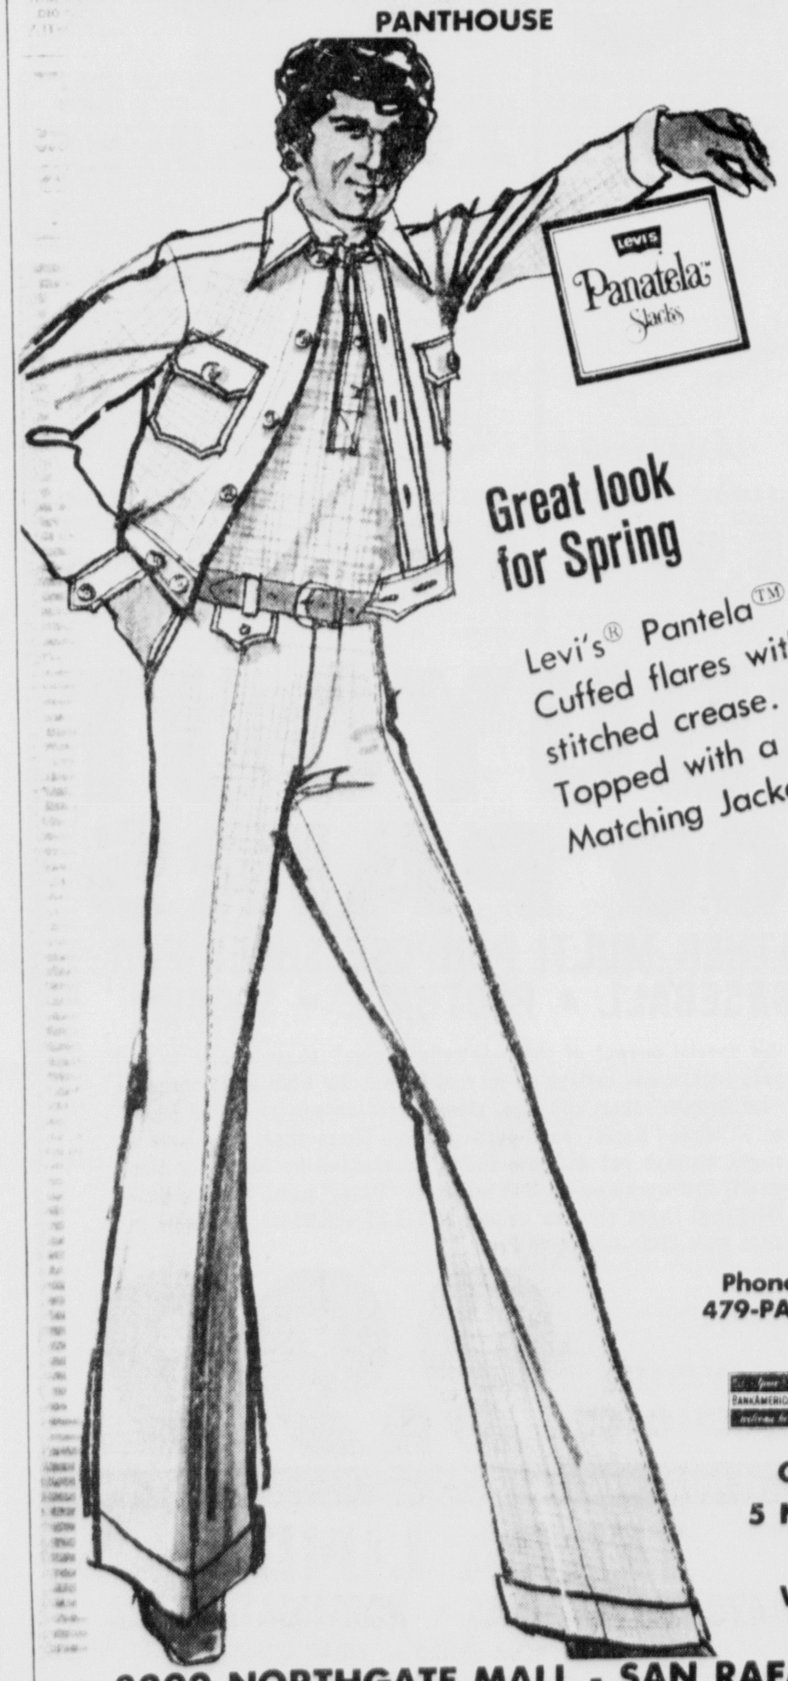

Mrs. Mesta, who has had close friendships with all recent presidents of both parties except John F. Kennedy, grew up in Oklahoma City. She was educated in fine arts at Sherwood School of Music and moved to Washington after her marriage to industrialist George Mesta.

The socialite, whose experience as ambassador to Luxembourg inspired the musical "Call Me Madame," has always declined to give her age.

EAST BAY PROJECT

Park Designer Escapes Nightly To Scenic Marin

By REBECCA LARSEN

It's not surprising that a man who works all day at planning and designing parks should want to come home at night to the park-like setting of Mill Valley.

Architect Lewis Crutcher, chief of planning and design for the 27,000-acre East Bay Regional Park District, says he lives in scenic Marin "to get away from it all and restore my strength."

It took some explaining to convince the park management to let him live here. "But when I lived in Minneapolis and worked for the park system there, our house was right next to the park, and it seemed like I could never escape it," he said.

He and his family now reside on Upper Alcatraz Avenue in a home they have remodeled.

In the East Bay Crutcher leads a staff of 33 in projects ranging from converting an abandoned dynamite factory site into parkland to planning a network of youth hostels for young people on overnight biking trips.

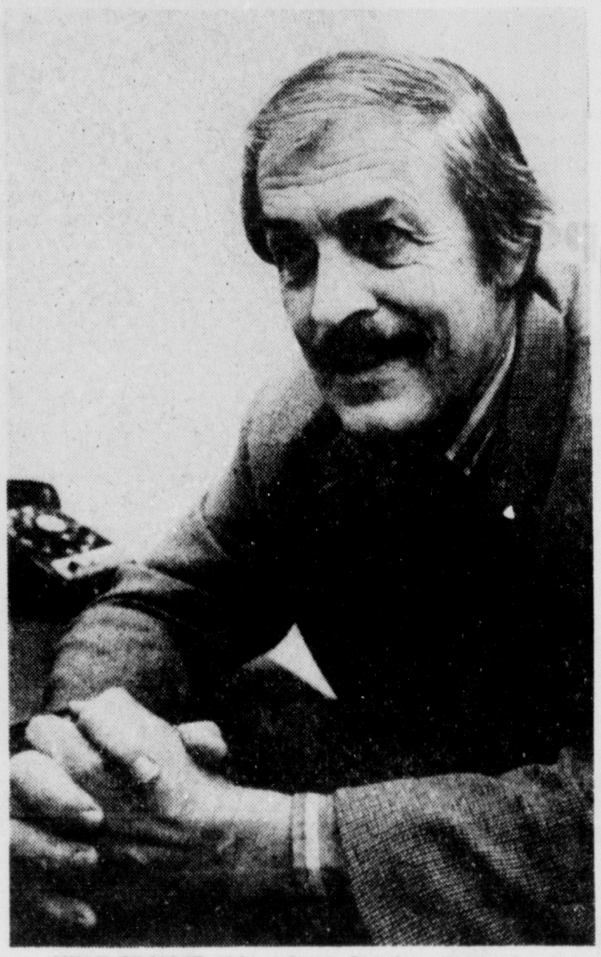

Like park planners in Marin, he trys to keep Alameda and Contra Costa county parklands simple and natural, not crowded with recreation facilities.

The whole East Bay district has only two tennis courts, he said, even though it does have lifeguards, rangers and a helicopter. "But the rangers ride horses, and we've got a quiet helicopter — the kind that hums in softly and saves little children from drowning in the mud."

Crutcher's working life isn't exactly dull. He's been involved in designing a 12-mile trail along Alameda Creek, converting gravel pits into swimming holes, reestablishing a redwood grove at the heavily lumbered Redwood Regional Park and barricading old mine shafts at the new Black Diamond Regional Park so picnickers can't wander into them.

Another of his major projects is trying to get people to the parks without their cars by encouraging use of mass transit, bikes or feet.

Crutcher seems to have a soft spot in his heart for the much-maligned motorcycle which is apparently just as much of a problem in east bay parklands as in Marin.

'AWAY FROM IT ALL' — Lewis Crutcher, planner for the East Bay Regional Park District, lives in Marin to get away from the cares of his job at night and to "restore my strength."

"We spent 40 years in the east bay building stables and trails for horses and right now there are six motorcycles for every horse in our district and almost nothing for the cyclist."

So he and the park district are hunting a suitable site for cycling, where riders won't erode the soil or cause noise that could bother nearby residents.

A native of Oakland, Crutcher left the Bay Area to go to college in Washington and Oregon. He then spent about 10 years running his own architectural firm in Portland. While there, he specialized in restoring blighted areas of that city. He finally was invited to become chief of the park system in Minneapolis.

"But my heart was in the Bay Area, and I finally decided to come back here," he said. He has been in his present post for four years.

Although his home is in Marin, Crutcher has a strong allegiance to East Bay. "We have an opportunity there to create a system of open space and trails to serve five urban areas that would be better than anything else in the world. That opportunity no longer exists in San Francisco or on the peninsula."

Pearl Bailey, Nixon Team Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singer Pearl Bailey lured President Nixon into accompanying her on the piano and got roaring approval from an audience of the nation's governors at a White House party.

During the impromptu performance last night, the President played three songs and wound up playing and singing "God Bless America" with everyone joining in.

He jokingly concluded afterward that "the piano will never be the same, and neither will I."

Actor Files Giant Suit Over Accident

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Actor James Stacy, whose left leg and arm were torn off by a passing car as he rode his motorcycle on a dark canyon road, sued the City of Los Angeles yesterday for $10 million.

Stacy, 36, argued in the Superior Court suit that the city ignored many complaints in recent years that Benedict Canyon Road was badly maintained and unsafe. Stacy's girl friend, Clair Cox, 27, was killed in the accident last September. The driver of the car is awaiting trial on charges of felony manslaughter.

Another Geysers Plant Is Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Pacific Gas & Electric Co. has announced plans to add a $10 million, 55,000-kilowatt plant to its geothermal operation at the geysers.

PG&E said yesterday it has applied with the California Public Utilities Commission for authorization to construct "Unit 15" at the geysers in Sonoma County.

The company has 10 generating units now in operation at the facility, which is the only commercial geothermal operation in the country and several others awaiting approval.

Kentfield Fire Budget Hike Likely

Because expenditures for gasoline are expected to increase by nearly 60 per cent next year, the Kentfield Fire Protection District maintenance budget will probably be up about 10 per cent, district members learned last night.

Chief Kenneth Kamp told the board he expects fuel expenses to rise from $2,200 this year to about $3,500 for 1974-75. Other inflationary increases for supplies are expected to increase the maintenance budget from $54,800 to about $60,280, Kamp said.

Members received Kamp's first budget estimates without major change as they met in special session, according to Kamp. He said the complete budget has not been prepared and trustees were reviewing only the first section.

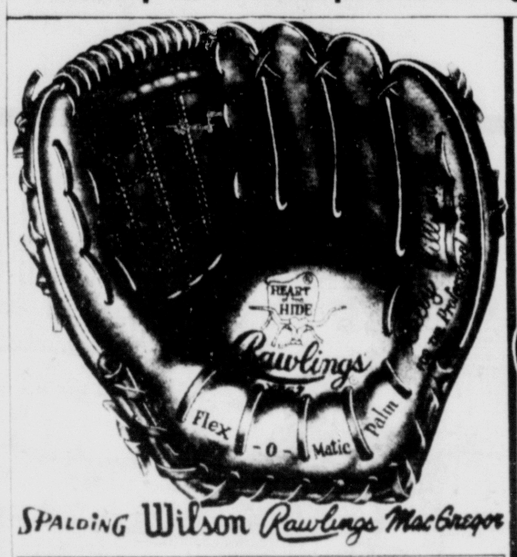

Members will meet for their regular monthly business meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the firehouse. Kamp said he expects to have other budget portions ready for review at a special meeting the following week.

STRIPPED OF TITLE

Miss World, 20-year-old Marjorie Wallace of Indianapolis, who was stripped of her title yesterday, denies rumors of controversy surrounding her private life. Miss Wallace arrived in Los Angeles today from London to be met by racing driver Peter Revson, who has been linked with her romantically. The beauty queen said parting with her title was a friendly agreement. "There is no ill will between Mecca Ltd. (contest organizers) and myself." The dismissal was without precedent in the 22-year history of the Miss World competition. Mecca said there will be no replacement.

Prison Revolutionaries: A Trend In California?

By DAVID HOLMSTROM
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

SAN FRANCISCO — Has the vast California prison system unwittingly become a "graduate school" for political revolutionary activity over the last decade?

Or is it the much-troubled system, as prison officials claim, merely the final repository for the increasing number of California's most violent men?

The questions stand stage left in the kidnapping of Patricia Hearst. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has tentatively identified two in connection with her abduction — Donald D. Defreeze and Thero M. Wheeler — as escaped California prison inmates. Both men have histories of revolutionary activity in and out of California prisons.

Some criminologists here insist that if the two men are Miss Hearst's abductors, their names should be added to a controversial list of nationally or locally known California inmates who now, or in the past, have espoused revolutionary commitments.

Eldridge Cleaver, George Jackson, Bobby Seale, Huey Newton, and Ruchell Magee are "graduates" of California prisons, observers say.

"Whether or not most of society agrees," said one criminologist here, "these men are political figures who gained their political awareness inside California prisons. And even more striking, with the exception of Ruchell Magee, they became internationally known authors. They are also black."

Prison officials insist that the politically oriented violence that has bubbled increasingly throughout the system is the deliberate work of "leftist" and "liberal" lawyers and radical reformers who have prodded and pushed inmates into action.

By raising inmates' "false hopes," say the officials, and with a steady flow of revolutionary literature into prisons, California prison officials have been forced to take an increasingly "tougher line."

Yet since 1968 nearly 50 inmates have been killed by inmates and guards, and the number of escapees has risen steadily.

Donald D. DeFreeze escaped from Soledad Prison last March and Thero M. Wheeler escaped from Vacaville medical facility last August. Both men had been "close friends" at the minimum-security section at Soledad and members of the now-defunct revolutionary group known as "Venceremos."

Some criminologists and ex-inmates contend that prison officials here have their priorities mixed, and that to blame prison violence on overzealous lawyers is "simplistic."

"The whole system is a miserable failure," said a criminology professor at the University of California at Berkeley School of Criminology, "because 88 per cent of the inmates in California prisons have served time before."

California Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger said, "We send fewer people to prison for serious crimes, and grant probation and parole more often and faster, and at the same time violent crime increases . . . We must remember that the first duty of any government is to protect its citizens . . ."

But sociologists and penal reformers alike, while abhorring the kidnapping of Miss Hearst, ask: protect its citizens from what? Just from criminals, or from the prisons which are failing to help troubled individuals gain insights into themselves so that hopefully, their disagreements with society do not become terrorist activities?

Larkspur Birthday Planned Around Historical Photos

Historical photographs of Larkspur will be displayed in city hall on March 17, the 66th anniversary of the city's incorporation. The exhibit will be from 3 to 5 p.m.

Tea and Irish coffee will be served by the Larkspur Beautification Committee. The collection includes the photos of the first adobe house built in Larkspur in 1840, three Larkspur hotels that thrived in the late 1890s and photos of the city from 1911, 1915 and 1930.

The beautification committee, sponsored by the city council and chamber of commerce, has assembled and reproduced the photographs in an attempt to begin a Larkspur archive, according to Joan L. Sestak, committee chairman.

"The committee hopes to work with the Larkspur Historical Society and any other interested citizens to track down and copy old pictures, cull information from clippings and collect items of historical value to the city," Mrs. Sestak said.

Persons interested in donating items to the archive or loaning photographs to be copied for a permanent collection should contact Helen Heitkamp, committee member, at 70 Elm Avenue.

Story Of Vesco's Silence On Fund

NEW YORK (UPI) — Financier Robert L. Vesco declined to "blow the lid" on his contribution to the 1972 Nixon campaign because he did not want investigators to "nail me and the President to the wall together," a witness in the Mitchell-Stans trial testified today.

The witness, Harry L. Sears, was the star of the government case against former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans. They are accused of trying to impede a Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigation of Vesco in exchange for his $200,000 secret cash contriubtion.

Sears said that when Vesco declined to testify in mid-October, 1972, before an SEC hearing, Mitchell had said: "Please tell Bob I'm grateful."

Sears said that Vesco had told him he was not going to testify and that Vesco added: "I hope the hell that'll make them happy — because that's just like another contribution."

Sears did not make clear who Vesco meant by "them."

Sears, a Vesco lawyer at the time, said that the subpoena from the SEC staff arrived Sept. 29, 1972, and called for his appearance Oct. 11. He said Mitchell was greatly concerned because it was so close to election time.

"Mr. Vesco said he was absolutely positive that the SEC staff was making a concerted effort to zero in on the $250,000 transaction," Sears testified.

Vesco had arranged a loan in the Bahamas from which he deposited $250,000 in Barclays bank in New York. Sears said $200,000 was given secretly to Stans, the Nixon Finance Committee chief, and $50,000 was donated publicly.

Sears quoted Vesco about the subpoena as follows:

"I'm sure they're going to try to make a conection between that (bank) transaction and the contribution.

"Those bastards would like nothing better than to nail me and the President to the wall together.

"There's no way that I'm going to testify and blow the lid because the intrepretation by the media would be that it would be blown up like the ITT affair.

"Nixon may survive other things but this would be the crusher."

Sears said that Vesco told him, "I wish you'd get a hold of John Mitchell and get his reaction and see what he could do about it."

Mitchell at that time had resigned from the cabinet and was Nixon's reelection chairman.

"I called Mr. Mitchell very shortly after and told him that Mr. Vesco was sure the SEC staff was trying to zero in on the $250,000 transaction," Sears said. "I told him I agreed with Bob (Vesco) that if his testimony is made public the press is going to have a field day.

"I told him I felt that with the election so close it could have a devastating effect. Mr. Mitchell agreed. He indicated to me he would see what he could find out."

In a later conversation, Sears testified, "Mr. Mitchell said he felt the subpoena was going to be withdrawn. I indicated that would be a good development.

"I called Mr. Vesco and told him what Mr. Mitchell had said and Mr. Vesco said that that would be the greatest thing that ever happened — it would solve all his problems."

There was an adjournment of the subpoena return time to October 14 or 18, Sears said, and he called Mitchell again.

"Mr. Mitchell said he certainly hoped we could get beyond the election date. I said I did too.

"Mr. Mitchell said 'I could certainly hope so if they have any consideration for the President of the United States.'"

Vesco reported to him, Sears said, that he was going to take the Fifth Amendment and not testify and then uttered the words about that being "like another contribution."

Mills To Bid For 19th Congress Term

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, DArk., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, today said he would seek a 19th term in Congress.

Mills, 64, told a news conference at the Arkansas Baptist Medical Center that he believes his health is up to another term. He has been hospitalized for tests and therapy following surgery last August for a ruptured spinal disc which threatened to end his congressional career.

Mills was to be released from the hospital later today. He has been hospitalized since Feb. 19.

Mills hinted strongly last year that he might retire if the corrective surgery on his back was not successful. But he said previously he would not again seek the Democratic presidential nomination nor run for vice president. He made an unsuccessful race for the nomination in 1972.

Since 1958, when he became Ways and Means chairman, Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon have had to come to terms with Mills, whom many consider to be the most powerful man in Congress because of his economic expertise and knowledge of tax matters.

Mills never has had a serious opponent and seldom draws opposition at all. The last time was in 1966, when he defeated two challengers in the Democratic primary with 74 per cent of the vote.

Energy Insulation Regulations Are Set

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Housing and Community Development Commission yesterday announced new insulation standards for residential dwellings which it said could save 84 million barrels of oil in the next decade.

The energy insulation regulations become effective Feb. 22, 1975, and apply to all new residential structures — single-family dwellings, apartments, motels and hotels — which are heated or mechanically cooled.

Barry Whittlesey, department director, said the key to the new standards was a requirement that structures "must be insulated against the most severe limatic condition for the location and type of structure involved."

Apprenticeship Program Student Count Increases

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A total of 38,702 young Californians were enrolled in state-approved apprenticeship programs in 1973, an increase of nearly 3,000 over the previous year, the state Department of Industrial Relations said yesterday.

Of the total, 20,074 first entered the programs that year with about 70 per cent of them going into construction and building trades.

Of the 38,702 apprentices for the year, 138 were women, the department said.

"The proportion of minorities among all apprentices increased from 21.1 per cent in 1972 to 22.4 per cent last year, compared with about 14.4 per cent nationally," said James E. Stratten.

The 12:40 am to New York. It's a great time to save 20%.

Nightcoach flights leave after 9pm and cost about 20% less than regular day coach flights. And now, when saving money makes more sense than ever, American Airlines is offering round-trip Nightcoach flights to 10 cities. Plus one-way Nightcoach flights to 9 more. For reservations, call your Travel Agent or American Airlines. You'll leave a little later, but you'll land a little richer.

Check the chart below to find out where and when you can fly, and how much you can save. All savings are based on the regular round-trip Coach fares. And all fares include tax, but not the nominal airport security charge.

CIVIL WAR RELIC — The ironclad Civil War vessel Monitor, forerunner of the modern battleship, has been found upside down on the ocean floor 15 miles south of Cape Hatteras Lighthouse, N.C., according to Duke University scientist John G. Newton. This artist's concept depicts the battle between the Union's Monitor (left) and Merrimac of the Confederacy.

(UPI Telephoto)

Monitor Remains Are Flimsy

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Duke University scientists say the remains of the famous Civil War ironclad USS Monitor are too fragile to raise from the Atlantic using current salvage techniques.

John G. Newton, marine superintendent for oceanography at the school's marine laboratory in Beaufort, N.C., said yesterday the ship has been found lying upside down in 220 feet of water about 15 miles southeast of the Cape Hatteras light house.

Newton said the wreck was "very fragile" and would be difficult to raise. Rivets holding its iron plates have deteriorated in places and much of the hull is marine encrusted.

The wreckage of the 112-foot craft, said Newton, is past the safe range for skin diving and lies in a depression at the edge of the Gulfstream where two-knot currents make diving, even for suited divers, "extremely dangerous."

The Monitor, often called the "cheesebox on a raft," is considered the forerunner of modern warships. Its deck was almost flush with the water and it carried a single, revolving turret.

The vessel, which fought the Confederate ironclad Merrimac to a draw in Hampton Roads, Va., on March 9, 1862, swamped and sank in a gale Dec. 31, 1862, while under tow to Charleston, S.C., where it was to participate in a federal blockade.

The Merrimac, considered too unseaworthy to venture into open water and too big to retreat up the James River to Richmond, was destroyed by her crew in May, 1862 when Union forces took Norfolk, Va.

Identification of the craft was made following five months of examination of underwater television pictures, photographs, and historic records. Advanced electronic equipment also was used in the search.

"The first evidence we had was that the wreck was unique —it didn't resemble any vessel," Newton said. The turret, he added, apparently fell off the ship as it sank and the hull is resting on an angle of the turret.

Currents moving past the Monitor have created a 600-foot long depression on the shell-strewn ocean floor.

The ship, found by the school's research vessel "Eastward," was located by following the path of the Monitor's tow ship, the Rhode Island, as recorded in its log. Positive identification was aided by an 1861 handwritten description, thought to be a copy of the original contract specified by the ship's designer and builder, John Ericsson.

Israeli Impressions Will Be Presented

Laurnce Myers, president of the Northern California Division of the American Jewish Congress, will report his impressions of Israel after the war to the Marin Chapter of the American Jewish Congress at 7:30 p.m., March 17, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Loran at 3475 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Myers, who is also campaign chairman of the Jewish Welfare Federation of San Francisco, Marin and the Peninsula, recently visitd Israel. His report at the Loran residence is open to the public.

Hazard Areas Along Coast Eyed

Tight restrictions on development along geologically hazardous stretches of the coast, with outright bans on all construction in especially dangerous areas, were proposed last night by the staff of the North Central Coast Regional Commission.

No attempt was made to map which areas would be affected by the controls. Details are about 15 months away, the staff said.

The controls were added by the staff to a draft report on the geology of the coastal region. Hearings on the report will begin Tuesday.

The staff said its proposed policies were "intended to stimulate public discussion; they represent one possible set of policy conclusions" that follow from the hazards outlined in the report.

The staff also said development in hazardous areas subject to earthquakes, landslides, seismic sea waves and erosion should not be entitled to public liability for property loss. This would prohibit such protections as government disaster loans.

Other restrictions proposed by the commission's staff were to prohibit both permanent and intermittent concentrations of people in hazardous areas, toughening of building codes and their "vigorous enforcement," and formation of a board of geologic and engineering experts to review all construction in hazardous areas.

The report on geology is one of a series the commission will adopt as part of the coastal plan due before the 1976 Legislature.

The report, drafted by the staff of the parent state coast commission, recalled that the 1906 earthquake "severely damaged" all coastal towns in Marin and Sonoma.

Hearings on the report and regional staff proposals, all at 7:30 p.m., will be held: Tuesday at Granada School, Corte Madera; Wednesday at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco; March 19 at Santa Rosa Public Library, and March 21 at Santa Rosa City Hall.

In other business, commissioners failed again, after more than two hours of debate, to adopt a set of conditions to allow construction at the Sea Ranch development on the Sonoma coast. The commission, which has been working on the issue since August, agreed to try again at its April 4 meeting.

The conditions drafted by the staff call for public access to the beach, cutting trees to reopen views of the ocean from the highway and a public trail along Shoreline Highway. Oceanic Properties, developer of the project, protested the conditions and vowed a court fight if they are adopted.

Mill Valley School Will Give Musical

Eight Old Mill School students will present a musical version of "Winnie the Pooh" at their Mill Valley School Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The production's director is Steve Rifkin, 21, of Mill Valley, who staged "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," at Old Mill last year.

His success with "Charlie Brown" led the school's Parent-Teachers Association to invite him back this year to do another play, according to principal Robert Lea.

The fourth and fifth grade cast includes Ann Capron, Christopher Crutcher, Seth Ferguson, Steve Gillespie, Emily Leonard, Nicole Michaels, Kim Smith and Todd Wannerman.

Get the great JBL sound & save $90 too!

You don't often find a music system with JBL speakers for under $500, but for our latest Grand Opening we've assembled this one with L-26's for just $469. Like all JBL speaker systems, L-26's put you right on top of the performance, and they're hand-crafted to rigid quality control standards. These two-way, ten-inch systems come in natural oak cabinets, and they're included here at their fair trade price of $258 a pair.

Even though the SHERWOOD 7100A recently went up in price, it remains one of the very best stereo receiver values around. It boasts 44 watts of power (RMS at 1 kHz), an AM/FM tuner section with notably good specifications, and all the convenience features you need to use additional components (like a tape deck) and adjust the sound just the way you like it. A walnut case is included in the $239.95 price.

GARRARD's 42M automatic record player rounds out this system. It's a three-speed model with a lightweight aluminum tonearm, damped cueing, and an adjustable anti-skate control to help keep your records in mint condition. It comes ready to play with a base and a Shure M75ECS elliptical cartridge already installed for just $64.95. Purchased separately, these components would come to $562.90, but for this week only we're reducing the system price by over $90 and including our written Five-Year Service Agreement absolutely free.

Your choice for $89

GARRARD's SL72B has been one of our most popular automatic record players, and with good reason. It features Garrard's dependable Synchro-Lab motor for constant speed, a sophisticated tonearm, and safe two-point record support. Our original price for this now discontinued model was $109.95. While our supply lasts you can pick up an SL72B for only $89 including a base and a Shure M75PE elliptical cartridge.

$89 Save $20.95

QUADRAFLEX 55 speakers sound as clean as can be, and their deep bass response and power handling capacity leave very little to be desired. These three-way systems have a ten-inch acoustic suspension bass speaker, and the midrange driver is also an acoustic suspension design. Our regular price is $119.95 per system, but this week we're having a factory authorized sale on the Model 55, so you can save nearly $62 on a pair purchased right now.

$89 each Save $30.95

Beats any console at the same price

When you buy a stereo console, you often pay as much for furniture as for electronics; but with components, all your investment goes for solid audio engineering. You can hear the difference as far more realistic sound, and with our typical system savings you get even more value for your money. This budget system is a good example; the TRANSAUDIO 5502 stereo receiver alone normally sells for $149.95 (including the walnut case). It features a good AM/FM tuner section and all the controls you need for properly balanced sound.

The 5502's amplifier section produces 16 clean watts (RMS at 1 kHz), and since that's real power instead of an inflated rating, it's more than enough for the highly efficient AUDIO DESIGN 806's. Each cabinet contains a two-inch high frequency speaker and a separate eight-inch bass driver for solid low notes. And because these are component speakers, you can place them wherever they create the best listening area for your room. Their regular price is a remarkable $79.90 a pair.

The BSR 260A automatic record player has a reliable record changing mechanism and a built-in cueing lever to help keep your records free of scratches. Complete with a base and a Shure magnetic cartridge (with a diamond stylus), the 260A regularly sells for $49.50, bringing the total value of this system to $279.35. Our price this week is over $80 less and still includes our written Five-Year Service Agreement.

Take your pick for just $4.99

PICKERING's PAC/1 is a good replacement for the worn-out cartridge in your record player. It's a magnetic design (the only type that produces true high fidelity sound) and it comes with a long-life diamond stylus. Our regular price is $10.95.

QUADRAFLEX Q-10's will really plug you into your favorite music. Because they're so lightweight, you can enjoy them for hours. Right now they're only a third of their regular $14.95 price!

Warning Issued On Gas Vapor Devices

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Gasoline station operators, who have been laboring under fuel shortage problems, were warned yesterday they have only until July 1 to install systems to recover vapors while filling their underground tanks.

The warning from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District said that of some 3,300 stations in the nine-county region, only about 1,900 have even applied to the district for permits to install the recovery systems.

The deadline, already postponed once from Jan. 1, will be enforced, the district said.

Violations of the requirement are subject to a maximum fine of $500 a day. Continued violations can mean a station will be ordered closed.

The control systems will recover about 35 of the 75 tons of hydrocarbon gases now escaping each day in the region, according to the district.

"We have given them sufficient time to get the job done," a district spokesman said, "and we have no intention of giving them any extension." The devices will cost $300 to $1,000 for each station.

The district also reported five notices for violating district regulations were issued in Marin and Sonoma, by its inspectors during February. Cited were: Dominican College, San Rafael; Larry Hanson Construction Co. and Cala Foods, both Novato; Ingerson Trucking Co. and Hunt and Behrens Feed Co., both of Petaluma.

A Postponement

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Frank Sinatra has postponed his scheduled appearance at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas next week because of a persistent sinus problem.

Wallace Says He Was Offered Demo VP Slot

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George C. Wallace says some "important people" offered him the Democratic vice presidential nomination in 1972 but he rejected it because of the party platform.

(Sen. George) McGovern didn't come and talk to me personally," Wallace said in an exclusive interview with UPI, "but some important people came and offered me the vice presidence yesterday in exchange for my delegates.

"If I told you who they were you would know they were important. But I turned them down because I couldn't run on their platform."

Wallace said again he has not made up his mind about 1976, but he would not rule out a fourth bid for the presidency or the possibility he might accept the vice presidency.

Wallace carried 377 delegates to the national convention in 1972 and aides said Sen. Hubert Humphrey offered him the second spot in a "Stop McGovern" movement.

Wallace could have held the balance of power if a challenge to the California delegation had robbed McGovern of the votes he needed for a first ballot victory.

Despite Wallace's disclaimers, his national campaign staff is working to establish grassroots organizations in every state.

GUARDING THE GAS

Robert Palmer of Redwood City is taking no chances of losing his gasoline to the holder of a "midnight credit card." Palmer keeps his dog, Sidney, chained to the car at night to foil would-be siphoners. It must work. Palmer said he hasn't lost a drop yet.

Public Transit Worker Strike Leaves San Franciscans Afoot

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A strike shut down the San Francisco public transit system today, leaving thousands of workers in this gasoline-short city with no way to get to their jobs.

Drivers for the Municipal Railway system, which normally carries a half million passengers a day, joined other workers in the second day of a strike against the city.

The American Federation of Teachers also joined the walkout, pulling half the city's public school teachers out of their classrooms.

The police department lifted parking meter restrictions on downtown streets. But people needing gas for their cars faced the prospect of a long wait. Gasoline station lines in the city have been blocks long in recent days.

The jmunicipal Railway, which runs the city's streetcars, buses, trolleys and cable cars, had been carrying record numbers of passengers because of the gas shortage.

The 1,800 drivers refused to take their vehicles out of the barns and yards where other city employes were picketing this morning.

The AFL-CIO Teachers union urged its members and pupils to stay home from school. The rival California Teachers Association members stayed on the job.

The walkout by city workers began yesterday morning when members of unions representing about 10,000 workers set up picket lines around the City Hall and other installations, ignoring an agreement between the Labor Council and Mayor Joseph Alioto to delay a walkout.

The workers are demanding pay increases estimated to cost the city $16 million a year. The Board of Supervisors had voted a 5 per cent pay boost, which would cost about $5 million a year.

Alioto, who is running for the Democratic nomination for governor with heavy labor support, was unable to get the workers to go back to their jobs until a settlement could be reached.

New Hopeful In Novato Race

Raymond Gilbert, 29, of 1259 Lynwood Drive, Novato, a deputy district attorney for Marin County, has filed as a candidate in the Novato Sanitary District board election June 4.

Gilbert's entry brings the field to six candidates for three seats.

Other candidates are Thomas D. Hardcastle and Clayton D. Payne, both incumbents; Miquel B. Medeiros, a carpenter; Barbara Butner, a homemaker, and Francis A. Butler, a civil engineering technician.

George De Tuncq, the third incumbent whose term expires, hasn't yet filed.

Gas Lack Helps New York's Air

NEW YORK (UPI) — The energy crisis has helped make the air in New York City cleaner.

Robert A. Low, the state's environmental protection administrator, said yesterday carbon monoxide levels in city air dropped by as much as 20 per cent during the last three months because of reduced automobile emissions during the gasoline shortage.

McCord Charges Nixon Suppressed Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James W. McCord Jr., a convicted Watergate conspirator, said today President Nixon had "deliberately concealed and suppressed" evidence in violation of law at the time of the Watergate unraveling in March 1973.

In an open letter received by UPI today, McCord said Nixon failed to inform the courts or the Justice Department that John W. Dean III had told him that hush money had been paid to Watergate defendants.

McCord said that had Nixon made these facts known, the convictions of the original seven Watergate defendants would have been overturned.

"President Richard Nixon made an astounding admission last night," McCord said. "President Nixon admitted last night that John Dean told him that payments had been made to the Watergate defendants for the purpose of keeping them quiet...This is a fantastic admission by a President."

McCord, security officer for the Committee to Re-elect the President and a member of the bugging team that broke into Democratic offices at the Watergate complex, sent a letter to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica March 23, 1973 charging that "there was political pressure applied to the defendants to plead guilty and remain silent."

He said if Nixon had immediately furnished the information to Sirica the claim of political pressure would have been corroborated and the convictions and pleas of the original defendants would had been dismissed.

Justice Official Dampens Any Amnesty Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department said today Congress has no constitutional authority to "legislate amnesty" for Vietnam War resisters.

Leon Ulman, deputy assistant attorney general, told a House subcommittee that the over half a dozen amnesty proposals in the House had "serious constitutional defects."

"For this reason alone, the Department of Justice is obliged to oppose their enactment," Ulman said. "The issue is whether and to what extent Congress can encroach upon the President's pardoning power, and especially his determination not to grant a pardon."

Rep. Bob Kastenmeier, D-Wis., chairman of the subcommittee on courts, civil liberties and administration of justice, said in opening the hearings, "I am hopeful that understanding has taken root and that the difficult moral questions involved can be addressed with fairness and reason."

Kastenmeier added, "Because of the raw nerve these hearings will touch in many Americans, I believe it would have been unwise to attempt them earlier than now."

The subcommittee has before it proposals ranging from granting an unconditional amnesty to all draft resisters and military opponents of the war, including both deserters and those who received dishonorable discharges, to suggestions for "conditional" amnesty if the subject agrees to perform alternate service to the country.

Kastenmeier said the committee will hear supporters of both those sides as well as from those who, like President Nixon, oppose the granting of amnesty in any form.

The government has said there were 5,500 outstanding indictments for draft law violations as of mid-1973. In addition, there were 4,500 reported violations that had not yet reached the indictment stage.

The government also has said that from July 1964, through December 1973, 8,100 persons had been convicted of draft resistance. While most of them would have served time by now, they still would be eligible for pardon.

U Thant Enters Hospital Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Former United Nations Secretary-General U Thant has been hospitalized for the second time in three months but "is progressing satisfactorily."

A spokesman for Columbia Presbyterian Hospital said last night that the 64-year-old retired Burmese diplomat was admitted Feb. 24. The hospital declined to give details of the illness.

Dean Burch Is Newest Nixon Aide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Federal Communications Commission chairman Dean Burch was sworn in today as the newest adviser to President Nixon.

Nixon watched the swearing in and said Burch would be given "a general range of assignments" in his new position as general counsellor to the President.

He will serve as the White House liaison to administrative agencies of the government such as the FCC, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and "also will be advising me from time to time when he sees fit on the matter of politics," Nixon said.

Supreme Court Justice William Rehnquist, who, like Burch, is from Arizona, administered the oath of office.

Mrs. Burch held a Bible given to her moments earlier by the President but Burch forgot the traditional gesture of putting his left hand on it.

Power Of Lutheran President Questioned

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The president of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod has been criticized for running an "oppressive administration" in an open letter to the church signed by 72 of the 90 campus ministers in the Synod.

The pastors criticized Synod President Rev. Dr. Jacob A.O. Preus and the "reprehensible abuse of power" by the Synod's Board of Missions.

Preus and the conservative Board of Control of Concordia Seminary purged the nation's largest Lutheran Seminary of moderate faculty members. Rev. Dr. John H. Tietjen, president of Concordia, was suspended as president Jan. 20 and the majority of the faculty were fired last month when they refused to end their boycott of classes in sympathy with Tietjen.

An overwhelming majority of the Concordia student body voted to join the dissident faculty members at a "seminary in exile" conducted in facilities provided by the Jesuit-run St. Louis University and the Eden Tehological Seminary of the United Church of Christ.

The dispute between Preus and the church's conservative majority and Tietjen and the moderate minority concerns the interpretation of the Bible. The Preus faction insists on literal interpretation of all Biblical events, such as Jonah and the whale and Noah and the ark, while the Tietjen faction believes such events may be symbolic.

In the letter yesterday, the campus ministers declared their solidarity with the Tietjen faction and said they would no longer recognize the leadership or authority of Preus, saying his "exercise of power...would kill rather than give life."

The board of missions, also a conservative authority within the Synod, avoided a confrontation with the missions staff last weekend when a series of meetings was set up to discuss grievances.

Hopes High For Oil Embargo End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said today after a meeting with President Nixon he is hopeful that the Arab oil embargo will be lifted soon.

Scott gave no details of the basis of his optimism. Arab oil ministers are expected to take up the embargo at a meeting next week.

"We are hopeful the embargo will be lifted," Scott told newsmen after the two-hour meeting between GOP congressional leaders and the President.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and energy chief William F. Simon attended the meeting and Simon told the group that the effort to avoid gasoline rationing was being won, Scott said.

Another participant, Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., told a reporter, "I think there's reason to be hopeful" concerning the embargo."

Simon said he was "optimistic and encouraged" about prospects for increased gasoline supplies with the arrival of mild weather, according to Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio.

As for the embargo, Brown said Kissinger "indicated he thought the boycott would be lifted when it is to the advantage of the Arabs to lift it."

Simon's office issued a report on the government's fuel conservation program, saying it saved 45 million barrels of oil in the last half of 1973.

He gave some credit for the size of the cutback to the warm winter, but said most of the credit "has to go to the federal agencies that did a great management job and to the federal employes who cooperated enthusiastically."

Simon announced yesterday more gasoline is being allocated to all states in March than in Fberuary. He said lowered requirements for heating oil have made it possible for refineries to switch to more gasoline production.

Simon said he is considering an end to voluntary prohibition of Sunday gasoline sales, in view of spring and summer vacations coming up.

"Under the new allocation, every state will receive a greater supply of gasoline in March than in February," Simon told a meeting of the National Governors Conference.

The new allocations were adjusted to guarantee that no state gets less than 85 per cent of the motor fuel sold during the 1972 base period.

Under the March formula, allocations of 100 per cent or more of the 1972 base will go to Alaska, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

"What we have done today," Simon said, "will take care of gasoline problems." But it was clear he referred to the immediate recent problem of long gasoline lines and that the government intends general energy conservation to continue.

Simon said the national average allocation for March would be 89 per cent of base-period use. The February average was 83 per cent.

He said he would continue to make emergency "injections" of gasoline to the hardest-hit states, as he did last month, if necessary.

In other developments:

The House reversed itself, voting to kill a proposed mandatory rollback in domestic crude oil prices. The House had voted for such a rollback Wednesday after President Nixon vetoed the emergency energy bill, containing a similar proposal. The Ways and Means Committee approved in principle a temporary five-year windfall profits tax on crude oil.

The status of the oil ministers conference was in doubt. Egyptian sources said it would take place in Cairo Sunday But the Kuwaiti oil minister said it would be in Tripoli Wednesday.

The Senate yesterday, on a 48-43 vote tabled efforts to repeal year-round daylight saving time.

A Fight Over A Power Line

BURLINGAME (UPI) — The conservationist Sierra Club has asked the state Coast Commission to block the moving of a one-mile strethc of power lines near Klamath in Del Norte County.

The club said the lines should be undergrounded along their present route, which parallels Highway 101 in a portion of the Del Norte Coast Redwoods State Park.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co., wants to relocate the lines along a ridge within the park but out of view of coastal travelers. The company says the present area is subject to landslides which could interrupt service to 550 homes and a number of sawmills.

MUSIC REVIEW

Orchestra Piccola's Special Ives Salute

By VERA M. OLMSTED

Happy birthday, Charles Ives. "Who's Charles Ives?" I hear you ask. Only the most unusual, esteemed, and characteristically American composer our country has yet produced.

A well-attended celebration concert last night at the Veterans Memorial Building paid tribute to Ives (1874-1954) on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of his birth.

The Orchestra Piccola, made up of Marin's precocious musical whiz-kids, guided and directed by Hugo Rinaldi, staged the first (and so far, only) Bay Area centennial concert of Ives' music, sponsored by the Rugles-Ives Foundation in cooperation with the Marin Symphony Association.

Ives occupies a unique position in American music. The bulk of his work was written before 1918. He was unaware of and uninfluenced by European composers, and independently anticipated many of the devices and procedures used later by Stravinsky, Bartok, and Schoenberg.

Ives had a strong musical background and studied composition at Yale, but foreseeing no future for himself in traditional musical life, he established a successful insurance agency and composed furiously and copiously in his free time.

In 1947 he captured the imagination of the American public upon receiving the Pulitzer Prize for his Third Symphony, and suddenly found himself famous at age 73.

Almost all of Ives' music shows a strong individualism and a love for America and its traditions, drawing on literary allusions and direct quotes from old hymns, folk, dance and military band music.

A sensational "coup" for the centennial group was the appearance of John Kirkpatrick as guest soloist in the Ives Second Piano Sonata. Kirkpatrick, now a professor of music at Yale and a noted Ives scholar, was the first pianist brave enough to publicly perform the entire sonata in New York in 1939.

Kirkpatrick, a distinguished, grey-haired New Englander, has exceptionally long-fingered hands that seemed to be everywhere on the piano keys, firmly striking polytonal clusters of notes, and at other times bringing out some of the familiar melodies woven into the fabric of the work. It was a splendid performance of an extremely difficult piece that still has the power to puzzle almost sixty years after its creation.

During the first half of the evening, the Orchestra Piccola played six short orchestral works by Ives, concluding "Three Places in New England," of which the Piccola played the first two. The orchestra members performed with the solid craftsmanship we have come to expect from them, but were not always secure enough with the material to lift the works out of a certain tedium.

Rinaldi, director of music for the San Rafael School District and conductor of the Marin Youth Orchestra as well as the Orchestra Piccola, deserves a special mention for his part in bringing this program to fruition.

Ives' music is difficult to perform (and sometimes to listen to), but the nature of the music and the importance of the composer makes this kind of undertaking extremely worthwhile.

Pocket Calculators Out For Students

BERKELEY (UPI) — Slow learners in Berkeley's public schools are not going to get to use pocket calculators, after all.

A Challenge To Power Squadrons

By JUDI HASSON

PALISADES PARK, N. J. (UPI) — Three years ago, Marilyn C. Hilden, a lifelong boating enthusiast, tried to join the all-male U.S. Power Squadrons (USPS), a national organization promoting boating safety and education.

The 70,000 member organized, based here, told her it was a private club and denied her membership.

So, Mrs. Hilden, a resident of an affluent Bergen County community, filed suit with the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights, which on last Jan. 21 ordered the organization to change its national policy and admit women on an equal basis with men.

"I've been boating since I was a child," says Mrs. Hilden, who places her age in the "40s." "I have so much respect for this organization but turning it into an exclusive male group is like turning it into some kind of Saturday night poker game. It is a denigration of the power squadron."

Although the state Civil Rights division hearing examiner, Sylvia Pressler, ordered the organization to accept Mrs. Hilden, she still isn't a member.

Vice Cmdr. Harvey C. Collins, treasurer of the national organization and head of the office here, admits the USPS isn't admitting women but won't discuss the situation.

"I am not in a position to discuss it," Collins says. "We do not discuss any information about this matter. The difficulty is that we get misquoted."

But a spokesman for the Civil Rights division says the USPS is expected to appeal the decision through the court system and until that time they do not have to admit women.

Mrs. Hilden says she has taken the courses offered by the Squadrons which are open to both men and women.

"We use our boat all summer," says Mrs. Hilden.

"What would happen if my husband was out deep-sea fishing and he broke his leg? I know what to do because I have taken courses."

During the 1971 hearings into the alleged discrimination, officials of the USPS testified that membership in the organization is obtained by taking elementary boat piloting courses offered free to the public and generally given at public schools. The course is even taught by some women.

However, at the completion of the courses, men are invited to join the organization while woman are given "women's certificates of qualification." This does not give women the membership privileges given men.

The division says it can order the organization to open its ranks because its national office is based in New Jersey and it is considered discrimination in a public accommodation.

The USPS was also ordered by the Civil Rights division to offer membership to any woman who has already completed the membership prerequisites and pay a $500 settlement to Mrs. Hilden for "mental pain and humiliation suffered by discrimination."

The division also ordered the USPS to include a statement in its advertising that membership is open to all individuals regardless of sex or race.

Mrs. Hilden says the settlement money will go toward setting up boating courses for girls.

Mrs. Hilden says she has received dozens of letters supporting her case from other women as well as some distasteful mail from USPS members. Nothing, she says, has been printed in the USPS official magazine, "The Ensign" about her case. Her husband, a USPS member, gets the publication.

"Of course, I want to join the Squadrons," Mrs. Hilden says. "When you're in a boat and something goes wrong, you can't pull into a gas station like you can in a car."

In the three years since she filed her suit, Mrs. Hilden has returned to Rutgers University as an undergraduate, hoping to become a lawyer.

"I went back to school directly as a result of my case," she says. "I felt growing prejudice against women and I couldn't understand why the Squadrons didn't want women."

Can Join Poll

Parents of children who will enter kindergarten in the Mill Valley School District next fall can participate in polling to decide if one or two schools will adopt an all-year program in 1974-75, by going to local schools to fill out a questionnaire, according to Supt. Peter Palches.

Released FBI Documents Detail Hoover's Push Against Militants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In secret documents made public after a law suit, the FBI has revealed that the late J. Edgar Hoover ordered domestic counter-intelligence programs against a variety of militant black and "New Left" organizations in the late 1960s and early 1970s.

The documents showed the programs were designed to keep black nationalist groups, including the Black Panther Party, from forming an effective revolutionary force and used tactics including false documents and agents provocateurs to neutralize other groups, including white supremacists and leftists.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, who released the documents after NBC reporter Carl Stern won the right to see them in a lawsuit under the 1967 Freedom of Information Act, denied that the FBI has any ongoing counter-intelligence programs against domestic groups.

The FBI declined to discuss the matter, but the 1973 FBI annual report contained references to a threat by black pan-Africanist groups to national security.

"There are no documents of this nature except such documents as may authorize recent or ongoing activity oriented against intelligence or like efforts by foreign powers, generally similar to the 'espionage' matterial classified secret...," Saxbe said in a letter dated March 6.

Petaluma's Expert In Crime Gives Tips

CRIME prevention specialist, Gloria Bragg of San Anselmo heads a new program in Petaluma that is designed to stop the rising tide of home and commercial burglaries. Mrs. Bragg gives talks and demonstrations to civic and neighborhood groups on how individuals can help deter the would-be burglar.

By KAREN PETERSON

Last week Gloria Bragg met with 11 women from one Petaluma neighborhood over a congenial cup of coffee. The topic of conversation centered on burglary and how these women, who had all been victims of break-ins, could help stem the drastic rise in Petaluma residential crime.

Two years ago the City of Petaluma decided to do something about the rising crime rate, which last year caused a loss of $110,000 in property from 242 homes and 136 businesses.

In December, after receiving a grant from the Office of Criminal Justice Planning, the city hired Mrs. Bragg of San Anselmo as its crime prevention specialist.

Through meetings with civic and residential groups, Mrs. Bragg gives Petalumans practical advice on how to deter the would-be burglar, discusses two of the city's programs on crime prevention, and acts as a liaison between the police department and the community.

A graduate in social work from the Valparaiso University in Indiana, Mrs. Bragg has worked as a juvenile probation officer in Las Vegas and was a welfare caseworker in Pennsylvania and Arizona.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD meeting program, Home Alert, will be held once a month.

"There will be more response if I show results. I'll go back to the neighborhood and report if they have caught the burglar," she said. She will also take reports back to the police department if she gets input from the community that there has been any problems with police response or attitude.

Motioning to a detailed map of Petaluma in her office, Mrs. Bragg pointed to a pin marking the neighborhood coffee held last week. "There are 274 blocks in Petaluma," she said, "My goal is to have a pin on every block."

Home Alert is a way of educating the people, she said, and a way of getting the residents together so that they know each other's habits, which youths belong in the neighborhood and who is gone all day.

Operation Identification is another Petaluma crime prevention program now in its second year. By using an engraving tool to mark valuables with the owner's driver's license, Mrs. Bragg believes burglars will find it hard to sell stolen property.

The program is nation-wide and has worked well in other cities, she said. It was started in 1962 in Monterey Park and tested on two areas of town both with populations of 1,400. A year later results showed that four homes in the marked area had been burglarized and 1,200 in the unmarked area had been robbed.

WHEN A WOULD BE burglar sees the Operation Identification decal that is placed on the front window, she said, he's going to say "I won't be able to sell it so why take a chance having them link it to me." Some insurance companies, she added, are offering lower rates to their customerrs using the engraving program.

In her talks, Mrs. Bragg demonstrates the basic locking devices that will deter easy entry into a home. She also cautions people to remember the back doors and sliding doors. Sliding doors are the most vulnerable, she said, and should have a tight-fitting dowel or yard stick between the door and the wall. Chain locks, she added, are not fool-proof because they can be easily broken with one hard push on the door.

MRS. BRAGG urges people to use common sense as a deterent against burglary. Many women, she said, invite theft by leaving the house with the garage door open. All they have to do is back into the driveway and carry your things out to their car, she warned.

Other suggestions by Mrs. Bragg included:

Turning the telephone down when on vacation so that people outside cannot hear its ring.

Restraining from broadcasting a trip even in a coffee shop.

Giving parking attendants and even car repair shops the car key only, not a whole set of keys.

Having a barking dog.

Installing a door viewer, especially for the woman living alone, and also having one low enough for children to look out.

Know who belongs in the neighborhood and watching for suspicious workmen, delivery men and anyone coming to the house asking for someone else.

Seventy-five per cent of all burglaries are committed by youths under 18, said Mrs. Bragg. For this reason, she is hopeful that the crime prevention program can start working with Petaluma youths to prevent juvenile delinquency. This she said, would include going to the schools for discussions and sponsoring community youth projects.

"There are an awful lot of kids here in Petaluma," she said. "The Girls Club, for instance, has over 850 girls between the ages of 8 and 14, and no place to meet." The Boys Club basketball season, she added, drew 800 boys.

The problem of having a place to go is most acute for the 14-18-year-old segment, said Mrs. Bragg. "Vandalism has really gotten heavy in town," she said, and more than drugs, alcohol problems are rising among teen-agers.

A MARIN CENTER

Attack Victims Can Obtain Help

By BARBARA HOSMER

The Marin Rape Crisis Center has opened a 24-hour telephone service for rape victims in Marin County.

Nancy Behel of the center recently outlined the services offered:

Talking with the woman to help her deal with her feelings;

Telling her she needs medical attention and accompanying her to the hospital or doctor's office, if she wants companionship;

Encouraging her to report the crime to the police and offering to go with her to assist;

Offering a list of sympathetic gynecologists to which a rape victim can go.

The center also is compiling a list of sympathetic therapists for use by rape victim callers who are interested, Miss Behel said. The center's telephone number is 924-2100.

"Also, we will go through the whole legal process with a woman," if she wishes that, she said. The center already has assisted in this way with a Marin woman who was raped in Santa Clara County, she said.

"We are not going to coerce a woman to go to the police if she doesn't want to. We're there for her needs," she explained.

"IF A call comes in, we talk to the woman to help her deal with her feelings and determine her emotional and physical condition. Later, if she wants long-term follow up, that's what our list of therapists will be for."

Most rapes are planned ahead by the rapist, and most occur in the woman's home, she said, adding that for 1971-72 the percentage of rapes in Marin increased more than any other county in California.

For the month of January, four rapes were reported in Marin County to police departments and the sheriff's department.

Rape is the fastest rising violent crime in America, she pointed out.

The center will serve local women who have been raped outside Marin, and cooperate with other counties' rape crisis centers. Often, Miss Behel said, a rape victim will have strain afterward in a relationship with her husband or boyfriend. The therapist referral list may help those who want help. Others, she said, may have very supportive families or husbands and not need help.

Because the crisis telephone has only been operating since March 1 and the center had assisted only four rape victims prior to that, she could not assess the reaction of police departments or hospitals to the center's service yet.

"If anyone underage calls, we will explain that we can't handle it without reporting the incident to the police," she said.

As for child molesting complaint calls, she said that the center doesn't foresee many but if a parent called for resources such as the doctor or therapist list, the center women would be as supportive as they could.

THE COUNSELORS staffing the crisis center telephone around the clock include Nancy, Ramina Eremian, Diane Ray, Jan Robbins, Rose Carrera, Elyse Mittelstedt, Linda Ginsberg, Suzanne Irwin and Jean MacKellar. All are volunteers and have had crisis intervention training.

The center has had great supporting interest from the county Police Community Relations Commission, has been contacting the chiefs of police in Marin, and members have spoken at some of the Marin high schools, Miss Behel said.

Public education about rape is vital, she stressed.

"We want to get rid of fallacies people have that the only women who get raped are the hitchhikers and those out at 2 in the morning. We can urge women to be aware, educate women in self-defense — but being careful is the main thing."

She added that it bothers her whenever authorities imply that women should stay home to be safe, because women have lives to lead outside the home. She said that the center committee does not believe that hitchhiking is safe, but the attitude of part of the community that women should stay home and that they "deserve to be raped" because they are hitchhiking is a "gross way of controlling women."

Most rapes do occur in women's own homes, she stressed, and women must be careful whom they let in the door She cautioned that when anyone comes to a woman's home and she opens the door, no matter the reason — he may say he's only delivering a package — and she is raped, it is almost impossible to get a conviction under current law. So women must be made aware, she said.

Currently under the auspices of the Marin Women's Center, the Marin Rape Crisis Center hopes to get funding in the future.

Big Business Would Like More Women With Advanced Degrees

CHICAGO (AP) — Big business wishes there were more women holding master's degrees in business administration, one expert says.

There are many well-educated women in the professional fields, said Robert E. Palenchar, vice president of personnel and public relations for Esmark, Inc.

"Except," he added, "in business and financial services. There is, indeed, a dearth of women holding master's degrees in business administration and there is a tremendous need for qualified applicants in the field."

PALENCHAR SAYS this is largely due to the fact that women have not sought degrees in business administration. The financial services industry, once considered a male bailiwick, is now urging women to prepare to work in the field.

Palenchar concedes that it is not the easiest career in the world.

"But," he says, "it offers challenge, monetary reward and executive status to the woman who dares to chart the unknown. The first step is a master's degree in business administration."

In 1973, 4.5 per cent of all master of business administration degrees awarded went to women. In so-called women's fields of education or home economics, Palenchar says women received half and 90 per cent of all degrees awarded, respectively.

"THERE JUST aren't enough women training themselves for the highly important financial province," he added. "And not enough is being done by college and university counseling staffs to encourage women to pursue these careers."

Palenchar says the financial world, in turn, must not discriminate against female MBA holders on the basis of their sex.

"Industry needs these business administration graduates and must be prepared to offer them not only the same jobs as men, but also comparable salaries for comparable education, experience and positions held."

ON THE AGENDA

"Women Of All Ages" Will Be Topic Of Petaluma AAUW Meeting

Members of the Petaluma Branch, American Association of University Women, will present a program, "Women of All Ages," Tuesday at the Five Corners Community Center in Petaluma.

A business meeting of the branch at 8 p.m. will precede the 9 p.m. program. Directors of the program are Mmes. Ann Preston and Colleen Richardson. Narrator for the readings will be Mrs. Barbara McGloin, and singing portions will be done by Mrs. Kitty Hayes.

The program, compiled by Mrs. Jane Longo of the Goleta Valley Branch AAUW, will be divided into four sections with pieces of literature from all ages telling of the struggles of women throughout history.

Petaluma branch members participating will be Mmes. Ruth Clary, Margaret Smith, Juanita Simpkins, Cathy Giovando, Marilyn Maslin, Joanne Longaker, Patricia Zivot, Betty St. Peter, Donna Sanderson and Richardson.

The four sections are "The Traditional Image of Women," "Women Begin To Challenge This Image," "Woman Cries Out For Another Image" and "Emerging Woman's Image."

ALBERT WILSON, television personality, will speak at the Marin Country Club Garden Club meeting at 1 p.m. Monday at the country club in Novato.

Wilson's topic will be "How Does Your Garden Grow." He was a consultant at Stanford University from 1927 to 1934, according to Mrs. Arthur Lindauer, publicity chairman for the garden club.

MRS. MARY Pasqual of Santa Clara, grand first vice president of the Young Ladies' Institute, will make an official visit to Lagan Institute 52, Young Ladies Institute, Tuesday at the institute's meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael.

A SUFI Choir public concert will be held tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere to benefit the St. Stephen's Women's Guild.

The choir, a religious group who study spiritual development with Jewish, Christian and Hindu roots, has 14 singers and seven musicians and dancers from Marin County whose music blends jazz, folk, rock and roll, baroque and Renaissance choral music with traditional Indian music and dance.

Tickets will be available prior to the performance at the church and at the door, according to Mrs. W. Reynolds Kirk, who is assisted by Mmes. Lewis Saracy and Patience Laydet.

THE NOVA Marin Grandmothers Club will meet at noon Wednesday at the Novato Community House. Hostesses will be Mmes. Robert Hood, Denver Wilson and Marie Gracey.

Members will decide on a date for the dedication of a statue, which they have donated to the Novato Branch Library, according to Mrs. Charles Freeman.

Three new members have joined the organization. They are Mmes. Arthur J. Pidan, Edwin L. Olsen and Joseph Baczynki.

Sarah Cope's Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. Caleb Cope of Mill Valley, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Catherine Cope, to Walter G. Jolley of San Anselmo.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha S. Jolley of Grand Rapids, Mich., and the late Walter Jolley.

The bride-elect attended Dominican Lower School, the International School of Geneva, Switzerland, and was graduated from San Domenico School. She attended Mills College in Oakland, and is now studying at Dominican College in San Rafael. Her two sisters are Mrs. Alexander Igor Makovkin of Mendovino and Marion Elizabeth Cope of Swarthmore, Pa.

Jolley is a graduate of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, Mich. He has one sister, Mrs. Charles Castle of Syracuse, N.Y. He is senior vice president of Honig-Cooper and Harrington Advertising Agency in San Francisco.

Plans are being made for an early summer wedding at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

Consumers Given Tips On TV Sets

Be careful with the television set at home, suggests the California Department of Consumer Affairs.

Never place the set on an unstable cart or stand, nor cover the ventilation areas of the set with cloth covers, books or magazines. Excess heat can cause overheating of the set.

The department information office, Dorothy Walt, also warns that television sets should not be placed on beds, sofas or rugs for the same reason.

Exposing the set to any moisture can cause hazard of potential shock or fire. If liquid is spilled on a set, unplug the cord immediately and have the set checked before use.

Do not place television sets in built-in wall enclosures or on shelves unless proper ventilation is allowed, and keep the set away from heat registers and and radiators.

Be sure, too, that objects are never dropped or pushed through the ventilation slots of the television. They may touch voltage points or cause set failure.

Always turn off the set before cleaning the face of the tube.

Remember that overloaded electric outlets, frayed cords, broken plugs and overloaded extension cords are dangerous.

Special Film On Children; A Marin Cast

The film, "Children Who Read Scrambled," prepared by the DeWitt Reading Clinic of San Rafael with an all-Marin cast will be shown on the Open Studio program of KQED at 6 p.m. Thursday.

The all-Marin cast includes Barbara Nelson of Sausalito, the moderator; John D. Cressey, director of the reading clinic; Richard Ashcroft, clinic therapy director; Shirley Lindley, clinic therapist; Richard Halliday, 10, of Mill Valley, who portrays a child with reading and learning problems; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Halliday.

The film points out that two million children in the United States have learning disabilities, which are often perceptual problems which can be helped by testing and therapy.

Students at the DeWitt Clinic assisted with the animation for the 30 minute production.

NEW COLUMNIST TO BEGIN MONDAY

Consumer columnist Josephine Ripley has retired from writing the "Money Matters" column for the Christian Science Monitor News Service.

The column, which appears on Mondays in the Independent-Journal Women's Section, will be continued by consumer affairs writer Robert Edwards, beginning on Monday.

Conference Set In Marin

San Rafael Toastmistress Club 1321 will host the Sierra Nevada Region Council 3 of Toastmistress Clubs for a regional meeting March 16 at the Holiday Inn in Terra Linda.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., and the speech contest will follow, and six clubs from the council covering San Rafael, Petaluma, Napa and Vallejo will compete.

Contest winner will go on to compete in the regional contest in Sacramento in June. Regional winner will compete in the International Toastmistress Clubs national speech contest to be held July 15 in Hawaii.

Mrs. Matie Granlee of San Rafael is reservations chairman for the 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the Holiday Inn.

Betty Blumenfeld of the Marin club will be chairman for the council speech contest.

Vows Said By Couple In Chicago

Judith Becker of San Francisco and Vince Gramalia of San Rafael were married at Martin Luther Church in Chicago, Ill., on March 2.

Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker of Chicago, and Vince is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vince Gramaglia of San Lorenzo.

The bride chose Rhetta Minnis of San Antonio, Tex., as her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Becker and Mrs. Thomas Becker of Chicago.

Best man for the bridegroom was George Gramalia of San Lorenzo, the bridegroom's brother, and ushers were Thomas and Robert Becker of Chicago, the bride's brothers.

Following a reception at the Marriott Hotel in Chicago, the couple left on a wedding trip to Acapulco. They will live in San Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Taft High School in Chicago and attended Loyola University in Chicago. She is employed at Larry Smith and Co., Inc., in San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from Arroyo High School and attended Chabot Community College in Hayward. He is also the brother of Carolyn Gramaglia of San Lorenzo, Joe Gramaglia of Pleasanton, and Mrs. Lester Rude of Union City and the grandson of Mrs. Grace Errico of New York. He is employed as a real estate salesman at Gordon Walker Realtor in Novato.

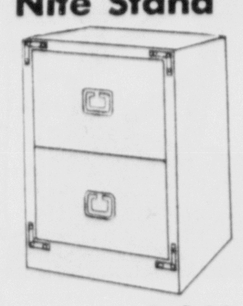

Tips On Purchase Of Nose Drops

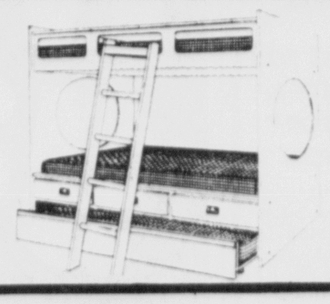

When buying nose drops check the label to make sure they are saline or water-based solutions, advises Dr. Alan E. Nourse in his new book, "Family Medical Guide."

Oil based nose drops should be avoided, Dr. Nourse said, because of the danger that some of the oil may trickle down into the air pockets of the lungs where there is no way for it to be absorbed and may result in a so-called oil pneumonia.

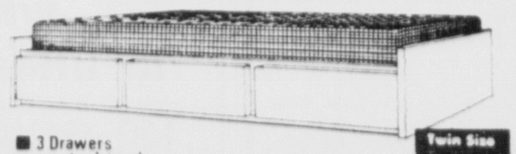

"Best and safest are nose drops in a weak saline solution containing neo-synephrine . . . or ephedrine — adrenaline-like medicines capable of shrinking the congested capillaries in the nasal mucosa," he said.

Husband's Smoking Is Ruining Their Marriage, Wife Claims

DEAR HELEN:
Cigarette smoking is ruining my marriage.

I quit smoking when I learned how dangerous the habit is. My husband continues — and I become more hostile to him every day because:

He's hurting himself. Besides, three or four packs a day are injurious to the wallet.

His breath, hair and clothes smell awful.

He burns holes all over the place.

The children inhale his clouds of smoke —and it certainly isn't teaching them that it is foolish to risk your health this way.

I am a singer, and I feel the smoky house is harmful to my voice.

I've turned off my husband, and he says I am a cold fish. It's really a vicious circle, as I wouldn't be cold if he didn't smoke, and he claims he smokes because he needs a substitute for sex which I refuse him. (He says he'd need sex three times a night if he quit, so "I should consider myself lucky that he doesn't.") We have separate bedrooms.

I'm considering divorce but doubt if I could manage alone financially, and I'd never marry again.

Should I keep nagging, or just keep my distance? — TURNED OFF

DEAR T.O.:
Honest now, is tobacco the real problem here, or is it just a handy smoke screen to cover a lot of failures?

The vicious circle you mention seems more like a run-around. Perhaps you're both using cigarette-abuse as an excuse to avoid intimacy.

Isn't it possible your husband smokes himself out of your bed for the same reason you nag yourself out of his — because you've fallen out of love? At this point, if he quit cold, I doubt that either of you would warm up.

Why not take a long hard look at your marriage to see if it's worth saving? If there's still a spark, the tobacco thing can be compromised, with a lot of will on his part, and a lot of wiles on yours. — H.

DEAR HELEN:
Please comment on this: Should a salesman eat out in the store where customers can see him? Should he come up to help you, with food all over his teeth, along with the odor of onions and hamburger on his breath? —T.K.

DEAR T.:
No!! — H.

P.S. . .Unless he's the store's only salesman and you came in on his lunch break.

DEAR HELEN:
You told the 12-year-old "Hopeless" she could get a legal abortion if she didn't want to go through with her pregnancy.

You should have told her about Birthright, whose volunteer workers and counselors want to save lives. They will help any pregnant girl or woman who has problems of any kind, directing her to the right agency, seeing her through delivery and possible adoption — even rounding up used baby furniture or maternity clothes. They will not urge her to get an abortion.

Birthright charges no fee at all, although there might be some legal and medical services it secures for the woman, based on her ability to pay. Centers are all over the United States and their numbers are in the phone book. — AGAINST KILLING

Trading On The Stock Exchange Is Her Business, Not Her Cause

By GEORGETTE WAGNER

CHICAGO (UPI) — The first woman to trade on the floor of the Midwest Stock Exchange and invade a 91-year-old men-only bastion says she is there "to do business," not to further the cause of women's liberation.

"I don't mind sticking my neck out for a cause. But if I played woman's libber, I'd be out of business," L. Kim Brown said.

"I'm here to do business. Use your foxiness. Use your brain. There are certain times your feminity can help."

The 22-year-old representative of Kenneth J. Brown and Co., Muncie, Ind., she's Kenneth Brown's daughter, was the third woman admitted to membership on the exchange, but on Jan. 14 became the first woman to actually trade on the exchange floor.

MISS BROWN, standing in front of her exchange cubicle, told how she's been received in a men's world. Trading was over for the day and the cavernous hall was emptying out. Several brokers stopped by to chat and joke.

"Everyone's really great. It's like a fraternity or a football team.

"I think most of them were happy I had this opportunity, but I think they wonder if I'll use this to the fullest advantage.

"Some kind of expect me to fail," she said.

"I have not been concerned with woman's liberation," Miss Brown said.

THE ATTENTION her membership in the exchange has received prompted her to delve into the issue and articulate her viewpoint. She said it was somewhere "in the middle of the road."

"I think a lot of women in women's liberation are trying to take it without earning it. They won't have the respect of the people they're working with," she said.

L. KIM BROWN, 21, is the first woman to trade on the floor of the Midwest Stock Exchange. She says she is not there to further the cause of woman's liberation but to do business. She represents Kenneth J. Brown and Co., of Muncie, Ind., a business owned by her father. (UPI Telephoto)

"When you look back in time, women haven't been out long. If you're good at what you're doing, this will come out in the wash."

But the Indiana native said she personally felt hemmed in by her hometown where "if you weren't going steady or engaged, you were out of it socially."

About two years ago she came to Chicago. "I started waking up to the fact there was more to life than a little house and babies. And then I found taking care of myself wasn't that hard."

MISS BROWN more or less grew up in the stock brokerage business and has worked in the field at least during school vacations since she was 15. When her father needed a floor broker on the exchange, he chose his daughter.

"I was a logical choice, keeping the exchange membership in the family. Someday the business may be mine."

She said she originally chose her career because "someday if I was needed, I would be able to take over if necessary."

To Enter Race

The Auxiliary of St. Vincent's School for Boys will enter a snake in the annual St. Patrick's Day snake race to be held March 14 at noon in Crown Zellerbach Plaza, San Francisco. The race, sponsored by radio station KABL, awards funds to the charitable organization with snakes winning first, second or third prizes.

Playwright Will Be Among Jorie's Guests

A playwright, an actor and a feather merchant will be the guests on Jorie Talks, the KTIM radio program at 9:30 a.m. daily next week.

Playwright Jon Palmer of the "Trial of James McNeil Whistler", playing at the On Broadway in San Francisco, and actor James Doohan will be featured next Thursday and Friday.

Known for his portrayal of Scotty in "Star Trek" on television, Doohan plays a leading role in "Whistler," now in its fourth month.

Bernadette Ahern of Sausalito will be interviewed by host Jorie Parr on Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Ahern sells feathers to the film industry and to individual craftsmen.

"Sleeper" and other movies playing in Marin will be reviewed by Leonard C. Schwarz of Mill Valley, filmmaker and author, on the Monday program.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD F. FITZHUGH
Making home in Sonoma

Vows Are Exchanged In A Garden Setting

Richard Franklyn FitzHugh of Ross claimed Renee Chevraux of Antioch as his bride Sunday in a wedding in the garden of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter FitzHugh, in Ross.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chevraux of Antioch.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Charles Smith of Roseberg, Ore., and the bridegroom's brother, Phillip Keith FitzHugh of Glenn Ellen, served as best man.

Following a reception in the garden, the couple left on a wedding trip to the FitzHughs' ranch in Red Bluff.

Renee is a graduate of Pittsburg (Calif.) High School and Sonoma State College.

The bridegroom was graduated from Redwood High School and Sonoma State College. He is employed by the City of Cotati. He is the grandson of Mrs. E. M. FitzHugh of Putney, England, and Mrs. Rebecca Thomas of Forest Hills, Long Island, N.Y.

The newlyweds are living in Sonoma.

ON BEING BLACK

Black Man Is Longest Living Heart Transplant Recipient

By SANDRA HAGGERTY
Distributed by Los Angeles Times Syndicate

SALT LAKE CITY — In my recent poll of black attitudes toward heart transplants, the remark most often echoed was, "How come the transplants are always from black to white?"

Letters and phone calls from across the country have informed me that not all heart transplants have been from black to white. Louis Russell, a black man, is today the longest living heart transplant patient.

Louis, married, the father of four children (ages 14 to 27) and one granddaughter, is an industrial arts teacher at Indianapolis Public School No. 69. He leads a normal life.

"If my car gets stuck in the snow and I can move it, I push it out," he said.

ON AUG. 24, 1968, Russell became the world's 34th heart recipient. His new heart came from a black 17-year-old gunshot victim. During the first year he suffered four episodes of body rejection of the new tissue. He still takes regular medication to kep him from rejecting, but it appears his new heart has accepted its place in the sun.

Although 101 heart transplants were performed in 1968, the number has declined each year for a number of reasons. The majority of the recipients died; the operation and post-operative care are extremely expensive; a significant number of patients have suffered psychological effects after receiving new hearts; according to a 1970 study by the University of Colorado, cancer rates run abnormally high among transplant patients; there have been legal problems with regard to donors; all doctors are not totally satisfied with the results of those transplants performed so far.

As of last November, there were 36 surviving heart transplant patients, 27 of them patients of Stanford's Dr. Norman Schumway and team.

When asked if he would donate his new heart for transplant at his death, Louis Russell readily said, "Yes, but I don't think they'd transplant this heart again. It will probably go for research. It would help more people if doctors could examine it and learn from it."

MOST HEART donors have come from middle and low-income families, of which large numbers are blacks. Many blacks are also heart transplant recipients.

"Black people particularly should be gratified about medical progress in this area. We are the major sufferers of high blood pressure, which is related to heart disease," Russell said.

The psychological effects of being a heart recipient are often severely negative.

"Many patients killed themselves by constantly worrying — afraid to go to sleep for fear of never waking and afraid to lift a chair for fear of dropping dead on the spot. I don't worry. I lived yesterday, I live today and I've made plans for tomorrow. Martin Luther King Jr. said it very well, 'No man is free until he is free of the fear of death.' I don't worry about dying," he said.

For Better Fit

Homemade clothes should fit comfortably and one way to insure this is to try moving around in them before they are finished.

JOHN CALZADILLA
Released unharmed

Boy Freed As $50,000 Ransom Paid

DIX HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — The 8-year-old son of a well-todo Cuban immigrant was released dazed but otherwise unharmed by kidnapers early today, 2 ½ hours after the child's father paid $50,000 in ransom, the FBI said.

The boy, John Calzadilla, was abducted Wednesday by three persons as he walked home from school in this New York suburb. He was released in New Jersey shortly after 1 a.m. today. The kidnapers escaped with the money.

The boy's father, Michael Calzadilla, 38, put the money in a bag as instructed by the kidnapers and tossed it from his car just outside the Lincoln Tunnel, which runs underneath the Hudson River between New York and New Jersey.

The child was released from a dark-colored sedan at a service area in Secaucus, N.J., about 43 miles from his home on the north shore of Long Island. Authorities said the boy appeared to be dazed, after having apparently been drugged, but was otherwise unharmed.

Eugene Kelley, police commissioner of Sulfolk County, N.Y., where the Calzadillas live, said the boy told police his abductors put "a white cloth around his mouth and nose that made him sleep."

Calzdilla and his son were taken to the FBI's offices in New York City and then flown home by helicopter.

Kelley said the boy's family raised the ransom "through a number of loans and advances." The police commissioner would not say how much ransom was paid.

The kidnapers made six telephone calls to the Calzadilla family Thursday night, giving instructions on how to deliver the money.

Today is Friday, March 3, the 67th day of 1974 with 298 to follow.

The moon is in its full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., was born March 8, 1841.

On this day in history:

In 1884, New York became the first state to pass a law requiring dogs to be licensed.

In 1917, strikes and riots in St. Petersburg marked the start of the Russian Bolshevik Revolution.

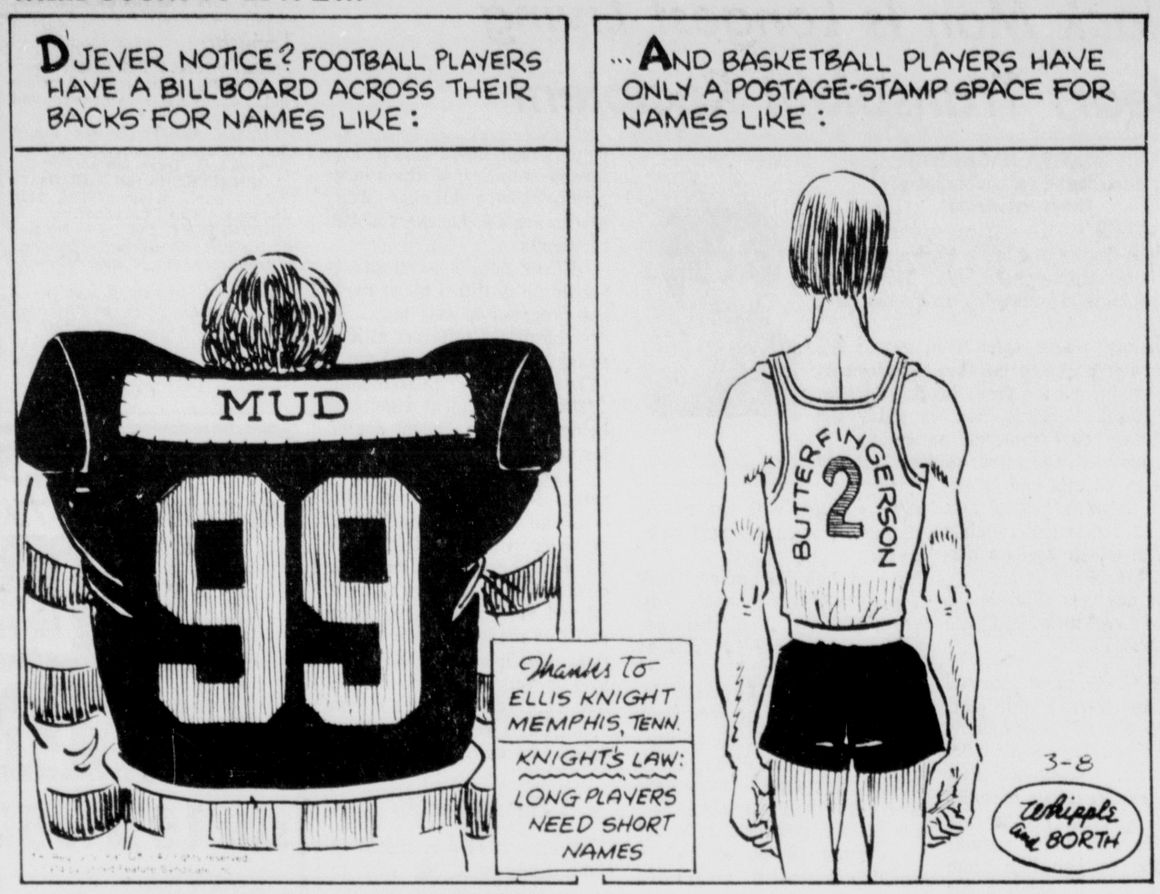

In 1944, French authorities adopted an ordinance giving French Moslems in Algeria the same rights as French non-Moslems.

In 1962, the U.S. House of Representatives defeated a bill which would have increased its membership from 435 to 438.

A thought for the day: Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "Taxes are what we pay for civilized society."

LOW DIAMOND

West opened the five of diamonds, and East won with the ace. East returned the six of diamonds, and South hurriedly put up the king.

This was a fatal error. West ruffed, and East later defeated the contract with the king of spades and another diamond trick.

'HORRIBLE LUCK'

"What horrible luck." South complained. Everybody agreed with him, and then everybody congratulated West on his opening lead.

This was all very comforting, but luck had nothing to do with the case. South had tossed game and rubber out of the window.

REVEALING CARD

Take a good look at East's lead at the second trick — the six of diamonds, a very revealing card. Now put yourself in South's place and think about the diamonds.

What was the nature of West's opening lead of the five of diamonds? Could it be a fourth-best lead? The only higher cards missing are the queen and seven. If West had led the five from Q-7-5, South's play at the second trick didn't matter.

SHORT SUIT?

The only other possibility is that West had led a short suit. If West had led from the doubleton 5-4, South could make an overtrick by finessing instead of playing the king of diamonds. And if West had opened a singleton, it was essential to play low rather than let the king be ruffed away.

Yesterday's Answer

Symphony Will Play Tomorrow

Although a strike by municipal employees has forced the San Francisco Symphony to cancel at least one performance in San Francisco, a symphony spokesman today said the group will give its scheduled concert tomorrow in Marin.

The symphony will perform the third concert of its Marin series at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Buildings.

The symphony spokesman said a concert was canceled yesterday afternoon because the strike has closed the Opera House where the event was scheduled. She said other concerts planned in San Francisco would be evaluated on a daily basis until the strike is settled.

The Marin performance will be conducted by Lawrence Foster, music director of the Houston Symphony. Stuart Canin, concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony, will be featured soloist in Stravinsky's Violin Concerto.

Other works on the program are Mozart's Symphony No. 26, Prokofieff's Symphony No. 5 and Ives' Decoration Day.

Whistlestop Gets Fund For Buses

Whistlestop Wheels got a $12,500 shot of energy today with the announcement that the California Office On Aging had given that amount to the Marin Senior Coordinating Council for continued operation of buses.

The council operates the buses which run regularly a scheduled route throughout the county to help those over 60 with their transportation problem. On request from a doctor, the project can provide door to door transportation for medical appointments of the elderly.

The council hopes to expand the service to take them from Marin County to hospitals outside the county, such as Letterman Hospital or the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The money came from the federal government under the Older Americans Act.

Final Concert Series Scheduled March 17

The final concert in a series of chamber music performances sponsored by the Mill Valley Art Commission will be held March 17 at 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

Music by Bach will be featured with performers including Walter Subke, flutist with the San Francisco Opera Orchestra, and his son, David Subke, flutist with the Oakland Symphony.

Big Haul From San Rafael Home

Jewelry valued at $4,400, a fur coat valued at $2,000 and $1,600 in cash was taken from his home between last Nov. 17 and March 1, Joe B. Smith of 41 Novato Street, San Rafael, reported yesterday to San Rafael police.

Smith said that possibly persons attending parties at his home had taken them, according to police.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teachers Association magazines and Parent's Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael City Library.

FAMILY

"Fantasia" — Feature length cartoon is an all-time classic. Nine musical tales imaginatively interpreted.

"Neptune Factor" — A rescue mission in locating an oceanographic laboratory that has fallen into an abyss during an earthquake is plot. Breathtaking underwater photography.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Bang the Drums Slowly" — A young baseball catcher is really not very talented. When his teammates discover he is dying of Hodgkins disease they join forces to help him. Cursing.

"Candidate" — Taut drama about an idealistic young lawyer who is corrupted by the political machine. Well acted.

"Day For Night" — Behind the scenes story of making a movie. Serio-comedy about the realities of creating illusions. In French with English titles.

"Hot Rock" — Hilarious experiences of four accident-prone thieves who steal a fabulous diamond from a museum. Crime pays in this one.

"Man on a Swing" — Story seems routine murder mystery until Joel Grey comes on the scene and claims to have ESP. Is he genuine? His acting is both sinister and charming. (Products Digest).

"Paper Chase" — Serio-comic story about the pressures in the lives of three freshman students at Harvard Law School. Well cast and acted, some sex scenes and profanity.

Seven-Up" — A special undercover police force tracking hoods who extort money from the mob, then throw blame on police. Much action and violence.

"Sleeper" — This sophisticated comedy combines science-fiction with satire and slapstick. The computerized world of 2173 provides Woody Allen with hilarious opportunities. Sexual references.

"Slither" — Off-beat comedy of four people wending their way through California in search of hidden loot. Mood shifts from Hitchcock to Mack Sennet. Profanity.

"Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams" — A well acted, serious drama about a woman on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Badge 373" — A bigoted New York policeman stalks Puerto Rican mobsters and gun-running revolutionaries. It is difficult to forgive defamatory characterization and incessant cursing, pandering to hatred and violence. Nudity, sex.

"Butterflies Are Free" — A blind boy strikes out for independence from a domineering mother by living alone in a swinging San Francisco neighborhood. His sexual encounters change his life.

"Cinderella Liberty" — Romantic comedy about a kindhearted sailor who falls in love with a bar-hustler who has a mulatto son. Their affair is a rocky one. Profanity and nudity.

"Executive Action" — A curiously antiseptic film based on the festering controversy of the assassination of John F. Kennedy, neglects to offer any coherent convincing proof of theory.

"Love and Pain and the Whole Damn Thing" — Unlikely romance between an aging, failing English spinster and a mixed-up frustrated boy 30 years her junior. Part drama, comedy and soap-opera set in Spain.

"Serpico" — Engrossing true story about an honest yet rebellious cop in New York who fought a one-man war against corruption in the police force. Vulgar language is constant, considerable violence, sex and nudity.

"The String" — A pair of cool 1930s con-men set out to ruin a powerful Chicago racketeer. Violence, cursing but entertaining for a mature audience.

"Touch of Class" — Sophisticated French bedroom farce. An expose of the difficulties inherent in an extra-marital affair. Frank sexual scenes and language.

"The Way We Were;; — Love story of an odd couple that begins in the 1930s and ends in the 1950s.

ADULTS ONLY

"Exorcist" — Movie offers no valid information about demonology. It sinks to a new low of sensationalism and creates appalling shock effects. Details are nauseating, crude and vulgar.

"Magnun Force" — Film of San Francisco policeman who sets himself up as judge, jury and executioner against suspected criminals. It panders to the basest instincts and should offend everyone. A new low in violence and obscenity.

Hamilton Group In War Exercise

A transport plane and 25 members from the 904th Tactical Airlift Wing, Air Force Reserve, Hamilton Air Force Base, recently participated in winter warfare exercises in Alaska.

The group's mission was to support artic-trained ground troops by transporting cargo to the mock combat zone.

A Sheet Metal Contest Is Set

Sheet metal apprentices of the six North Bay Counties will compete in sheet metal skills on March 30 at Acme Sheet Metal and Heating at 3 East Washington Street, Petaluma.

The contest will be judged by sheet metal journeymen, foremen and owners of sheet metal shops, and instructors and members of the joint apprenticeship program.

First, second, third and fourth year apprentices will compete in those classes. Apprentices from Marin, Sonoma, Solano, Napa, Lake and Mendocino are eligible.

Sufi Choir Will Sing In Belvedere

The Sufi Choir, a group of 14 singers and seven musicians and dancers from Marin County, will perform tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere in a concert sponsored by the church's women's guild.

The choir specializes in blending Western music with Indian and Middle Eastern music and dance. They have performed previously at outdoor festivals, colleges, churches and at San Francisco's Winterland.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Tortola Restaurant Has Come A Long Way In Three Months

Every restaurant opening I've ever known has been attended by problems and some downright headaches.

If it isn't the remodeling getting bogged down, it's the new equipment being late or the building inspectors not being satisfied or the board of health. Things seldom go as smoothly as planned and by the time they are all ironed out those smiles on the faces of the owners as they greet the first customers are either strained or they fleet on and off as if still not quite certain the restaurant is ready for business.

Consequently it's always a pleasure to find a new one getting into its stride in anything less than a year.

It has been a little short of three months with the new Tortola at Second and G streets, San Rafael, but somehow this place seems to have managed it. Of course, more time than that is needed to build up a full patronage but the Tortola has progressed a long way.

Credit can go directly to the experience of the Scarpulla family that owns it, in particular to young Fred Scarpulla, who did his first kitchen chores at 12 in the San Francisco restaurant of the same name. Although later he was exposed to opportunities in many other fields, he never had any doubt about it — he was going to be a restaurant man like his father. And he is happy about it and has moved to Marin.

If you are an eat-around-towner, it will be surprising if you don't find someone you know at the next table or a few tables away at Tortola — at least on weekends when traffic is heavy with the dinner trade. At lunch time, uptown San Rafael businessmen this time of year may huddle close to the nearest place they can find, but when the sun comes out a few are already venturing down to Second and G, and by warm weather they'll be walking in groups along Fourth or Fifth in that direction.

They should — for not all is Mexican or Spanish on Tortola's noonday fare. You'll find soups, salads, Reuben sandwiches, club house sandwiches, ham and cheese, corned beef, hamburgers, cheeseburgers, Joe's specials, avocado and mixed greens, low calorie specials and a few more favorites.

But the beauty of Spanish-Mexican food is that a single dish can be thoroughly satisfying either for lunch or dinner — like a tamale (Tortola has several varieties) or chile con carne. If you like the latter, you'll love Tortola's with its big chunks of succulent beef. The tamales there have been a family specialty as far back as 1889, I'm told, when Fred's great-grandfather opened a tamale factory in Oakland.

The Tortola menu is filled with other tempting specialty dishes — names like Fuera del Mundo, Plato d'Oro, Tostadas Guadalajara, Pancho Villa, Torte con Chile Verde y Queso — and others.

By all means, try the Tortola Margarita cocktail or the almost-as-popular rayo de sol, a short of Mexican version of our screwdriver.

You'll like the decor. The place is brighter and cheerier than it used to be, with the yellows and greens and reds so favored south of the border.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order this month for Raymond and Eugenie Coscarat, who are celebrating their 12th anniversary in business at Le Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Over the years they have built up a beautiful patronage and their reputation for good French and Basque food is well deserved.

Right now it should be with two good chefs — Pierre Giavina and Richard Kung. And we're pleased to see handsome Felix Almirantearena returned from Spain and back in the dining room again.

CONGRATULATIONS ALSO to Alfred Barthel on the first anniversary of his Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in Santa Rosa.

And if I am not mistaken, it was just a year ago that El Rebozo reopened after remodeling on Shoreline Highway, Mill Valley. El Rebozo now has the on sale general liquor license that used to be held by the Fireside Motel where the restaurant is located. The restaurant also operates the bar.

THE SHORTAGE OF GASOLINE has already had its effect on some restaurants in Marin — mainly those that have depended heavily on out-of-town patronage. In return they have gained back some additional local trade, and many close-in restaurants are doing better than ever. But restaurant food is still a good buy, with home-prepared food as high as it is.

Apropos of gasoline, I have just received a letter from former Marin chef Eric Benson who moved a year ago to Anchor Bay on the Mendocino coast to open a delicatessen. He tells me, for at least the present, there is no problem getting gasoline in that area — no long lines of waiting.

Eric celebrates his first anniversary in business there March 15 and has done very well, considering that many told him he didn't have a chance. If you should get up that way, you'll know where to go for some excellent (take-out) food. The name is Eric's Delicatessen.

WINE SALES are up higher than ever and more new wineries are coming into being all the time.

You'll find this particularly true in Sonoma County, where one of the newest to be announced is another by Souverain Cellars, which up to now has been limited to a single winery in the Napa Valley. The new one, Chateau Souverain, is located between Healdsburg and Geyserville and will be

TV Commercials In A Child's Area Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government should counter the barrage of television commercials aimed at children by ordering broadcasters to run public service messages telling kids how to become better buyers, Congress was told yesterday.

"The sophistication of commercials directed to children is great. A child's knowledge of costs, of quality, of competitive products is minimal," said Robert B. Choate, chairman of the Council on Children, Media and Merchandising.

Choate, whose attack on breakfast cereals pushed him into prominence, said in testimony submitted to a Senate Commerce subcommittee that any advertising directed at children "should be assumed an unfair business practice unless proven otherwise."

He said the subcommittee, which is reviewing the Federal Trade Commission's performance as a consumer protector, should consider the need for "compensatory education to permit the child to learn about the practices of the market place before he or she gets burned."

"Why cannot the FTC stimulate broadcasters so messages get on the air about being a prudent child in the market place? It will take FTC's help. We have tested broadcaster receptivity with educational public service announcements for children. The outlook is bleak," he said.

Another witness at the hearing, Judy Jackson of the Consumer Federation of America, said her organization has become "increasingly concerned" by recent statements from FTC Chairman Lewis A. Engman "which indicate to us something less than zeal in consumer protection."

DINING

opened early this spring. It will produce a separate and distinct line of varietals under the Chateau Souverain label and these will be marketed nationwide.

It should also be a good place to go for food, for in addition to its wine vats, tasting room and sales shop there will be a restaurant to be called Chez Bacchus. This will offer country cuisine with a French accent. Plans are to serve both luncheon and dinner and in warm weather to have al fresco dining on the terrace.

ENTERTAINMENT: The Lion's Share in San Anselmo features The Tubes and the Rick and Ruby Show tonight and tomorrow night. Soundhole and Crystal Pistol With Victoria are on next Wednesday . . .

The Boat House in Sausalito has dancing to Magic downstairs tonight through Sunday from 9:30; An Exchange in concert upstairs on Monday, and Butch Whacks and the Glass Pack Tuesday . . .

MacArthur's in San Anselmo, that now has dancing Thursday through Saturday evenings, is featuring Fandango tonight and tomorrow night and Chaos next Thursday.

David Frost Is A Loser Again

CHICAGO (UPI) — New York model Karen Graham was married today to millionaire industrialist Del Coleman, squelching reports she would marry British television personality David Frost.

Chicago Revenue Director Marshall Korshak said today the couple was married in his office with only Coleman's secretary, doctor and a few friends attending.

He said the couple immediately flew to New York.

Korshak said Coleman formerly lived in Chicago but is now a New York resident.

Two Famed Restaurants Lose A Star

PARIS (UPI) — The owner of the restaurant Allard leafed through the red Michelin guide book slowly. He kept saying, "It's not true, it's not true."

But it was true that the Michelin guide book demoted two Paris restaurants best known to tourists, La Perouse and Allard, from two stars to one star.

Among eating circles a fall from grace in the 1974 restaurant guide published by the Michelin tire company today is as serious as a politician's demise.

La Perouse, opened in 1768 on the Left Bank by the Seine River, dropped from three stars to two stars in the 1960s.

As to his demotion today to one star, owner Roger Topolinski said, "I'm like Henry Kissinger. No comment."

But at the more informal Allard restaurant the staff frankly was in an uproar over the demotion.

"It's a catastrophe," assistant chef Pierre Saucier called to cashier Anita Vlasnay. "We've lost a star."

CHOICE NOT CHANCE

Many restaurants offer you a daily special. At La Casa we don't for a very simple reason. Everything on our menu is a specialty. Whether your choice is one of our excellent casseroles, seafood dishes, tasty steaks or one of our many Italian pasta dishes you can't go wrong. Come see us soon. You'll be glad you did. INMATE'S NEW PURPOSE IN LIFE

'Dream' Go-Cart For Paraplegic

By MARY LEYDECKER

The dream began more than two years ago in the mind of a San Quentin convict when he wrote the flippant words, "I'll make you a go-cart and then you can go racing around your neighborhood."

After months and months of designing, begging parts, building and rebuilding, all amidst the frustration of being confined to prison, the dream is now a reality.

Shirley Kopetcky of St. Louis, Mo., a paraplegic whose only motion is in three fingers on one hand, now has her "go-cart" — a highly sophisticated transistorized bed which she can run herself.

And James Tanner, 29-year-old San Quentin inmate soon to be released on parole, has formed a relationship with Miss Kopetcky which he calls a "kind of love that is hard to describe."

Furthermore, the convict, who found himself in prison "because of my own mistakes," now has a new purpose in life and wants to make a career of building aids for handicapped people.

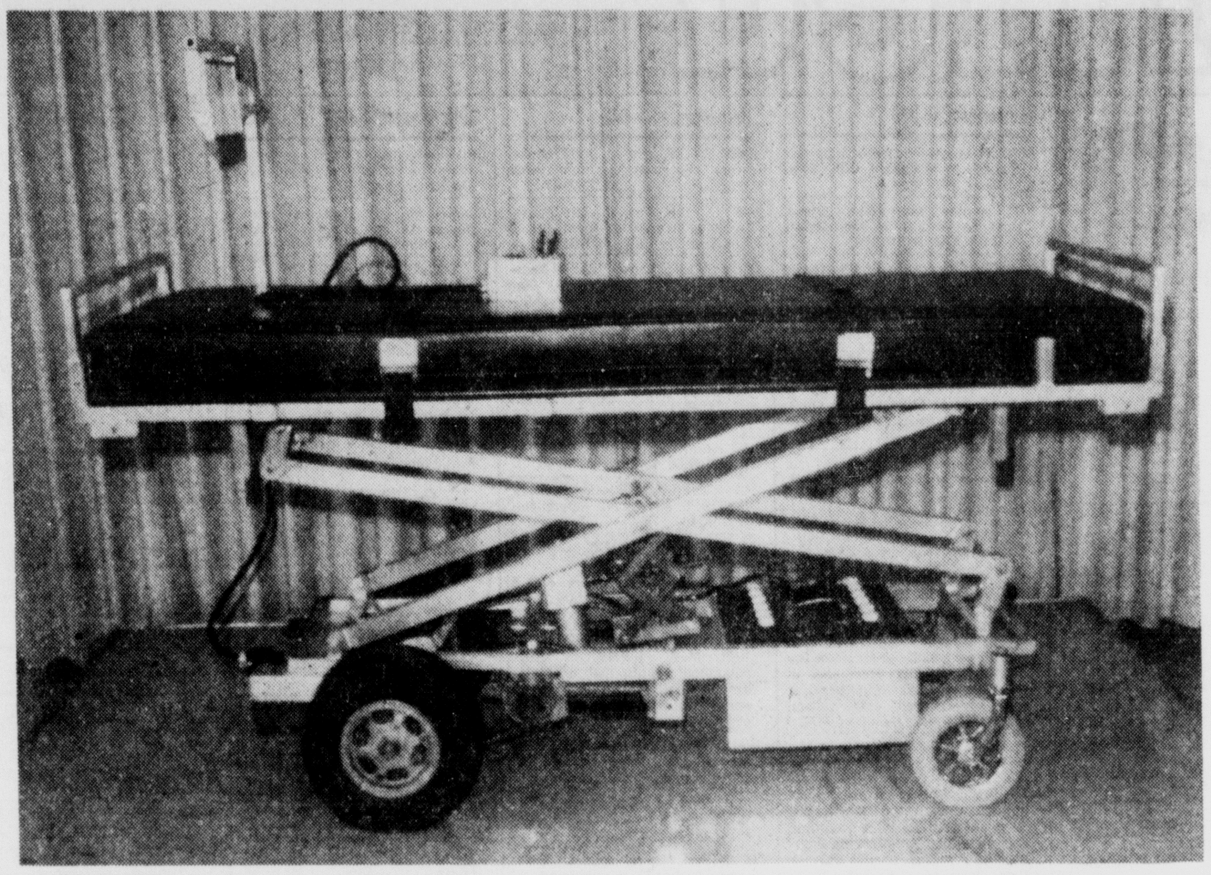

The story began when Tanner read a newspaper article describing how Miss Kopetcky, despite her severe paralysis, managed to do typing on a special typewriter as well as phoning jobs for a missionary group.

Tanner said he decided that Miss Kopetcky, who is 37 and has been a paraplegic since she had polio at 12, was "really a far-out person."

He wrote her a letter but did not expect an answer, he said. Nonetheless, about four months later, an answer arrived at the prison from Miss Kopetcky and a voluminous pen-pal relationship began.

Early in the exchange of letters, the invalid worte that, on a particular day, there were a number of go-carts racing around her neighborhood in St. Louis. Then Tanner jokingly replied that he would build her a go-cart.

The remark became a seed in Tanner's mind, and he began to dream of some sort of mobilized bed that the paraplegic could operate herself — giving her mobility in her home, out on the sidewalks and even for her to drive into a specially equipped station wagon for longer trips.

MOBILITY — A highly sophisticated transistorized bed, designed and made lovingly by a San Quentin convict for a St. Louis woman who has been a paraplegic since she was 12. In her new bed, Shirley Kopetcky, 37, can maneuver about her home and even take trips outside. The device is run with a control which she operates with three fingers — the only part of her body she can move.

Although Tanner's only experience with mechanics was his training as an office machines repairman, and though he "had never seen an electric drill" before coming to San Quentin, he began to try to design such a device.

In his cell, he worked feverishly for eight months, reading engineering manuals which at first he could not understand, finally coming up with a design he though would work.

"At first it was my idea to design it here and then get someone on the 'streets' to build the bed," Tanner said.

However, as his enthusiasm grew, he obtained the warden's permission to build the special bed in the sheet metal shop at the prison, where he was assigned.

Then came the problem of obtaining parts.

Tanner estimated the finished bed contains about $2,000 worth of parts — all of them donated. An agency called SCOPE, a group which helps exconvicts find jobs, helped by contacting various firms for donations.

Into the bed went a motor from an old bomber, wheels from a go-cart and a wheelchair, mirrors off a truck, seat belt from a car, a control from a model airplane and finally a special mattress made at San Quentin's upholstery shop.

All the while, the flurried exchange of letters between Missouri and California continued.

"I wanted to give her all the mobility I could," Tanner said. He didn't know how much strength Miss Kopetcky had in her three useful fingers so to measure it he sent her a rubber-band stretching exercise. Then he sent her a chart to mark in order to find out how far she can move her fingers.

At one point he asked the invalid's mother to take some measurements for him, but, the convict said with a grin, "they were outrageous — I knew they were wrong." (The polio victim lives with her mother and father, whom Tanner describes as "completely unmechanical" people.

Many times there were changes in the plans — finally the bed, though, was almost done. Then Tanner became worried that if the Kopetcky family got a new car it might be lower than their present station wagon.

So he went to work to design a jack which could lower the bed even further.

Finally a few weeks ago the bed was finished.

It goes backwards and forwards and left and right. It goes up and down. It can creep along or it can zoom at six miles an hour. It will haul Tanner, who weighs 210 pounds, up a 20 per cent incline, and it has portable collapsible ramps to drive down steps and into the station wagon.

All of the controls can be operated by Miss Kopetcky's three good fingers and she has mirrors to let her see where she is going.

Last week the bed was crated up at San Quentin, taken to the San Francisco Airport and flown to St. Louis through arrangements a priest made with an airline.

Tanner said his only regret was that "I couldn't see her when she first operated the bed."

He did, though, this week receive a message through Warden Louis S. Nelson that the bed had arrived and that his friend can run it.

Now he hopes he can go to St. Louis after he is paroled and give his invention a "fine tuning."

But for Tanner the experience has been much more than two years of creativity ending in a valuable gift to a friend. It has filled the three years he has served on a robbery conviction from Los Angeles County.

When he first read about Miss Kopetcky, he said he "thought about myself; how I had all my health and here I was in prison . . . and about her, and how she had her mind so together despite her handicap."

Now Tanner has a goal when he is released from prison soon — he wants to gain more skills so that he can work on even more inventions for the handicapped.

He also has a friend whom he says he loves with a special love — "not like a mother's for a child or man for a woman or a brother for a sister — but something unique."

ACCOMPLISHMENT — James Tanner, 29-year-old San Quentin convict due for parole this spring, speaks of his pride in designing and constructing a mobilized bed for a pen-pal who has been bedridden for 25 years.

Rappa Won't Take Seat On Council

Newly elected Sausalito City Councilman Leonard F. Rappa announced yesterday he will not take his council seat Tuesday, citing possible conflict of interest.

Rappa's qualifications to take office have been challenged by a group calling itself Sausalito Concerned Citizens, which is charging conflict of interest because Rappa, an attorney, presently has several law suits pending against the city.

"It is my opinion that no conflict exists because the claims submitted against the city already have been acted on by the council and referred to the insurance carrier for handling," Rappa said in a statement issued by his office. "But my opinion has no binding legal effect. Therefore it will be necessary for me to petition the California Supreme Court for a binding decision on this matter before I can assume my official duties on the council."

No information was available this morning on how long it generally takes the supreme court to handle such petitions. Rappa, who finished second in Tuesday's election to fill two council seats, is out of town on business, according to his secretary.

"Should the court find a conflict would result, I would not be able to accept the council seat," said his prepared statement. "As an attorney, my primary duty and responsibility is to protect the interests of my clients. If I am forced to choose between the interest of my clients and a seat on the council I will choose to continue to represent my clients and refuse to accept the council seat."

City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie and City Atty. Leland H. Jordan were conferring this morning on the legal implications of this development, whether the seat will remain vacant or filled temporarily in Rappa's absence.

Rappa and planning commissioner Violeta Autumn defeated seven other candidates, including incumbents Earl F. Dunphy and Stephen A. Fraser.

Streaking Makes Entry Into Marin

Now you see them, now you don't; it's just the blur of a nude form retreating on the dead run.

Streaking, the latest fad to hit college campuses, came to Marin County last night and again today.

First case of streaking was on Ross Common where a fund raising event drew approximately 500 persons to benefit the Louise A. Boyd Science Museum.

Suddenly, about 8:30 p.m. a youth of about college age appeared and tapped a woman on the shoulder. The unidentified woman turned around to see a college-age youth with a headband and tennis shoes on, and that was all.

Off he went through the startled crowd, disappearing out of sight running toward the post office and supposedly a waiting car, said Charles A. Bowman of 40 Woodside Way, Ross.

"It was funnier than hell and everyone seemed to take it in good humor," Bowman said.

About 8:30 this morning two streakers came out of the boys lavatory in the English hall at Terra Linda High School, according to the reports of several students.

One wore a yellow motorcycle helmet and the other, a ski cap, witnesses said.

They ran down the hall, past the counselor's office, past the cafeteria to the parking lot where there was a pickup truck waiting for them. A friend brought their clothes to them.

Principal Frank Stocking later in the morning said that he had not been able to find anyone who actually saw the boys, so did not know for sure whether it was rumor or not. He said that he had not given any thought to what, if any, disciplinary actions would be taken against the boys when their identity is known.

The Independent-Journal received several calls from students reporting the streaking, and several secretaries at the high school knew about it.

Council To Consider Consultant

The Fairfax Town Council will consider selection of a planning consultant when it meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Fairfax Women's Club.

City Clerk Eileen Foster said another meeting of the council, set for Monday, has been canceled due to lack of a quorum.

She said the old council will meet briefly on Tuesday before newly elected councilmen are seated.

Councilman-elect Randall Garrison has said that other matters he expects to deal with at the Tuesday meeting include the firing of City Administrator Robert E. Crowe, how to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Mayor E. Ross Parkerson, and rezoning the Buon Gusto parcel off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Mental Test Of Kidnaper Is Ordered

A psychiatric examination of John Charles Spencer of Daly City, convicted yesterday of kidnaping and three sex crimes, was ordered today by a Marin Superior Court judge.

A jury in the court of Charles Read Best found Spencer guilty of sodomy, rape and sex perversion in the kidnap of a 22-year-old cocktail waitress in Sausalito in December.

Judge Best named two psychiatrists to examine the 25-year-old Spencer to determine if he fits the legal definition of a "mentally disordered sex offender."

Following a one-day trial, the jury agreed with the prosecution that Spencer forced his victim at gunpoint to drive with him to Mendocino County.

The woman said she was raped repeatedly and forced to commit other sex acts during almost 24 hours of captivity.

More Petaluma Water To Hike Intertie Cost

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Petaluma's request for additional water from the Cotati-Russian River intertie project will raise the pipeline's total cost to about $22.6 million, an increase of about $1.7 million.

But according to Richard Norton, chief engineer for the Sonoma County Water Agency, the other agencies participating in the pipeline plan — including the North Marin Water District — won't have to pay more because of Petaluma's request for 17 million gallons per day instead of the 9.8 million originally sought.

"Petaluma will pick up the increased cost," Norton said today. "In fact, the cost to the other people will probably decrease slightly because now Petaluma is taking a larger share of the project."

Besides supplying water to Petaluma and the North Marin and Sonoma County districts, the pipeline will feed Rohnert Park, Cotati, Santa Rosa, Sonoma, Forestville and the Valley of the Moon.

Petaluma asked for more water two weeks ago, with city officials citing the January 17 U.S. District Court decision which struck down Petaluma's growth limiting ordinance as unconstitutional.

Unless the district court decision is reversed by an appeal, Petaluma will have a population of 77,000 by 1995, according to a study by the city planning staff. Petaluma's current population of 30,050 represents an increase of nearly 150 per cent over a decade ago.

Norton said construction of the pipeline is expected to begin this fall, with completion expected during 1977.

Celebration Theme Is Selected

"Happiness is a Fourth of July Parade," a theme recommended by a fifth grader from Larkspur-Corte Madera School, has been selected as the theme for this year's Corte Madera-Larkspur Fourth of July celebration.

Keith Schwebel, the 10-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon Schwebel of 347 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, received a $25 savings bond from the two communities' Fourth of July committee for submitting the winning theme. It was one of 172 suggestions submitted by elementary school students, according to Carol Pasquinelli, Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce manager.

The youth told Mrs. Pasquinelli that the Fourth of July has always been a red letter day for his family because it is his mother's birthday and his parents' wedding anniversary.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE—EXECUTION
NO. 60633

SHERIFF'S OFFICE)
COUNTY OF MARIN)ss.
STATE OF CALIFORNIA)

BY VIRTUE of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Marin in an action wherein SIERRA NATIONAL BANK plaintiff, and HARLEY M. LEETE defendant, upon a judgment rendered on the 27th day of August, 1971, in favor of said SIERRA NATIONAL BANK and against said HARLEY M. LEETE, for the sum of Six Thousand Four Hundred Thirty Nine and 71/100 dollars, in Lawful Money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have this day levied upon all the right, title, claim, and interest of said defendant HARLEY M. LEETE in and to all that real property situated in the Central Judicial District, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

DESCRIPTION

All that certain Real Property situate in the City of San Anselmo, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

PARCEL ONE:

BEGINNING at a point on the Southeasterly line of the land described in the Deed of Trust executed by Peter Cadoux, et ux, to Marin Title Guaranty Company, a corporation, as Trustee, recorded July 18, 1956 in Book 1043 of Official Records, at Page 452, Marin County Records, said point being an angle point formed by the calls "South 22° 24' 20" West 145.94 feet and South 48° 18' West 80.58 feet", as said calls are set forth in the above mentioned Deed of Trust; thence from said point of beginning along the exterior boundaries of said lands, South 48° 18' West 80.58 feet, North 43° 53' West 91.6 feet, North 51° 53' West 32.17 feet; thence leaving said boundary, North 41° 05' East 110 feet, more or less, to a point in the Northeasterly boundary line of the parcel of land described in the Deed from Marin Title Guaranty Company, to Lena Lee Myers, recorded October 2, 1956 in Book 1062 of Official Records, at page 491, Marin County Records; thence along said Northeasterly line, South 48° 29' East 125 feet, more or less, to a point in the Southeasterly boundary line of the parcel of land described in the Deed of Trust executed by Peter Cadoux, et ux, above referred to; thence along said Southeasterly boundary line, South 22° 24' 20" West 37 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM that portion conveyed in the Deed executed by John E. Klopfer, et ux, to Alvin F. Tate, et ux, recorded April 29, 1963 in Book 1681 of Official Records, at Page 467, Marin County Records, described as follows:

BEGINNING at the most Westerly corner of the property conveyed from Marin Title Guaranty Company's Corporation, to John E. Klopfer and Maria A. Klopfer, by Deed recorded May 21, 1958 in Book 1190 of Official Records, at Page 434, Marin County Records; running thence along the Southwesterly line of said property conveyed to Klopfer, South 51° 53' East 32.17 feet to an angle point in said Southwesterly line; thence leaving said Southwesterly line, North 43° 53' West 32.25 feet to a point on the Northwesterly line of said property conveyed to Klopfer; and thence running along said Northwesterly line, South 41° 05' West 4.49 feet to the point of beginning.

PARCEL TWO:

A NON-EXCLUSIVE EASEMENT for roadway purposes over a strip of land described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the Northeasterly line of Prospect Avenue, said point being the Southwesterly termination of the call "South 41° 05' West 104.08 feet", as set forth in the Deed of Trust executed by Peter Cadoux, et ux, to Marin Title Guaranty Company, Trustee, recorded July 18, 1956 in Book 1043 of Official Records, at Page 452, Marin County Records; thence from said point of beginning along the Northeasterly line of Prospect Avenue, North 13° 23' West 7.37 feet and North 48° 29' West 14 feet to the point of intersection with the Southwesterly termination of the call "North 41° 05' East 118.67 feet", as set forth in the above mentioned Deed of Trust; thence leaving said line of Prospect Avenue, North 41° 05' East 118.67 feet; thence Northeasterly in a direct line, 30 feet, more or less, to the point of intersection with the extension Northeasterly of the line set forth as "South 41° 05' West 104.08 feet" said point of intersection being distant North 41° 05' East 144.08 feet from the point of beginning; thence South 41° 05' West 144.08 feet to the point of beginning.

PARCEL THREE:

A NON-EXCLUSIVE EASEMENT, 5 feet in width, for underground utilities, the Southeasterly line of which is described as follows:

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Other Execution Locations Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation designed to make sure that criminals could be executed at other state prisons if San Quentin was closed has been introduced by Sen. H. L. Richardson.

The Arcadia Republican, a candidate for the GOP U.S. Senate nomination, yesterday submitted a measure (SB1831) allowing criminals to be executed at any state prison. The Department of Corrections would designate other prisons as execution sites.

Richardson said current law specifies the gas chamber at San Quentin as the only site for executions. He noted that during the last couple years the aging prison has been scheduled for closure off and on.

He said if the current law wasn't changed to provide executions at other prisons and San Quentin was closed, California legally would have no place to conduct executions.

Richardson also introduced a separate bill (SB1830) which would designate penal institutions as "state prisons" and their superintendents as "wardens."

Currently, only San Quentin and Folsom are officially designated as "prisons." Others are variously called "facilities" or "centers" or "institutions."

BIKE LICENSING

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Requirements for central registration of all California bicycles by next year would be eliminated in favor of a modest semi-voluntary licensing plan under a bill introduced yesterday in the Assembly.

Current state law requires that bicycles be registered through the Department of Motor Vehicles by July 1, 1975, at a cost of $3 each. But Reagan administration officials have objected the program would be too costly.

The new bill (AB3329) by Assemblyman Robert Badham, R-Newport Beach, would provide standardized state guidelines on licensing bicycles for any local agency having a registration program.

It would not require a municipality to have a registration plan, but if they do, it would have to follow the new state standards.

As outlined in the bill, the guidelines call for licensing of all new bicycles.

The state's so-called "hot file" on stolen bicycles would remain for the use of local law enforcement agencies.

MOVIE FUNDS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill spending $100,000 in state taxpayer funds to help the movie industry promote motion pictures and secure filming locations in California was introduced yesterday in the Senate.

The measure (SB1823) by Sen. Alan Robbins, D-North Hollywood, would create a state "Motion Picture Development Commission" to promote movie production in California, help find locations and "facilitate cooperation from local governmental agencies."

The $100,000 appropriation to the commission would be drawn from the taxpayer-fed state general fund.

HOUSING VOTE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has passed legislation eliminating the constitutional provision allowing local voters to decide whether they want low-rent, government-subsidized housing projects built in their neighborhoods.

The proposed constitutional amendment (ACA40), which itself would require voter approval, was sent to the Senate yesterday on a 55-15 vote, one more than the twothirds majority needed.

It was authored by Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, who said $25 million in federal funds was available for development of new housing for low-income persons.

A similar proposal died in the Senate last year.

TEACHER PLAN

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has overwhelmingly voted to permit teachers to apply unused sick leave towards early retirement.

The "urgency" bill (SB647) by Sen. John L. Harmer, R-Glendale, cleared the Assembly yesterday on a 62-5 vote and was returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments. It would become law immediately upon the signature of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure would allow members of the State Teachers Retirement System to count unused sick leave as teaching service when figuring retirement benefits.

AMTRAK ROUTE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, yesterday introduced legislation asking Amtrak to route its Coast Daylight-Starlight train through Chico, Marysville, Roseville and Sacramento.

The measure also asks Amtrak to route its Oakland-Bakersfield train through Sacramento.

Corporate Profits Climb To $70 Billion In 1973

NEW YORK (UPI) — The after-tax profits of U.S. corporations last year were a record $70 billion, 27 per cent better than in 1972, Business Week magazine reported today.

The increase from $55.4 billion in profits in 1972 represents "the biggest percentage increase since the post-Korean War boom days of 1955 and the biggest dollar increase in U.S. business history," Business Week said.

The Economics department of McGraw-Hill publications reported Thursday that American businesses expected their profits before taxes to reach a record $122.4 billion this year. That would be 5 per cent higher than in 1973.

However, the survey does not take into account the inflation rate, currently about 8 per cent.

"In real terms, after adjustment for inflation, profits would be down from 1973's peak level," said Douglas Greenwald, the department's chief economist.

The McGraw-Hill report noted that the anticipated 5 per cent increase in profits was the lowest predicted since 1967.

The Business Week report found that while profits margins in the first three quarters of 1973 were well ahead of 1972 figures, fourth quarter profit margins were 5.8 per cent, the same as the year earlier.

The fourth quarter setback was due to "rapidly rising costs, price controls, materials shortages and the initial impact of the energy crisis," Business Week said.

Industries with major earnings gains for the year included paper, up 67 per cent; steel, up 66 per cent; aerospace, up 64 per cent; metals, up 62 per cent, and oil, up 55 per cent.

Business Week also said a key question was the effect of inflation on the profits gain. Much of the profits are regarded as "inventory profits," earnings generated by an increase in inventory values between time of production or purchase and the time of sale.

Hearing Set On Impact Of Airport

An environmental impact hearing on the proposed airport master plan for Gnoss Field north of Novato will be held March 25 by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The impact report, completed last month, claims there would be no major environmental damage if the county airport expands as proposed in the 20-year plan.

The plan, which envisions more than $7 million worth of improvements by 1994, calls for a second "cross-wind" runway, among other things.

The county public works department, which submitted the environmental impact report, said the document may be reviewed at Civic Center and persons unable to attend the hearing may submit written comments prior to the hearing.

The document was prepared by the consulting firm of Wilsey and Ham, which also prepared the master plan.

11 Students Are Honored

Eleven Novato High School seniors have been awarded life membership in the California Scholarship Federation, which requires at least an A-minus grade average, according to principal Stanley V. Onderdonk.

Life members are Jean Anderson, Leslie Clark, Elizabeth Dougherty, David Hicks, Timothy Jordan, Nancy Kirkner, M'Lissa Kluge, Karen Lindemuth, Chris Pilkington, Michelle Rempe and Kathy Sullivan.

Drop In Visitors To Yosemite Park

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (UPI) — The number of visitors at Yosemite National Park declined during the first two months of 1974 apparently reflecting a consequence of the energy crisis.

Park officials said yesterday the first two months show a 17 per cent decline in the number of visitors compared with the year before.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday:
Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Church-State Crisis Continuing In Spain

MADRID (UPI) — The Spanish government and leaders of the Roman Catholic Church met separately today to discuss a church-state crisis which church sources said threatens a break in relations between Catholic Spain and the Vatican.

The two week-old crisis centers around a politically explosive sermon by Bilbao Bishop Antonio Anoveros urging greater freedom for the Basques, government pressure for his ouster from Spain and the Roman Catholic church's refusal to bow to the government.

At stake was the 1953 Spanish-Vatican Concordat which gives the Catholic Church vast benefits and makes Spain's Catholic Church one of the strongest in the world. The government was reported considering abrogating the treaty.

The government met at the El Pardo Palace residence of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. The 81-year-old Caudillo will have the last word on whether to risk a break in relations between the Vatican and Spain over the conflict, sources close to the government said.

At the same time, church leaders met for an extraordinary session of the standing committee of the Episcopal Conference, Spain's highest church body.

Among those attending the meeting was Msgr. Anoveros whom the government put under house arrest 10 days ago and asked to leave the country because he "attacked national unity . . . with the clear aim of sowing civil discord."

His old sermon two weeks ago asked for greater freedom for the Basque people in Spain's politically restless Northern provinces where there have been bombings, strikes, kidnapings and other acts to try to win autonomy for the region.

BISHOP ANOVEROS
Center of controversy

The liberal Bilbao bishop ended his house arrest yesterday and drove to Madrid for urgent consultations with Papal Nuncio Msgr. Luigi Dadaglio.

The two clerics were reported to have discussed Anoveros' statements urging greater autonomy for the northern, restless Basque provinces.

The burly, almost bald prelate wore a Basque beret as he arrived at the Vatican embassy in a small yellow auto. He added nothing to his earlier statement that he hoped for God to illuminate the government.

Hearst's Free Food Plan Attracts Another 35,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Randolph Hearst's food ransom program to win the release of his kidnaped daughter today handed out free food to another 35,000 persons, bringing the retail value of groceries distributed in four days to more than $1 million.

As usual, lines formed before dawn at the 13 distribution sites to receive bags and boxes of groceries demanded by the Symbionese Liberation Army as a condition for negotiating release of Miss Hearst, who was abducted 32 days ago.

At the distribution center in San Francisco's Chinatown, a disabled veteran standing in line said his family "is totally against my being here."

"I argued with my wife about coming here," he said. "We feel very bad but we can't make it. My children want to eat."

Security for today's giveaway was tightened to avert any incidents such as that last Tuesday when a truck loaded with 12,500 pounds of meat and poultry was hijacked. Guards at the "People in Need" program's central warehouse were doubled from four to eight, and all delivery trucks were equipped with radio communications.

Before today's distribution, the retail value of food given away in 85,000 bags was estimated at $750,000, and the distribution of another 35,000 bags today would add another $300,000.

A. Ludlow Kramer, food distribution program head, said there has been some pilferage of goods, but it has amounted to "less than 1 per cent."

The Hearst family put up $500,000 for the food program and the Hearst Foundation added another $1.5 million. The Hearst Corp. pledged another $4 million if the 20-year-old University of California coed is freed.

Hearst, Patty's father, and editor and president of The San Francisco Examiner, said he hoped the smooth running of the food program would elicit another communique from the Symbionese Liberation Army which abducted his daughter Feb. 4 from her Berkeley apartment.

The last communique was received was received Feb. 20.

Kramer told reporters that the $2 million would run out in about four to six weeks at its "present level."

In a related development, a California State Department of Corrections spokesman said two suspected SLA assassins — held in San Quentin Prison — would not be allowed to appear on nationwide television to present a proposal they said could result in Miss Hearst's freedom.

Joseph Remiro, 27, and Russell Little, 26, awaiting trial for the Nov. 6 slaying of Oakland School Superintendent Marcus A. Foster, said in a letter released Wednesday night that they would not give details unless they be given an opportunity to have "a live press conference."

Remiro and Little said they had been beaten by guards and refused opportunities to talk with their attorneys. They also said they were harassed by FBI agents.

They also said the FBI wanted Patty killed "to discredit the SLA." The FBI denied the charges.

Russell Gordon Bond, 58, of 260 Canal Street, San Rafael, arrested Nov. 12 and Dec. 23 on Highway 101 and Jan. 26 in San Rafael; given 90 days in jail and two years' probation.

Gene Raymond Brinkman, 38, of 430 Alameda del Prado, Novato, arrested Feb. 1 in Novato; given five days in jail and one year's probation and ordered to work 100 hours for a volunteer organization.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Mental Damage To Old Boxers Shows Athletes Need Protection

Before 1940, it was not unusual for professional boxers in England to have 300 fights over a career of 15 years or more. The repeated blows to the head caused brain damage and often left them "punch drunk."

Those who control boxing today limit the number and frequency of fights. Consequently, boxers take less punishment than fighters in the past did.

Autopsy studies on many of the old-time pugilists are still being conducted. Their private lives and careers after retirement from the ring also were studied in detail. Many showed the scars of extensive brain damage.

CERTAIN AREAS in the boxers' brains appear to be impaired more often, explaining why most of them develop somewhat similar symptoms. Through these studies it has become possible to appreciate why disorders of coordination involving speech and gait began relatively early in their careers.

Impairment of short term memory is one of the mental changes produced by years of professional boxing. One survey also showed that a quarter of the men studied were demented because of damage to the frontal and temporal lobes of the brain. Personality and character defects with antisocial and aggressive tendencies also were common.

In time, these men often became impotent and developed an intolerance to alcohol. In contrast to amateur boxers, the professionals steadily deteriorated physically and mentally. There appeared to be no doubt that boxing was responsible because injuries to the same areas of the brain among nonboxers lead to similar manifestations.

IN RETROSPECT, we might say that the ensuing damage was hardly worth the beatings taken by these men and, more so, among those whose careers were neither successful nor lucrative. The rules of the fight game have changed, but the punishment these men received was a high price to pay.

These grim reminders of the past convince us of the need for more protection among professional athletes in other contact sports. Football players do not suffer as many head injuries as do boxers, but they do develop other injuries with considerable regularity.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if a stamped, self-ddressed envelope accompanies the request c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

SLOW STOMACH

E. writes: Can anything be done to speed up a stomach that is slow to empty?

REPLY

Eat smaller amounts of food more frequently during the day. But why worry, so long as the stomach otherwise is normal?

HEALING TIME

V. writes: Bruises and scratches on the legs take weeks to heal. I'm 29. Could this mean a vitamin shortage?

REPLY

No. Some persons heal faster than others, depending upon the circulation and the overall nutrition of the tissues.

BOUT OF PLEURISY

I. D. writes: Our 17-year-old son had pleurisy. It cleared up in a few weeks after the doctor gave him two shots of penicillin. Six weeks later he had another attack. Is there such a thing as chronic pleurisy?

REPLY

Yes, but it does not behave like this. In all probability, the second attack was a remnant of the first —provided the diagnosis is correct. It usually takes more than two shots of penicillin to cure pleurisy.

MEDICAL CARE

A reader writes: At what periods of life does the average man have the greatest need for the services of a physician.?

Before 10 and after 50. However, if more persons were under a physician's care before 50, they might need less medical attention in later decades.

Nude Beach

BERLIN (UPI) — The municipal beach at West Berlin's Lake Wannsee announced today it will set aside a pavilion this year for those who want to sun bathe in the nude.

Review Due Milk Hike Requests

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state's top agriculture official said yesterday his department has "no preconceived idea" about whether California dairymen should get an 8-cent per half gallon milk increase.

"We will review the testimony and apply it against a formula," C. B. Christensen, director of the Department of Food and Agriculture, told a regular meeting of the State Agriculture Board.

"If producers costs have gone up . . . we will have to face that," he said.

Christensen referred to testimony taken during hearings conducted by the department's Milk Stabilization Unit in Sacramento and Los Angeles where dairymen asked for an 8-cent per half gallon price hike.

Christensen was quoted before the hearings as saying, "There is no doubt it will have to go up because of skyrocketing feed costs."

Farmers said during the hearing that they "are operating on borrowed time" and needed the hike to meet the increasing costs of feed and labor.

Christensen admitted that the hearing drew a lot of consumer reaction and he said the department is receiving many letters opposing the milk increase.

The department should make a determination concerning the matter by the middle of this month, he said. If any price increases are needed they would go into effect by the first part of April.

Christensen also told the board:

The department is on record as favoring the addition of two members to the board who are consumer oriented. Several members opposed this saying the definition of a consumer is not clear.

The department is having a hard time finding enough veterinarians because of low salaries.

More money is needed to keep up facilities used for state fairs.

Learning Disabilities Clinic Special Set

The DeWitt Clinic, a nonprofit center for the diagnosis and treatment of learning disabilities, will be featured in a special program March 14 at 6 p.m. on KQED, channel 9.

Entitled "Children Who Read Scrambled," the show will focus on learning disabilities and dyslexia, conditions which afflict approximately two million youngsters in this country.

It will show treatment procedures used at the San Rafael clinic and includes interviews with parents, students and staff members.

The center, at 1543 Fifth Avenue, also is sponsoring a workshop to acquaint parents with the nature of learning problems. The free program will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, March 31 at the clinic.

New Doughnut Holder Crowned

SAN LUIS OBISPO (UPI) — Gary Edwards, 27, a 300-pound auto body repairman, ate 35 doughnuts in 15 minutes Wednesday and claimd the world record.

According to the Guinness Book of World Records, the maximum doughnut consumption ever recorded was seven in 2 minutes, and 28 in 15 minutes.

Edwards ate 11 doughnuts in 2 minutes, and 35 in 15 minutes, winning a $100 savings bond and a trophy.

A TIME FOR CONCERN

Venezuela's Wilfredis Leon yelled for help as his teammate, Hector Lopez, lay unconscious on the ground in the rain after collapsing following the men's 800-meter final. Lopez, who finished third, recovered and was able to walk away unaided. Action took place in the Central American-Caribbean Games yesterday in Santo Domingo.

San Rafael Quint Joins Club

Sports

Independent-Journal, 41
Friday, March 8, 1974

By LEW CODDINGTON

OAKLAND — The Beaten-By-Berkeley Club has a large and distinguished membership, gathered over many years, and last night it was San Rafael High School's turn to be included.

Shooting brilliantly, Berkeley High raced to a 78-58 victory over San Rafael last night in the first round of the basketball Tournament of Champions at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

CONSOLATION GAME

The loss put San Rafael into today's bracket game at 4:30 p.m. against Hayward High, 78-63 victim of St. Joseph's of Alameda. If the Bulldogs win today, they will play for the consolation title tomorrow at 5 p.m. If they lose, they will be eliminated.

In yesterday's other games, Oakland Tech defeated Amador Valley of Pleasanton, 47-42, and Lincoln of San Francisco downed Tulare, 62-52.

MANY ILLS

San Rafael, which entered the tournament with a 17-8 record and 13 victories in 14 Marin County Athletic League games, was plagued by a variety of ills.

"We were only down 10 points at the half (37-27,)" said coach Bret Tovani, "and we had chances to score on our first two possessions of the second half. If we had done that, we would have been down only six, but we didn't capitalize. Then Byron fouled out."

Byron Stewart, San Rafael's 6-foot-7 center, drew a fifth personal foul only three minutes into the third quarter. He finished with six points and five rebounds, well below his MCAL averages of 22.4 and 15.6.

D'AMBRA GETS 15

With Stewart out, San Rafael's scoring was led by Steve D'Ambra, with 15 points. Berkeley's 6-5 Kenny Barnes, meanwhile, had a field day with 22 points and 22 rebounds. Darien Davis added 18 points and Gene Ransom 12 for the Yellow Jackets (30-4).

San Rafael's troubles went well beyond Stewart's, however. The Bulldogs shot poorly, missing 12 shots inside the key in the second half, and connecting on only nine of 20 free throws in the first half.

They also had trouble getting the ball upcourt against Berkeley's press, especially in the first half. And Berkeley shot exceptionally well, 51 per cent for the game (30 of 59) and 64 per cent of the second half.

NOT DISAPPOINTED

"I'm not disappointed," said Tovani. "We didn't do that bad a job on defense — it's just that they (Berkeley) shot from 20-25 feet and hit.

"The kids didn't give up, even though they had every right to."

Membership in the Beaten-By-Berkeley Club has grown rapidly in recent years, as the Jackets won the TOC in 1970-71 and finished second in 1968 and 1973.

This may be the most highly motivated Berkeley team of all, however. Each yellow Jacket had the black No. 44 sewn on his uniform in memory of star guard Greg Brown, victim of a fatal heart attack during the final regular-season game.

HAYWARD STAR

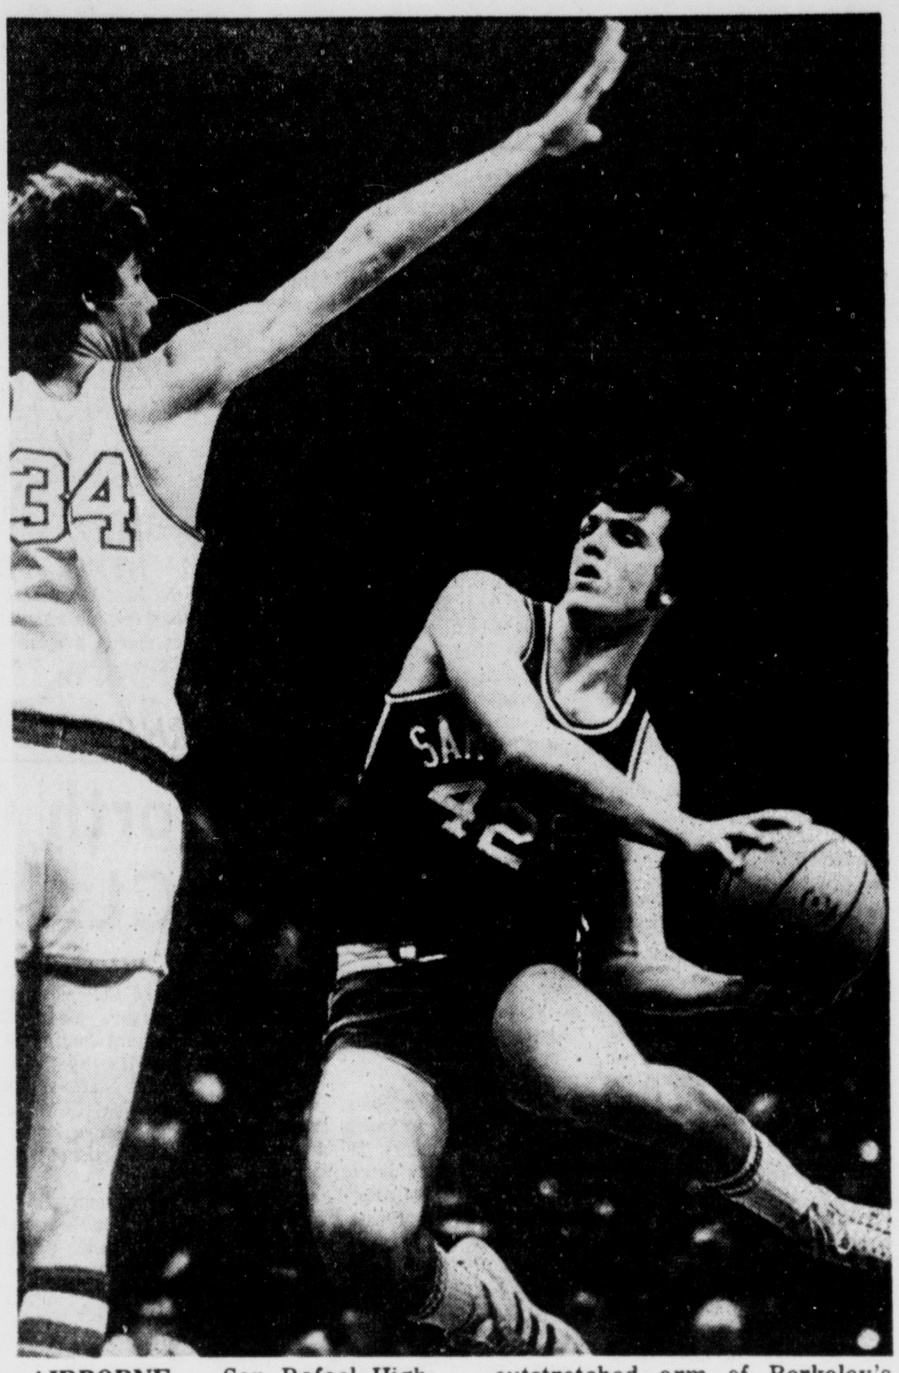

San Rafael's opponent Hayward (20-5) boasts a 6-7 player of its own, forward Paul Volasgis, who scored 20 points last night as the Farmers played St. Joseph's even before fading in the fourth quarter. Their star is 6-5 forward Ray Jackson, who averaged 20 during the season and, recovering from injury, managed 14 last night.

The rest of today's schedule called for Amador Valley vs. Tulare at 6 p.m. in the consolation bracket, and St. Joseph's vs. Berkeley at 7:30 p.m. and Lincoln vs. Oakland Tech at 9 p.m. in the championship bracket. Saturday's game for third place is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., with the title game set for 8 p.m.

San Rafael	13 14 14 17—58
Berkeley	18 19 19 22—78

San Rafael — Gallivan 1-1-3, White 2-2-6, Grant 3-0-6, Farris 3-1-7, Ellingson 1-4-6, Paterson 1-0-2, Brooks 1-0-2, Wheeler 1-1-3, Stewart 3-0-6, Bryant 1-0-2, D'Ambra 5-5-15. Totals: 22-14-58.

Berkeley — Jones 2-1-5, Walton 1-1-3, Major 3-1-7, Davis 8-2-18, Ransom 4-4-12, Balderston 2-1-5, Stewart 0-2-2, Harper 1-0-2, Barnes 8-6-22, Wooldridge 1-0-2. Totals: 30-18-78.

Sonoma Hopes Home Court Advantage Means Little

Sonoma State College's basketball team is hoping the home court advantage isn't all that important tonight.

The Cossacks will be going against host Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo tonight at 9 o'clock in the NCAA College Division II West Regional tournament. The teams have 17-9 records.

In the first game of the four-team tourney, at 7 o'clock, University of California, Riverside (19-7) will be meeting Chico State (20-8). Winners of those games clash tomorrow night for a final prize of a berth in the College Division nationals March 13-15 in Evansville, Ind.

The Cossacks will be led by Bill Belander, 6-foot-4 senior forward who yesterday was named the 1973-74 Far Western Conference Player of the Year. He was picked by conference sports information directors, sports reporters and sportscasters.

In conference games, Belander scored 147 field goals and 26 free throws for 320 points — a 22.9 average. In the voting, Belander received 75 points, 38 more than runnerup Stan Cherry of Hayward State.

Belander is one of two Sonoma Staters on the all-conference team. The other is guard Tom Fitchie, a 6-foot senior.

Sonoma State was co-champion with Chico State in the FWC, each team fashioning 9-3 records. Because of its better overall record, Chico State was seeded directly into the regional tournament, while Sonoma State had to defeat University of San Diego in a playoff to gain a spot. The Cossacks won that game last Tuesday night, 60-54.

Cal Poly won the California Collegiate Athletic Association title, its first outright championship since 1955, after an overtime 79-75 victory over Cal Poly Pomona in its final game of the season. The Mustangs finished the season strong after losing five of their first six games.

Cal Poly has relied heavily on its strong defense. The Mustangs have allowed an average of 59.3 points scored against them per game, ranking third in the nation. The offensive average is 65.6 points per game.

Sonoma State has a scoring average of 89.4 in conference play and has an allowed average of 81.7 points per game.

Beside Belander and Fitchie (averaging 15.4 points per game), Sonoma State can count on scoring help from Bob LeBrun who is scoring at a 16.4 pace and Steve Tiedeman, 14.6 average. Tiedeman and LeBrun were named on the All-FWC second team.

Top guns for Cal Poly are guard Pinky Williams, 14.9, and forward John Parker, 12.0. But the Mustangs don't win their games by scoring a lot of points. They win by keeping the other team from scoring too many.

New Orleans Franchise For NBA; More Expansion Seen

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Basketball Association added a New Orleans franchise yesterday and league Commissioner Walter Kennedy says the NBA may add yet another franchise within two weeks.

The league approved the sale of the franchise for New Orleans which would enter a team next year, for $6,150,000 to a nine-man group headed by Fred M. Rosenfeld of Beverly Hills, Calif., Kennedy said.

The new team will play in the Superdome, under construction, which will seat 19,000 for basketball. The structure is not scheduled to open until January of 1975, and the team will play in the municipal auditorium or the Loyola fieldhouse until then.

The franchise will be stocked through an expansion draft, Kennedy said. Each of the 17 existing NBA teams will be permitted to freeze seven players and the new franchise will be allowed to pick one unprotected player from each club.

Kennedy said any further NBA expansion this year would be limited to one team, but he added that league owners still are interested in adding another team.

He said San Diego was among "one or two other cities" under consideration for a second expansion franchise. A second group applying for the franchise could not be identified, Kennedy said.

Kennedy refused to comment on reports that the rival American Basketball Association may dissolve, with some teams seeking membership in the NBA. He said either he or Herman Sarkowski, chairman of the NBA merger committee, would contact ABA Commissioner Mike Storen to ask him to discuss the possibility with the NBA attorneys.

At yesterday's meeting, the NBA also pushed back the scheduled start of the 1974-75 season one week to Oct. 17, 1974, Kennedy said, but each team will still play 82 games, the limit under a contract with the Players Association, which has two years to run.

He said the league would consider applications until April 1 by college players seeking to be picked in the NBA draft for hardship cases. The regular draft, normally held in March, will not be held until after the NBA playoffs.

The playoffs are scheduled to begin on Friday, March 29, with 16 games nationally televised.

'BLUE MONSTER'

Doral Is Tamed By Heard, Aaron

MIAMI (UPI) — The Doral Country Club golf course is known as the "Blue Monster" and has a reputation as one of the toughest layouts on the Professional Golfers Association tour.

Yesterday the monster turned meek. Eighty-six of 147 golfers shot par 72 or better and 64 were under par.

Two golfers—Jerry Heard and Masters champion Tommy Aaron—shot 65s, one off the course record, and another—Buddy Allin—shot a 66.

Nobody had an explanation for the unusually hot scoring over the 7,028-yard course except that it was a beautiful day for golf and the usually bothersome Florida wind was a little tamer than usual.

Heard is looking for his second win in a row, after taking the Citrus Open at Orlando, Fla., last weekend, but he doesn't expect any great pressure.

"After you win one, it makes it easier, it takes the pressure off," he said. "It was just like a walk in the park, the putts were just going in."

He cast an image of strolling along, talking hunting and fishing with Tom Weiskopf, who was in his threesome, and hitting a golf shot once in a while.

It didn't start out that way.

"On the first hole, I hit a duck hook off the tee, hit a wood into a trap and then I skulled it over the green," he said.

But even then Heard didn't worry. He salvaged a scrambling par on the par five hole and then got it going.

He birdied the third, seventh, ninth and 11th holes. His birdie putts included one from 35 feet and two 20-footers.

The real charge to the lead started on the 16th. He hit a wedge a foot from the pin on 16 for a bird, sank a 10-foot putt for a three on the par four 17th and scored his third straight birdie with a 12-footer on the 18th.

Five golfers were lurking behind Heard, Aaron and Allin at five under par 67. They were defending champion Lee Trevino, Australia's Bruce Crampton and Bruce Devlin, Orville Moody and Bunky Henry. Napa's Ron Cerrudo was among 23 golfers at 72.

Warrior Injuries Pivotal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The injury situation appears to be the key which will decide whether Golden State or Los Angeles winds up in the NBA playoffs as the Pacific Division champion.

Golden State moved a half game up on Los Angeles last night when Rick Barry's 20-foot jumper at the buzzer gave the Warriors a 97- 95 win at Milwaukee.

Golden State is 39-29 with 13 games left and Los Angeles is 40-31 with 11 to play. The Warriors are at Philadelphia tonight, the only non-playoff team they'll face in a rugged road trip that sends them into five cities in six days.

They'll play the 76ers without Nate Thurmond for sure and maybe without Cazzie Russell, too.

Thurmond's foot problems forced him to leave last night's game early in the second period although George Johnson and Clyde Lee did remarkably well against Bucks superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar the rest of the way. Lee mysteriously is always at his best against the Bucks, whom he practically beat single-handedly in last year's playoffs.

A discouraged coach Al Attles said Thurmond might not be able to play the rest of the road trip and would miss tonight's game for sure.

Russell twisted his ankle early in the third period although he returned in the closing seconds. His status for tonight won't be known until gametime.

Following the rash of injuries, the Warriors saw a nine-point lead evaporate and Milwaukee take the lead, but they fought back with Lee making some big plays and Barry, who wound up with 31, hitting the key baskets.

They regained the lead at 95-91 with 44 seconds to go. Lucious Allen hit a jumper; Golden State violated the 24- second limit and the Bucks got the ball with Mickey Davis hitting to tie it with nine seconds to play.

Jeff Mullins had a layup attempt blocked out of bounds by Jabbar with three seconds to go. But Mullins found Barry with the inbound pass and Barry took one dribble, stopped, and scored from the corner.

"You know everybody probably figured it would be easy for the Bucks after Nate and Cazzie were hurt," Barry said. "But ehre's something odd about this team that makes us play with emotion."

"It looked dark for awhile with Nate and Cazzie out," Attles said. "But we seemed to get an emotional spurt. I hope we wake up tomorrow and play with the same emotion we played with tonight."

GOLDEN STATE (97): Barry 15 1-1, 31; C. Lee 2 0-0 4, Thurmond 0 1-2 1, Bear 5 0-0 10, Mullins 8 4-6 20, Russell 8 0-0 16, G. Johnson 4 2-4 10, Barnett 2 1-1 5, Dickey 0 0-0 0. Totals 44 9-14 97.

MILWAUKEE (95): Davis 7 2-2 16, Warner 1 1-2 3, Abdul-Jabbar 13 1-1 27, Allen 15 1-1 31, Robertson 3 2-4 8, Williams 3 0-0 6, Perry 2 0-0 4, Driscoll 0 0-0 0, McGlocklin 0 0-0 0. Totals 44 7-12 95.

Golden State	22 26 30 19—97
Milwaukee	14 33 20 28—95

Fouled out: None. Total fouls: Golden State 17, Milwaukee 21. A-10,317.

Bando To Miss A's Exhibition

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — The Oakland Athletics will open their Cactus League season against San Diego today without captain Sal Bando in the lineup.

Bando returned to the team's Mesa camp yesterday after spraining his left middle finger during a batting practice. He will be replaced by Manny Trillo.

Dick Green, whose announced retirement and then signing is getting to be an annual event, has joined the club but won't play in Cactus League games until he works himself into shape. Ted Kubiak will open at second base.

Giants' Fox Selects Carrithers To Start

PHOENIX (UPI) — Don Carrithers, an enigma to the San Francisco Giants the past three seasons, has been named by Manager Charlie Fox to pitch tomorrow's Cactus League opener in Tucson against the Cleveland Indians.

Carrithers is regarded as having the best arm on the San Francisco staff, yet he has won only 12 of 26 decisions over the last three seasons.

Fox said he feels Carrithers finally has come of age and he wants to give him every opportunity to win a starting job this season.

Gaylord Perry, a former Giant and Cy Young Award winner, has been picked by Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte as his starter.

The Giants broke up their preliminary camp at Casa Grande yesterday and took up headquarters here for the remainder of the spring. Sunday, they open their Phoenix "home" season, again playing the Indians, their spring-time rivals since 1934.

A Conference Tie For Marin Golfers

MENLO — College of Marin's golf team tied Canada College, 27-27, yesterday in a Camino Norte Conference match at Menlo Country Club.

Marin's conference record is now 2-2-1 and Canada is 3-1-1. Scores from Marin golfers were Doug Talley, 76; Joe Anker, 80; Lee Peterson, 81; Jeff Twitchell, 87; Mark Janusch, 88, and Kevin Hogan, 90.

FAREWELL — Heavyweight boxing champion George Foreman left today for Caracas and his March 26 title defense date with challenger Ken Norton. Before leaving, Foreman said he was in good shape and would conclude training in Venezuela. (UPI Telephoto)

Rain Washes Out 3 Baseball Games

The three baseball games scheduled to be played by Marin teams were rained out yesterday.

College of Marin was to try to play its game against Canada College in Redwood City today at 3 p.m. Terra Linda High School's game with Berkeley and San Marin's clash with Lincoln of San Francisco have not yet been rescheduled. Petaluma's contest yesterday with visiting Rancho Cotate was also washed out.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Choosy Fish In The Bay

This story on striped bass fishing will probably shake you up like it did me. There is really more to fishing than meets the eye.

I spent a day fishing the shell bank above China Camp in San Pablo Bay this past week, anchored right in the center of 10 boats all loaded with fishermen. It was a nice calm day with an outgoing tide. I set the anchor just as the outgoing flow started. I had about 25 fresh ghost shrimp for bait.

I was able to observe all the fishermen in the other boats closely, so I kept a log on each. One boat with seven anglers was anchored about 100 yards from me. The fishermen on this boat were using live mudsuckers for bait. I did not have a strike in three hours, but those seven guys were having a field day. They caught 14 stripers which averaged probably 12 pounds each in weight. The anglers on one of the other boats, also using mudsuckers, caught three bass. Not one fisherman in any of the other boats ever set his rod; none was using mudsuckers. They were using bullheads, grass shrimp and ghost shrimp, all proven bass baits.

I'VE FISHED THIS same area many years successfully with ghost shrimp, and on the same type of tide, and at the same time of the year. Here was an area loaded with fish, yet they took just one type of bait. It couldn't be possible that the live baits could attract all the fish in such a large area — or could it be? Most of us have the feeling that any bait in the right place will catch fish, but I'm beginning to believe that fish are far more discerning than the way we have them figured.

It seems that when the bullheads are around, that's the bait to use; or if the shiner perch are around the piers, that's the bait to use. Trolling jigs seems seem to simulate either the perch or small smelt, so are also successful in the spring. But ghost shrimp are always around, being a natural bay bait. I don't know the answer.

NOW LISTEN to this: one bait shop (not in Marin County) bought some baits called gobies from Southern California. These baits look like a mudsucker's twin brother, but the anglers who used those last week couldn't get a strike with them as bait. The anglers were mad as hornets. And now for a final mind wracker. One party boat skipper who uses mudsuckers says, "A striper will take a male mudsucker at times, but if you put a female on — you've got a cinch fish!"

Me, I can't tell one mudsucker from another, but in the fish families, the females are usually the larger of the two, so pick out big ones when you can buy them. Of course, getting mudsuckers from the bait shops is getting to be almost an impossible feat. But get some ghost shrimp, go up to the shellbank this weekend, and watch the boys using mudsuckers give you a fishing lesson. I sure got one.

IF YOU ARE A GUN collector, the new 1974 Gun Collectors Digest has just been released. The new book from Digest Books, Inc., 540 Frontage Road, Northfield, Ill., holds more information than has ever before been devoted to this many faceted hobby. The book is now available for $6.95 at gun shops, sporting goods stores and wherever books are sold, or direct from Digest Books.

"Restoring Rare Guns," by John Kaufield, "Smith and Wesson — Pioneers in Cartridge Pistols," by James Serven, and a feature article discussing how to cope with "The Gun Control Law of 1968" are three key articles in the Digest.

RECENTLY, A NUMBER of persons had reported seeing wolverines in eastern Shasta County and in Trinity County. The animal is on the list of furbearers fully protected by law and is classified as one of California's rare animals. The reported sightings created great interest, and two fish and game biologists, Bud Pyshorea and Dave Smith were assinged to check out the reports.

The two biologists set out cross county on skis to set up a bait station in a remote area south of Burney. Four black hairs were later found clinging to some barbed wire placed around the bait. The hairs were sent to the Fish and Game laboratory where it was confirmed they were from the rarely seen wolverine. That's good news.

TOURNEY BEGINS

North Carolina, UCLA Struggling

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's major college tournament begins this weekend, while top-ranked North Carolina State and defending champion UCLA are still struggling for a berth in the post-season national championship chase.

N.C. State is confronted by the Tobacco Road's March madness known as the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

In order to survive the ACC tourney, the Wolfpack will have to beat either No. 4 North Carolina or No. 5 Maryland in the final game.

Meanwhile, UCLA's ironfisted grip on the national championship will disappear if the Bruins are unable to win at Southern California. The No. 7 Trojans are tied with UCLA atop the Pacific-8 Conference and the winner of Saturday's game will move into the NCAA Western regionals next weekend.

Another key piece in the NCAA tournament puzzle, the Big Ten representative, might be resolved Saturday. Then again, it might not. No. 10 Indiana is tied with No. 19 for the league lead. Depending on the outcome of Indiana's home game with Purdue, only a game behind the Hoosiers, and Michigan's contest at Michigan State, a champ will be crowned Saturday or a playoff will be necessary Monday.

In the East, Providence (23-3) meets Ivy League champ Pennsylvania, South Carolina (21-4) faces Southern Conference titlest Furman (18-7) and Pittsburgh (22-3) plays St. Joseph's (19-10), the Middle Atlantic Conference champion.

In the Mideast, No. 2 Notre Dame (24-2) will attempt from a 15-point shellacking by Dayton Monday against Austin Peay (17-9) and Marquette (22- 4) plays Ohio University (16- 10).

Interloper Syracuse (19-6) has moved to the Midwest to tackle Oral Roberts (21-5), while Creighton (21-6) plays Texas (12-14) in the second game.

In the West, transplanted Dayton (19-7), which silenced a lot of criticism over its selection for the tournament with its win over Notre Dame, plays Los Angeles State (17-9). L.A. State is representing the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in place of league champ Long Beach State, which is on NCAA probation.

In the other Western Conference, Western Athletic Conference champ New Mexico (20- 6) meets Big Sky Conference king Idaho State (20-7).

Kent Wins Title

Kent Junior High School won the 12th annual Redwood basketball tournament title, defeating Reedland Woods, 39-27, at Redwood High Thursday.

GOLF NOTES

Professional Day Set For Mill Valley

It's Professional Day for the juniors at Mill Valley Municipal Golf Course.

"All that (the golf tourney title) means is that I donate first prize," said Tom Wishon, Mill Valley assistant pro.

The Mill Valley Junior Golf Club tourney will be held March 16 at 9 a.m. Club members or those paying the $3 yearly dues can play. Wishon anticipates about 20 participants for the 18-hole event. Entry fee is $1.

"They can sign just by showing up around tee off time," Wishon said. Golf accessory prizes will be awarded for low net and low gross winners.

FAITHFUL FRIEND. Like an obedient dog, a self-propelled golf bag wheels around the Peacock Gap course in San Rafael. It follows the golfer.

This Auto Rover "works great," according to Mark Medina, pro shop assistant. He and pro Gene Coghill have tested the device. "We like it. We've had it here for a couple of weeks now, and it seems to be very popular."

It costs $800, but Medina is confident it will catch on. "A couple of our club members have tried it. They like it, too." Unfortunately, it isn't for sale to private parties.

The device is controlled by a radio signal from the player. The control unit can be attached to the golfer's belt. So where the golfer goes, the cart and bag follow.

Pro Cage Set For Europe

Combined AP & UPI

PARIS — Anonymous organizers have set up the first European professional basketball league, the national sports newspaper L'Equipe said today.

It said the following communique was released after a meeting in Paris yesterday:

"The first European professional basketball league was created in Paris Thursday by several personalities who wish to remain anonymous but who have supported for a long time the establishment of professional competition in Europe.

"The new league, which will group eight teams in a championship of two groups of four, will carry the name, the European Basketball Association.

"The responsibility for its organization has been entrusted to Bernard Ulrich, a Parisian jurist specialized in management. Four cities from several countries have already indicated they will take part and the four remaining places will be attributed in the future."

KENT, Ohio — Stan Albeck, 42, assistant coach of the San Diego Conquistadors of the American Basketball Association, today was named head coach at Kent State University.

Bowling

NEW ORLEANS — Don McCune had a 270 and a 277 to close the opening eight-game block of semi-finals action and move into the lead today in the $55,000 Lions Club Open Bowling Tournament.

Tennis

DALLAS — Sausalito's Rosemary Casals yesterday blitzed Czechoslovakia's Martina Navratilova, 6-2, 6-2, in the Maureen Connolly Brinker Tournament.

HARTFORD, Conn. — Australia's Rod Laver yesterday scored a straight set victory over America's Stan Smith, 7-5, 6-3, in the opening round of World Cup Tennis.

Skiing

OSLO — Bill Koch, of Gilford, Vt., timed at 49 minutes, 47.4 seconds, yesterday was runner-up to Tore Neby, of Norway, by 24.7 seconds in the 15-kilometers ski race for juniors, the best American placing ever in the Holmenkollen cross country ski festival.

Figure Skating

MUNICH — Karen Iten of Switzerland captured the women's compulsory program and Jan Hoffmann of East Germany won the men's world figure skating crown at the World Figure Skating Championships yesterday.

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

Washington Is Leader In Swim

SEATTLE (UPI) — Washington took a surprising first-round lead in the first day of the Pacific Eight swimming and diving championships on a disqualification against meet favorite Southern California in the 400-yard medley relay.

After the first five events yesterday Washington led with 104 points, USC had 97, Stanford 79, Oregon 63, California 50 and Oregon State 31.

Washington's Robin Backhaus, a Marin Aquatic Club swimmer, won the 500-yard freestle in 4:33.81. Two Marin A. C. and Husky teammates placed in the even — Rick DeMont finishing fourth in 4:36.64 and Doug Northway was sixth in 4:39.23.

SKI SCENE

A Resort With Family Appeal

By CHARLIE COANE

It was never intended as a "destination" type resort with condominiums springing up all around, with shops, swimming pools, tennis courts etc. That is not Dodge Ridge. It's just for skiing and the resort has been successful at that for 24 years. There is no overnight lodge overlooking the slopes — just a large day lodge. And you go there to ski and that's it.

Much of the reason for Dodge's financial success and popularity as "California's foremost family resort" is that the chiefs who run the area have been around and together a long time. They are mainly, manager Earl Purdy and ski school boss Ray Patton. And many of the other administrators have been there for years.

As mentioned, Dodge's main appeal is to the skiing family, and you'll always see lots of kids there. And speaking of kids, the "Bunny Den" nursery is one of the top such places in California. If your children are 2 to 8 years old, it's a fine spot to leave them — if they are not skiing.

The skiing at Dodge is not going to challenge someone looking for real excitement, but that's not what Dodge is all about. They leave the heavy runs to Squaw, Heavenly and some of the other resorts. Most all of the runs at Dodge are for the intermediate skier and there are many such runs. The beginner, too, gets a fair shake. There are six double chairlifts ranging in length from 1,700 feet to 3,600. With all the experience of those in charge at Dodge Ridge, you'd expect the grooming to be excellent — and it is.

Dodge has several package plans with their ski school, rental shop etc. An interesting mid-week special includes a night in a nearby lodge, breakfast, dinner, morning lesson and unlimited use of the tows: $20. Parking around Dodge can become a small problem, but that is solved by a shuttle bus running people to and from the slopes.

One of the big events each year at Dodge is the Far West Veterans Giant Slalom Championships. During the past weekend, the 13th event was held and the fastest time was posted by Martin Sulser of San Francisco. "Veterans" are those racers over 28 years old, and there are five different classes for men and four for women — with racers well over 60 taking part.

Other top finishers in the Far West Championships included Wulf Clemens of Tiburon, Rex Carson of San Rafael, Daniel Collin of Fairfax, and Thomas Eason, Mill Valley.

By California standards, Dodge is one of the closest resorts to the Bay Area. It's only 163 miles from San Francisco, and when chains are required it's usually for not too many miles to Dodge. Where is it? About 30 miles from historic Sonora, in the heart of the Gold Rush country.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Utility Is Wrong For Youngster

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am 14 and as a hobby I invest in stocks. I recently bought Illinois Power Co. (NYSE) for its high yield. What do you think of this investment?—B.S.

A. With 91 per cent of its electricity requirements supplied by coal-fired generating plants, Illinois is in a good position on that count. The company is planning to spend about $110 million this year for expansion and about 60 per cent of this money will have to be raised externally. Rate increases have been well below amounts requested by the company. Thus, with increased captialization, higher costs and no further rate relief, earnings may be lower this year. Payout ratio at 88 per cent is very high, suggesting a possible cut if earnings move lower this year. At your age you would be better off seeking a growing company in an expanding industry such as health care.

Q. What mutual funds invest in fixed income securities? I own shares in four growth funds. Is this a good time to invest for income?—S.C.

A. The list of mutual funds which invest in bonds and fixed income issues is simply too extensive to name in this column. However, I have available a list of recommended income mutual funds if you are interested. Simply mail your request along with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this column, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

Your personal financial objectives should be the primary determining factor for selecting investments. If you are interested in building an estate, the four funds you now hold are entirely suitable. However, if you require additional income, either a direct investment in bonds and high-yield common stocks or in an income mutual fund would be sensible. Interest rates on long-term obligations are edging higher while on short-term debt rates have dropped sharply. Thus, some of the bond funds which concentrate on short-term debt issues are unattractive now.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Use Of Car For Business Can Provide You With Deduction

If you use your car for business, charitable or medical purposes, you can claim your expenses on a flat mileage basis rather than having to compute depreciation, gas, etc., and then divide this between business and personal.

For business use, you are allowed 12 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents a mile for every business mile thereafter. You only keep a record of business miles traveled, but like every other record, you must be able to substantiate that the car was used for business and the number of miles traveled.

You cannot use this system and also claim depreciation on your car, nor can you use this ysstem if you have previously taken extra first year depreciation or if you have used one of the accelerated methods.

If you are reimbursed for the business use of your car by your employer and this reimbursement is less than 12 cents a mile, you may include the reimbursement in income and deduct the 12 cents per mile up to the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents thereafter.

If reimbursement is in excess of 12 cents a mile, but not more than 15 cents a mile, you wouldn't want to use this system as you do not have to account for your auto expense because you are considered to have accounted to your employer. If reimbursement is in excess of 15 cents a mile, you have to include the reimbursement in income and itemize your automobile expenses. You can use this system and also deduct parking fees, bridge tolls and interest paid on the purchase of the car.

If you use your car for charitable work, you can deduct 6 cents a mile for the charitable use of your car. If you use your car for medical transportation, you can deduct 6 cents per mile for such use of your car. In both cases, you can deduct bridge tolls, parking, etc. You must be able to prove that you actually used your car and the actual number of miles traveled.

Stocks Try To Recover

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices opened lower but then recovered some of their early losses today on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate.

During the first hour of trading, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported unemployment had ended a four-month increase and held steady at 5.2 per cent of the labor force during February.

McCulloh Oil was the most active Amex issue at 7 ⅛, off ⅛ on 38,000 shares.

Silver Prices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Handy and Harman today quoted silver at $5.195 per fine ounce down 13.5 cents. Engelhard quoted silver bullion at $5.195 down 13.5 cents and fabricated silver at $5.247 down 13.7 cents.

Oil news from the Middle East remained discouraging, however, with reports that a meeting of oil ministers of Arab nations had been postponed three days until Wednesday and that Iran would oppose any reduction in the current record level of petroleum prices.

The oil issues were mixed in trading. Schlumberger and Natomas each was ahead more than two points, while Halliburton and Kerr-McGee wereoff a point apiece and other major oil issues moved in fractions.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were mixed in moderate trading.

Pool And Patio Of Marin Will Have Weekend Grand Opening

Pool and Patio of Marin, a new firm that installs hot water spas and sauna baths in homes or offices, will hold its grand opening this weekend at 536 Irwin Street in San Rafael.

Pool and Patio is a new division of Master Pools Service and Supplies, which was established last November in the same building, formerly occupied by International Pools. Louis and Joseph Arrighi and Don Koss, all of San Rafael, bought International Pools from Neal Walton of Novato, who has joined the new owners as a partner.

The Pool and Patio has a hot-water spa actually in operation. A redwood tank four feet deep and five feet across with a bench inside, is equipped with four jets, two motors and an air blower that churns the water into a swirling froth. The new shop also markets Finnish sauna baths made of wood, and small enough to fit into any home or patio; the Muskin Pool, a vinyl-lined pool above ground; garden furnitures, barbecues and accessories.

Master Pools Service and Supplies, which provides pool maintenance and equipment, is joining the new Pool and Patio shop in the grand opening observance this weekend.

HENRY POLANSHEK of Larkspur has been named vice president in Wells Fargo Bank's 464 California Street Office in San Francisco. He was formerly assistant vice president of operations in the West Bay Division.

Polanshek joined Wells Fargo in 1930 and has specialized in branch operations activities throughout most of his banking career.

Polanshek

Meyer

JERRY W. MEYER has joined Redwood Bank's San Rafael office as assistant vice president, responsible primarily for commercial lending. The announcement came from Vice President Phillip J. Kirch, manager of Redwood's San Rafael office at Fourth and E Streets.

Meyer worked for Union Bank for the past five years. He holds both a bachelor's and a master's degree from the University of Arizona.

GTS TRAVEL agency in San Rafael, which expanded with a branch in San Francisco two years ago, is closing its San Francisco office this month and reconsolidating in San Rafael.

Paul Hartman, who operated the San Francisco office at 353 Sacramento Street, said the purpose of consolidation is to pool resources and provide a more complete and efficient operation out of San Rafael.

GTS Travel in San Rafael is located at 1435 Fourth Street, next to Redwood Bank, and is managed by Michael Dolan. GTS Travel, founded by Hartman in October of 1966, makes complete arrangements for all types of travel, especially sporting event tours. Hartman will continue to head Tour USA, a program catering to East coast, European and Australian visitors who want to see California.

Cooper

Schroeder

HENRY L. HICKS & Associates, headquartered in Novato, announced the following promotions:

Diane Schroeder was promoted to administrative assistant of operations for both Hicks & Associates and for General Mortgage Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary; and Barbara Cooper to the post of executive secretary.

SPENCERCORP Insurance Agencies, a new corporation specializing in estate planning with an in-house counsel to provide legal consultation with the clients' own attorneys or public accountants, just opened in the Margarita Plaza Building at Northgate Industrial Park.

The corporation is headed by William T. Spencer of Healdsburg, who has been in the insurance business for 33 years, the last 14 years with American National Insurance headquartered in Galveston, Tex. Associated with him as counsel for the corporation is his son, Clifton C. Spencer of San Rafael, who has been practicing law for about six years. The Spencers came to Marin from Honolulu in January.

Spencercorp Insurance Agencies also offers pension funds, profit sharing plans, and fire and casualty insurance, as well as estate planning.

GALLAGHER-STURIALE Realtors' San Rafael Manager Jack W. Vidano announced the following outstanding sales awards to salesmen in his office:

Mrs. Molly Meleyco of Bel Marin Keys, who was the office's top salesperson in 1972, won her life membership in the Marin County Board of Realtors Million Dollar Sales Club. Chris Christo of Terra Linda won the office award for top salesman for 1973, with sales exceeding one million dollars for the year.

A new staff member of Gallagher-Sturiale's San Rafael office is James J. Cunningham of Sleepy Hollow, a real estate broker with long experience in residential sales.

THE ANNUAL TOUR by the Marinwood Funsters this year will be to Europe for 23 days, from May 11 to June 2.

Tour leaders, Connie and William Gordon of Marinwood Community Center, announced that travelers of all ages and from all areas are welcome to sign up for the tour, which will cover Lisbon, Madrid, Rome, Lucerne, London and Paris.

DR. GEORGE A. HERMANN, San Rafael chiropractor, moved last weekend into the mall next door to the Redwood Bank at Fourth and E Streets. His new address is 1435 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Dr. Hermann moved from 1817 Fourth Street, where he had practiced for 10 years.

No Stockholder Penalty Pledged

NEW YORK (UPI) — International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. has assured former stockholders of Hartford Fire Insurance Co. they will not be financially penalized by the Internal Revenue Service's revocation of its 1970 ruling that allowed a tax-free exchange of stock in ITT's $1.5 billion takeover of the Hartford.

An ITT spokesman said yesterday the corporation will seek a prompt court review of the IRS action and is satisfied the revocation will not affect the merger.

He said despite the IRS action, the company believes the acquisition was tax free and that these technical points of law will be sustained in court.

Campaign Spending Abuse Proves Hard To Curb

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
46 SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1974 EDITORIAL PAGE

It was widely expected that there would be less spending on political campaigns this year, in view of new laws on disclosure of campaign contributions. So far, it hasn't worked out that way.

Initial reports filed under the new law disclose that Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco already has taken in $624,146 for his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor. State Controller Houston Flournoy, who seeks the GOP nomination for governor, has received $284,352.

Sen. Alan Cranston, out for re-election and with no worry about renomination, has amassed $436,965. Wilson C. Riles, who seeks a second term as state superintendent of public instruction, has a $124,477 campaign kitty.

These figures are for receipts only up to March 1, with the primary still three months away.

OBVIOUSLY, campaign spending still involves big money, despite disclosure laws.

Here in Marin, we even had the virtually unprecedented occurrence of a county office holder running a half-page advertisement in this newspaper even before the filing period opened. And spending on city council races prior to Tuesday's election appeared to be higher than in past years, rather than lower.

THERE IS ALMOST irresistable pressure for candidates to spend heavily on campaigns. Each feels it necessary to "keep up with the Joneses" (the Joneses being the other candidates) for fear of losing his chance for the office if he does not.

Big campaign spending, however, curdles public faith in our system. It is for this reason that there is wide reform agitation, including such measures as Proposition 9 which will be on the June ballot. It is for this reason that many people are agitating for "public financing" of elections through taxes.

THE COMMITTEE for Economic Development, a business-oriented organization concerned with preserving a free society, addressed itself to the problem in "Financing a Better Election System" six years ago.

It recommended two things: "Stringent disclosure requirements on every aspect of political financing," and "generous tax incentives . . . to encourage broad-based public support for campaign financing."

It has just reiterated these recommendations in a new report, "Restoring Confidence in the Political Process."

SURELY THESE are not extreme proposals. But the difficulty of achieving even such basic reforms was shown again this week in Sacramento.

The state's new conflict-of-interest disclosure law for office holders was watered down by its author, state Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, and the watered-down version was signed by the governor.

And why was it watered down? So that lawyers in public office will not have to disclose who their big clients are. Surely no greater danger of conflict of interest exists than that which permits a lawyer to hide behind "attorney-client privilege" when he is in a position to make laws or oversee their application! Surely there is no more insidious way for a powerful organization to acquire secret influence than to place its high-retainer attorney in public office!

No wonder that, as CED says, there is "erosion of public confidence" in our governmental institutions!

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Mindless And Random Murder —And Moral Climate Behind It

Several weeks ago our young, handsome, big, strong, gentle, healthy, shy and thoroughly good eldest son left for a vacation trip to visit friends in Sacramento. He had just finished with his job as park aide at Samuel Taylor State Park for the season and was getting ready to go back to Santa Rosa Junior College, where he paid his expenses himself and was getting excellent grades in agricultural science.

He was sitting in his friend's dining room in Sacramento with his back framed in an undraped picture window, having a late night snack. Someone came up to the window and fired three shots at close range. One bullet lodged in Michael's spinal column just below his neck, snuffing out his precious young life in an instant. He would have been 20 on Feb. 18 (the day before Patricia Hearst's 20th birthday). He hadn't an enemy in the world and knew few people in Sacramento. This was just another mindless killing.

I understand that some legislator has proposed a bill that would give money to anyone with information leading to the arrest of any street killers. This seems like a good constructive thing to do and should be supported. But what of the moral climate that fosters this kind of contempt for human life? Is there anything that we as individuals can do about it? Is there any way to stop the hatemongering propagandists that pit one class, one religion, one race and even one sex against another? The violent and pornographic movies that can only bring out the worst in people. The abortion mills that take lives because they are tiny and unseen and might create problems. The full-scale wars going on in Southeast Asia but aren't newsworthy right now while we "detente" with and buy off the perpetrators. These crimes surely call out to God for vengeance. If we as individuals don't turn to God and try to create a more healthful moral climate these tragic things will go on snowballing and believe me, it doesn't always happen to "somebody else."

Gas For Accountant, But Not For Others

This comes under the category of "If you let them get away with it, it will only get worse department." Today I drove into the Exxon Service Station on Nellen Avenue at Fifer Avenue in Corte Madera, just off the Highway 101 off-and-on ramp, to purchase some gasoline. The car in front of me was having his tank filled, and there were no other automobiles in the station. The attendant told me to drive away because he could not sell me any gasoline. When I asked why the customer in front of me should be served and not me, I was told that the manager, Bill Neilson, forbid him to do so, he was told to sell to the man in front of me because he was the manager's accountant.

Undoubtedly, the man needed gas, but so did I. If you are in business to serve the public, does that also give you the right to choose to whom you will sell your products? Is there a law, if not, please let the public know, only they can do something about this problem plaguing us all.

Drake's Brass Plate Is Claimed A Hoax

Please be advised that information has come to me from an unimpeachable source, a noted California historian, who prefers to remain anonymous at this writing.

The "Drake brasse plate" was in the possession of or fabricated by a Mr. Null. The latter was a San Francisco art dealer and antique restorer.

Indications point to Mr. Null's being a descendant of the famous lawyer, Galvin D. Null, or the several Doctors Null of the city, one of whom was the first woman doctor in the area.

Further, that there are four more conspirators in this hoax appearing at the Bancroft Library at the University of California. Some living, others deceased.

All their names are known to this writer!

Gas By Appointment Avoids Long Waits

I had a most pleasant experience today. I had my gasoline tank filled without waiting in a long line. I was treated courteously, and the young man had time to check under the hood. I am a new customer.

One of the service stations in the Montecito Shopping Center is selling "gas by appointment." I noticed their sign yesterday, drove in, and made an appointment for 3 p.m. today. I did not wait five minutes before an attendant filled my tank — 14-plus gallons. The owner of the station assured me this is strictly legal. Also, none of the city police were called to direct traffic and cool shattered nerves.

If this system continues to work successfully, one week from today I will make another appointment, and fill my tank again. I wish to commend this station.

Minipark Wanted At Lincoln And Laurel

Could the I-J rally support by a short story and picture on saving the corner of Laurel Place and Lincoln Avenue for a mini park?

An apartment complex is to go up on this site and if it wasn't for a few of us at the last meeting Feb. 26 I think it would of been rammed through. The decision was postponed until the next planning commission meeting around March 12.

The Lincoln Avenue area is now so congested and heavily residential apartments, there are no open spaces left.

We don't need another apartment complex. Does anyone care if maybe they (the city) feel Lincoln Avenue is no concern to them. We like open space, too! We pay taxes and support the city in many ways.

The senior citizens home just opened a block away. Wouldn't it be nice for these people to have a park a short distance away to sit, or must we all be boxed in?

Letter From 'His Lordship' To Civic Center Employees

The phrase "throne room gents and their satellites" which is frequently used in the column is validated time after time by what goes on out at Brasilia. Farther on is an example, but first this:

Shortly before our entrance into World War II, while I was serving as secretary-manager of Marvelous Marin, I learned that Lord Halifax, the British ambassador to the United States, and his lady were going to visit San Francisco in a few days.

I called the British consulate and asked if they thought Lord and Lady Halifax would like to come over to see Muir Woods. They were delighted and said of course.

The date and hour were fixed and I telephoned Fred Bagshaw, the chairman of the board of supervisors. We met the distinguished couple and and escorted them through the woods, accompanied by the head forest ranger.

I had arranged to have a photographer there and later mailed them some fine prints of our group. A few days later a warm, friendly letter came back to me expressing the appreciation and thanks of His Lordship and his lady. It was signed "Halifax".

THE EXAMPLE: A few days ago I received in the mail, in a plain envelope, a Xerox type copy of a six-paragraph letter John Barrows, the county administrator, sent to all department heads. Here are enough excerpts to illustrate the point:

"Our employees are continuing to abuse the two-hour parking zones and the problem is becoming so serious that further enforcement steps may be required. This abuse falls into two categories. . .

"The first category, those who move their cars every two hours, reflect inadequate supervision and overstaffing which allows this kind of time to be wasted. If these people continue this practice, we will review your staffing level accordingly during budget review. . ."

It was signed "Barrows".

IT HAS BEEN SAID that one picture is worth a thousand words. It can also be said: The manner of using words and names paints a picture of the ego of one writing a communication.

Note "our employees" above. They are not his employees but are fellow employees. It's not his money that meets the payroll.

Note further the Halifaxian signature, "Barrows".

Common Cause Initiative Uncommonly Good Idea

By RUS WALTON

Me, I'm really not that big on Common Cause.

That national organization, headed by John Gardner, has too many left-winged crows in its tree — not necessarily at the grassroots where the pecking is done, but up at the top where the big birds gather.

BUT THERE'S ONE place where I'm with them. That's their California initiative on campaign and political reform. It has qualified for the ballot and it is a good proposition.

The measure would help do what needs to be done to clean up the mess in Babylon. It would do in part what some of these political birds have refused to do or have done with a lick and a faint hearted promise.

Proposition Nine — that's what it will be on the June ballot — would limit the amount of money a candidate could spend on his campaign. So much per voter, that's all.

A candidate for governor, for example, could spend about $980,000 in the primary campaign and about $1.25 million in the general campaign. That's plenty.

ALL CANDIDATES would be required to file detailed campaign financial statements. Detailed, that is — who gave what. Cash contributions of more than $50 would be prohibited and the $50 and up chunks would have to be on traceable checks. None of those anonymous cashier's checks.

Lobbyists would be limited in the amount of money they could spend to entertain a legislator. Ten bucks a month per lawmaker would be tops.

Furthermore, under the provisions of the Common Cause proposition, lobbyists would be prohibited from giving cash money to legislators. That is one of the ways some of the boys get around reporting campaign contributions: they slip cash to the friendly old legislator long before campaign years roll around. That way, no report is necessary.

All that, and a bit more, in Proposition Nine will help get state government back to the people — and that is an uncommon and important cause. Because, as I say, most politicians aren't about to do it on their own.

Take Sen. George Moscone's so-called conflict-of-interest law. That thing has been amended to the point where a truck-and-trailer could drive through it without ever touching the "whereases".

MOST OF THE OPPOSITION to certain provisions of the Moscone law came from lawyers. They kicked and screamed and howled that the law would force them to violate their confidential relations with clients — or leave office. They said nothing about officeholders violating the public trust. So, the law was amended.

Now we can have more lawyers in public office. Trouble is, we have too many in the legislature already. Out of 120 members, 33 are attorneys; 23 of them in the state senate; only four businessmen and three farmers, but 23 attorneys.

A fellow in Sebastopol once wrote an editorial about lawyers in government. He said those guys could take something simple — such as a "don't spit on the sidewalk" ordinance — and turn it into 20 pages of gobbledygook.

That's one of the problems with government these days; it may be for the people but its written by the lawyers.

It's a good thing Moses wasn't a lawyer. The Decalogue would be called "The Thousand-and-One Commandments". Plus amendments.

Haldeman Indictment May Bear Directly On Nixon's Future

WASHINGTON — There are radically conflicting trends in the Watergate affair which bear directly on the fate of President Nixon.

The White House seems increasingly, almost buoyantly confident that the president will not be impeached.

At the same time there is now a statement from the Watergate Grand Jury which has the effect of calling into question Mr. Nixon's denial that he participated in any way in the coverup.

This grand jury assertion is not the last word. It stems from indictment, not from a conviction. It is not proved, but it is advanced in the belief that it can be proved.

THE CRUX of the matter is that the grand jury accepts as fact what former White House counsel John Dean testified on a crucial point and rejects H. R. Haldeman's rebutting testimony on the same point.

Perhaps White House officials know some things about the prospects of impeachment which the rest of us don't know. It could be. Only last week Bryce Harlow, a cautious, highly respected presidential adviser, who many of us have had good reason to trust over the years, told some reporters and columnists that he was absolutely certain that there is no evidence to convict the president of criminal conspiracy. Some outside the administration, like former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson, are saying the same thing.

But there is now a highly central, potentially explosive new development which cannot be brushed aside and which will bring impeachment nearer unless disproved.

LET ME INDICATE how central it really is. It concerns a conflict of testimony between what Dean affirmed the president said in a conversation they had in the White House and what Haldeman testified the president said.

Dean testified that he told Mr. Nixon it might take about a million dollars to satisfy the needs of those who were convicted of the Watergate break-in, and that the president replied, "There is no problem in raising a million dollars; we can do that."

Haldeman in his testimony attributed to the president the further statement". . . but it would be wrong."

Haldeman told the Ervin committee that he had "listened to the tape of the entire meeting." When asked by Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., "How sure are you that those tapes actually say that?", Haldeman replied: "I am absolutely positive."

IN THE INDICTMENTS handed up to U.S. District Judge John Sirica, the indictment of Haldeman dealt with this specific discrepancy. And the grand jury asserted that "the italicized portions of the statements made by Harry R. Haldeman (that is, the testimony that the president said, 'but that would be wrong') were, as he then and there knew, false."

Mr. Nixon has endorsed Haldeman's version of what transpired at the meeting. If Haldeman's testimony was false, as the grand jury charges, then Mr. Nixon's endorsement of it was false.

ERNEST B. FURGURSON

Westmoreland, As Politician, Chooses To Run As Republican

COLUMBIA, S.C. — No more helicopters waiting. No more silver stars on his shoulders, although four are set discreetly in each side of his watchband. Now he wears civilian clothes, a maroon tie spotted with palmettos, the trademark of his native state. Other things are different, too.

In 36 years as an Army officer, the current chief of South Carolina's Task Force on Economic Development and former U.S. Army chief of staff had to make daily decisions. Some of them meant life or death for thousands of men. But he never let on, not publicly, that he had any doubts about those command decisions. He went by the book, and the book says commanders must transmit confidence. He stuck to the principle of the objective, and firmly respected the civilian controls on his authority.

Now, he still does not let on that he ever doubted his decisions in Vietnam, but inevitably the first subject he covers with an old acquaintance is the predictions he made about the war there and how events have justified them. Once past that, he is confronting another decision, of another kind, and there is nothing in his command experience, no maxim from West Point or Carlisle to go by.

WILLIAM C. WESTMORELAND wants to run for governor of South Carolina. His father, who was a deep influence on him, was conservative but a Democrat. The president who appointed and supported him in Vietnam was a Democrat. The governor who gave him his current appointment, the springboard for his move into politics, is a Democrat. Despite all he intends to run as a Republican.

It is not a matter of ideology. In South Carolina, the main difference between Democrats and Republicans is merely that the Democrats are in the majority. It is still a matter of the objective.

"The Democratic primary is chockablock with well-known professional politicians," he reasons. "I think my options are pretty well closed out there. Besides that, no leadership in the Democratic Party has shown any interest; nobody has encouraged me to run there."

Then there are the polls, the kind of graphable, quantifiable data he used to be criticized for dealing in. They say he is well ahead of his potential Republican opposition (almost 3-to-1 over the nearest, Secy. of Commerce Frederick Dent). But while showing respectably, he trails both Rep. W. J. B. Dorn and Lt. Gov. Earle E. Morris on the Democratic side.

Point three, the clincher, is that unlike the Democratic leaders, the Republicans want him to run. Foremost among them is Sen. Strom Thurmond, long the state's most powerful politician, a lifelong friend and himself a reserve Army general.

SO AS A REPUBLICAN, Westmoreland would be an odds-on favorite to be nominated. Whether he could then be elected is, as he phrases it, "a very nebulous question."

He leaves no doubt with me that he will run, assuming legal technicalities about his retired military status are clarified. In which case we will be entertained by two paradoxes: the very symbol of an unpopular war going into elective politics, and an aspiring politician who has a choice electing voluntarily to go into the Republican Party in this of all years. Both will testify that South Carolina remains a rather special state.

(1974, Baltimore Sun.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Reopening Of Suez Canal Seen As Aid To Russia

By RICHARD BURT

LONDON — Concern is growing over the strategic impact of the reopening of the Suez Canal. Western naval analysts argue that the move could give the Russian navy an edge in the Persian Gulf and Indian Ocean, a region that serves as a lifeline to Europe and Japan.

The canal was closed during the 1967 six-day war, when Israeli forces secured control of its east bank. At present, 10 major sunken ships and scores of smaller vessels and unexploded munitions clutter the canal. Three causeways, built by Arab and Israeli forces during the latest Middle East conflict, also span the waterway.

DESPITE THESE obstructions, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has promised to begin dredging and clearing operations. Western diplomats, including Sec. of State Henry Kissinger, believe that a reopened canal will enhance Middle East stability.

To reach western portions of the Indian Ocean, Russian warships must travel 11,000 miles from the Black Sea through the Mediterranean and around the Cape of Good Hope. From the Soviet base in the Pacific, Vladivostok, task groups must travel 9,000 miles.

However, if the canal is reopened Russian warships will be able to sail directly from the Black Sea through the eastern Mediterranean into the Indian Ocean — a distance of only 2,200 miles.

The Russian fleet first began visits to the Indian Ocean in 1968, and since then Russian presence in the region has steadily grown. Before the October war, the Soviet Indian Ocean force consisted of approximately 15 vessels. It now numbers 30.

RUSSIAN OPERATIONS in the Indian Ocean have stirred concern in naval circles because the U.S. Navy has pushed for larger Indian Ocean developments. Until last year these attempts were blocked by tight defense budgets.

In an effort to improve naval capabilities in the Indian Ocean, the United States earlier this month negotiated an agreement to expand operations on the British island of Diego Garcia.

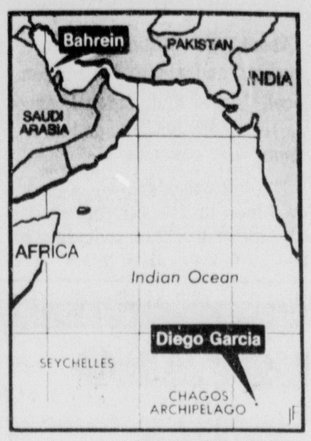

The United States operates a communications center and fuel depot on the island, but the Navy now plans to spend $30 million to improve the bases's runway and deepen the ship anchorage area on the island. Officials say that the expansion of the runway will allow long-range reconnaissance and strike aircraft to use the base.

Russian Performs Triple Somersault

MOSCOW (UPI) — A 16-year-old schoolboy performed the world's first triple somersault yesterday during an acrobatics competition in Kiev, the Tass news agency said.

It said the youth, identified only as V. Bindler from Minsk, "performed this formerly impossible jump" during trials for the world's acrobatics championship scheduled to be held in Moscow June 12-15.

Evacuation Key In Next County Disaster Drill

Problems of moving and sheltering the public when disaster strikes should be stressed in Marin County's next disaster training exercise, a planning committee recommended yesterday.

The drill tentatively is set for mid-May, according to Frank E. Kirby, county emergency services coordinator The "scenario" for the disaster exercise is not yet written, but probably will involve what could happen if an earthquake collapsed Stafford and Phoenix dams.

Similar problems "happened" in the county's third drill, last Dec. 13, but the trainees in that case were mainly police, fire, heavy rescue and similar workers needed to minimize damage from earthquake and flood.

The May drill will be designed to test the ability of police, transportation and other emergency services to evacuate people from an endangered area such as the lowlands of Ross or western Novato. It also will test the preparedness of welfare agencies and Red Cross to shelter and feed the evacuees.

The drill even may involve an outing for elementary school youngsters. Children taken out of one or two low-lying schools over carefully-planned evacuation routes to a shelter. They may even be fed a light meal or snack at the shelter.

The youngsters' participation will require permission from parents, Sid Smith of the county schools office told the planning group.

The county's earlier disaster training exercises stressed such facets as medical teams' reaction. Federally sponsored teachers from the University of Southern California disaster training program guide the drills.

The only cost to Marin agencies to date has been the pay of the manpower involved. The drill in May could involve some cost for food, but some supplies may be available through the county agricultural commissioner's office. Kirby's budget also contains training funds, he said.

Smith will meet Monday with school officials from Novato and the Ross Valley, to plan their participation in the exercise. Yesterday's planning panel included Kirby, Smith, and spokesmen for the sheriff's department, California Highway Patrol, flood control, National Red Cross, and county social services and agricultural commissioner.

The recommendations for the training drill will be presented to the Marin County Disaster Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Room 322 of the Marin County Civic Center.

If the council approves the plan, it will be sent to the board of supervisors for final approval.

Two Scouts To Receive Eagle Ranks

Two 14-year-old boys scouts, both members of Scout Troop 39, sponsored by the Marin County Deputy Sheriff's Association, will receive the rank of Eagle Scout at a Court of Honor at 8 p.m. March 29 at the Santa Venetia Middle School gymnasium.

They are Steven Walkup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Walkup of 180 Whittier Avenue, and Timothy Calhoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Calhoon Jr., of 129 Mabry Way, both San Rafael.

Both boys earned merit badges in citizenship and visited Washington D.C. to see the government in action.

Steven, 14, joined Cub Pack 39 in 1967 and became a member of Troop 39 when it was reactivatd in 1970. He has served as quartermaster, assistant patrol leader, patrol leader and cub pack den chief. He is now assistant senior patrol leader.

His Eagle project involved organizing and replanting a section of the county parking area adjacent to the Civic Center, done under the supervision of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

Steven is a freshman at San Rafael High School where he is active in the marching band and is vice president of the Archaeology Club. His hobbies are skiing, backpacking and sailing.

TIMOTHY CALHOON
Gets Eagle Rank

Timothy started in scouting in Webelos in 1969 and joined Troop 39 in 1970. He has served assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, quartermaster. He is now an instructor. He also serves as den chief for Webelos Den 9 of Pack 39.

Last August, Timothy attended the Boy Scout National Jamboree West in Farragut, Ida.

His Eagle project was in community service to aid in flood control and fire prevention, done by cleaning a drainage easement and open ditches in Santa Venetia where he lives.

Timothy is in the eighth grade at Santa Venetia Middle School. His hobbies include swimming, hiking, stamp and coin collecting.

New Congressman Takes His Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thomas A. Luken was sworn in yesterday as Democratic congressman from Ohio's 1st District.

House Speaker Carl Albert administered the oath as Luken's family looked on. Luken defeated Republican Willis Gradison in a special election Tuesday.

Senate Nod On Minimum Wage Given

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has passed, 69-22, a bill to raise the hourly minimum wage to $2.20 and include almost seven million additional workers under its coverage.

The measure approved yesterday, 69-22, is almost identical to the one that passed Congress last year and was vetoed by President Nixon.

Last year the administration sought to include a youth differential provision in the bill and to add an additional year to the minimum increase schedule.

But the bill's supporters say Nixon has given indications that this time he may be willing to compromise his objections to the measure.

The bulk of the workers covered under the Fair Labor Standards Act would go to $2 upon enactment of the bill and to $2.20 in one year.

A smaller number, mainly retail and service employes, would be boosted to $2.20 in two years, while farmworkers covered would be raised to the new minimum over three years.

An additional 6.9 million workers, mostly domestics and government employes, would be added to the 49.4 million workers who are now covered by the present $1.60 minimum.

About one million domestic workers and about five million local, state and federal employes would be extended minimum wage coverage.

The bill will also provide new overtime protection for about 8.6 million workers, including a phase-in over five years for police and firemen.

An amendment by Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., to exempt police and firemen from the overtime provisions was defeated, 65-29.

The House bill, which is now before the House Labor Committee, would raise the minimum wage to $2.30 an hour by Jan. 1, 1976.

Separation Suit

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Trumpeteer Al Hirt has been sued for separation by his wife of 31 years, Mary Patureau Hirt. The suit, filed yesterday says Hirt abandoned her without cause almost a year ago. The Hirts have eight children.
